White House Program Safe as Postal Pay Veto is Sustained

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—With the leadership of President Coolidge unshaken the administration's legislative program today faced clear sailing in a congress previously noted for its turbulent opposition.

The victory won by the president when the senate upheld his veto of the postal pay bill, it was said, removed nearly all the opposition to his program. Administration spokesmen declared they would now concentrate their efforts on enacting all imperative legislation in time to adjourn congress on March 4, in accordance with the president's wishes.

By the inauguration of night sessions, in the senate work was speeded up on the consideration of appropriation bills. The interior department bill was passed without serious delay last night and plans were laid to enact both the postoffice and treasury department bills at future night sessions. In the house, the administration's drive was confined to speeding up the drafting of other appropriation bills.

WYOMING'S EX-GOVERNOR MAY ENTER CABINET

ROBERT DAVIS CAREY IS LIKELY SELECTION FOR AGRICULTURAL JOB

White House Leans Strongly Toward Appointment of Chairman of President's Fact-finding Commission to Succeed H. M. Gore.

FIRST WILL ACT AS ASSISTANT

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Robert Davis Carey, former governor of Wyoming and present chairman of the president's agricultural fact-finding commission, appeared today a likely selection for the secretaryship of agriculture after March 4, next.

Although President Coolidge has made no definite decisions as to who shall succeed Howard M. Gore, the present secretary, it was made known at the White House that the executive is leaning very strongly toward the appointment of Carey.

Month's Work Mapped Out.

Under the president's plan, the man who will assume the agriculture portfolio first will be appointed assistant secretary to enable him to "get his hand in" at the job. Therefore, if Governor Carey is Mr. Coolidge's final selection his appointment to that post may be expected within the next 30 days.

Carey's duties as chairman of the agriculture committee probably will hold his attention for at least a month. The commission has just reconvened to map out a program of farm aid for submission to congress and it has been indicated that this work will take until the first of February at the earliest. With the knowledge he already has of the agricultural situation, however, it is pointed out that Governor Carey could become extremely well versed in the duties of the department in a month.

Coolidge Knows His Views

The record of Carey from the Agrarian's standpoint is an impressive one. Fifty-six years of age, virtually all of his life he had been associated in one way or another with farm enterprises. From 1919 to 1923, he served as governor of his state. He graduated from Yale in 1900.

President Coolidge has held numerous conferences with Gov. Carey since the latter's assumption of the chairmanship of the agricultural committee and he is well acquainted with the

DENY KELLOGG GETS CALL TO SUCCEED STONE

London Report Says Diplomat Will Become Attorney General.

EMBASSY UPSET

James M. Beck's Name Mentioned for Place as Ambassador.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Although United States Ambassador Kellogg was in Paris today, counsellor Sterling of the United States embassy issued a statement today denying that Kellogg was recalled and appointed United States attorney general.

For some unexplained reason the reports of Kellogg's recall caused considerable disturbance at the American embassy. For three months the embassy has been issuing denials that Kellogg would leave London.

It was pointed out today that Kellogg has no intention of returning home or he would not have gone to Paris, where he is attending the allied financial conference today.

English newspapers are printing dispatches that James M. Beck, former solicitor general, will succeeed Kellogg.

The press comments favorably on Beck. He is well known here and always has been an exponent of the "Hands across the sea" movement and is looked upon as having a high regard for the English.

Reports are Persistent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The American embassy's denial did not completely set at rest today reports that Ambassador Frank B. Kellogg will return to the United States shortly and become attorney general in the Coolidge cabinet.

Reports have persisted here for some weeks that Kellogg will shortly

DRY DETECTIVE MEASURE NEAR ENACTMENT AS TWO OPPOSE IT

PLAN ASSAILED

Chambers, Eardley, Hayes, Larcomb and Rowe Vote "Yea."

The proposed emergency ordinance "authorizing the appointment of detectives to enforce the prohibition laws" took another step nearer enactment, when council, at a special session, last evening approved the measure on second reading by a vote of 5 to 2.

Blocked by Councilmen N. P. Kerr and Thomas Farrall, sponsors of the ordinance lacked the necessary three-fourths vote to suspend the rules and enact the measure on third and final reading. The measure will likely be considered at the regular meeting of the municipal body next Friday evening.

Last night's special meeting was for the sole purpose of considering the detective measure, which was approved by Mayor Charles Brown "to enforce the liquor ordinance." The bill was passed on first reading at a meeting on December 26.

Farrall Attacks Legislation.

Councilman Farrall turned his guns on the measure immediately after Councilman J. R. Chambers moved that the ordinance be taken up for consideration.

"I don't see why a special meeting was necessary to consider this ordinance," he declared. "This measure is classified as an emergency ordinance, taking away the people's right to say whether or not it shall be allowed to become a law. I realize that my objection to this piece of legislation is useless, for I am with the minority. Nevertheless I want to go on record as being opposed to it.

Kerr Condemns Proposal

"Why should we hire thugs and gunmen to come here to enforce the law? We have police to enforce the law—let them do it. This measure is a disgrace to the city."

Councilman Kerr announced that he

Man, Who Learned Law Never Forgets, Plans to Start Anew

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—On his departure today for Mount Holly, N. J., to face a 14-year-old embezzlement charge, Clifford S. Helier, the man who learned that the law never forgets, declared he would come back to Detroit to start anew.

Heller, arrested here shortly before Christmas, following a search by the law leading through several countries, was cashier in a bank in the little eastern town. One night, while his wife and two children waited in their comfortable home for his return, and while the trusting citizens of Mount Holly smiled with content at the industry betokened by the cashier's light burning in the bank, he slipped away from all his associations. The next day bank officials discovered $18,000 of the bank's money was also missing.

A few years ago Heller, known as Luther Smith, was established as a prosperous business man in Detroit, married, and apparently forgotten. But the law never forgets. Today Heller returns to New Jersey.

PLANE HITS AUTO, TWO MEN KILLED

DAYTON, O., Jan. 7.—Leon Harris and Paul Long, civilian employes of McCook field, were almost decapitated this morning when a plane piloted by Lieutenant E. H. Barksdale accompanied by Observer Althoff, crashed into a motor truck upon which the unfortunate men were riding.

The plane was tearing along at a high rate of speed near the ground, testing instruments used on the speed course, when the landing gears caught the top of the army truck and killed the two occupants.

The tragedy occurred at the old Wilbur Wright field which is now in the stage of being made over into the new McCook.

76-Year-Old Inmate of County Home, At Lisbon, Hangs Self

Funeral services for John Myler, 76, inmate of the county home, near Lisbon, who committed suicide by hanging, were conducted at the county farm, this afternoon, in charge of Rev. Peter McCauley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Lisbon.

Burial was made in the county farm cemetery.

County home officials today were unable to assign a reason for Myler's act, unless it was failing health. In recent weeks he appeared to be worrying.

Myler has been an inmate of the county farm for 32 years having been admitted on February 14, 1892. He claimed that he had been a native of Pennsylvania, but that he was without a home, near relatives or friends.

He retired at the usual time Monday night, but when his room was found empty, Tuesday morning, a search was instituted. His body was found hanging to the rafters in the chicken house on the farm.

LESS SHOPPING AND MORE BUYING MARK GLASS AND POTTERY SHOW

BY M. K. ZIMERMAN.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 7.—Less shopping and more buying characterized the opening of the annual glass and pottery exposition than was the general rule the first few days last year. Buyers reported that home stocks of both domestic dinnerware and glassware were almost exhausted during the holiday season.

Between 150 and 200 buyers registered at the Ft. Pitt hotel from Monday until noon Wednesday. Among them representatives of the largest distributing interests in the country. The majority of the visitors began to place business.

Foreign Products Flood In 1924.

For some years orders for glassware have been the first thought of many buyers when they arrive in the market, and then attention is given to dinnerware, stoneware and art pottery.

Last year the buying season opened with a rush, and both manufacturers and salesmen held high hopes that the same situation would prevail throughout the year. Seemingly without reason there was a lull in the demand for both these lines that continued until late last fall.

Demand for merchandise even then was slow, compared with previous seasons. A flood of imported china and glass affected the demand for domestic lines. Fall buying, which was conservative, did not put enough stocks in the hands of the distributors to "carry over" into 1925, following holiday sales. As a result, merchandise is needed now.

Displays in Two Hotels.

Manufacturers only are showing their lines in the Ft. Pitt hotel this year, and while a number of sales agencies and manufacturers are displaying offerings at the William Penn hotel. There are but two lines at the Hotel Henry, one of these being the New Cumberland, (W. Va.) Glass Co.

GIRL COASTER DIES IN CRASH

Archie Hahn, Father, Seriously Injured in Homeworth Accident.

Phoebe Hahn, nine-year-old Homeworth girl, is dead today as a result of a coasting accident at Homeworth, in the western section of Columbiana county, Monday night.

Archie Hahn, father of the child, suffered a compound fracture of his right arm, a broken collar bone and injuries about the head and face. He is in the Alliance hospital.

The child, whose mother died four years ago, and her father, were sledding on the steep hill, just west of Homeworth, when the accident occurred.

An automobile, driven by Jesse W. Fraedley of Homeworth was enroute up the hill, when the Hahn girl, believed to have been blinded by the headlights on the machine, steered her sled directly into the machine. Her skull was crushed and death ensued within a few minutes after she was removed to her home.

Besides her father, the child is survived by a brother, Halden, and one sister, Pearl.

Nazarene Church Leases K. & M. Room; Services Tonight

Members of the church of the Nazarene, which has been worshipping in temporary quarters in the Ikirt building, while a new church edifice is under construction, has obtained a lease on the room, formerly occupied by the K. & M. Dollar store, East Fifth street.

The congregation is moving its property into the new quarters today and will hold its initial service there at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Work on the new church building, which occupies the site of the old structure near the corner of St. Clair and Lincoln avenues, was started in the fall. Cold weather has held up building operations and the church will not likely be completed and ready for occupancy before the later part of spring.

LONDON, PARIS ARE IN ACCORD AS U. S. PRESSES DEBT CLAIMS

Clemente1-Churchill Love Meet Precedes Allied Parley.

OBSERVERS ON JOB

France Urges Debt Conference be Held in Brussels.

By FRANK E. MASON.

PARIS, Jan. 7—France and Great Britain are in complete accord on matters which will come today before the allied financial conference, it was indicated following a conference between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchhill of England.

Following a two-hour conference of the two men, an official statement was issued which said:

Urges Conference in Brussels.

French officials are willing that an inter-allied debt conference be held in Brussels during March, but such a conference with American representatives absent would be "useless," officials declared.

Before any definite steps could be taken for holding a conference in Brussels the subject would have to be taken up with Washington and this has not been done, it was said in official circles.

Any suggestion at this time on the part of Great Britain or any other nation for such a conference therefore would be "premateur," it was said.

The Franco-American debt situation and America's "legal" right to a share of the receipts derived through the Dawes' plan were paramount, in the eyes of diplomats, to all other matters scheduled to come before the allied financial conference.

Ostensibly the conference is being held to work out a new division of German reparations. Actually, according to diplomatic observers, it will ac-

Southern Democrat Withdraws Attack Upon Own Party

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7—In response to dramatic demands from his own colleagues, Senator Dial, Democrat of South Carolina, today withdrew from the record his speech of last week in which he viciously assailed his own party and declared that President Coolidge was "a better Democrat" than the Democrats in congress.

Withdrawal came only after Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, and Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, had denounced Dial for making the speech.

By SONIA LEE.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 7—There are many games to play.
Sometimes you win,
Sometimes you lose.

Elsie Sweetin lost, and today at 6 o'clock a clanging bell woke her to a still-dark morning and reminded her that this was her day—the day when she began her reckoning in Joliet penitentiary for the murder of her husband, Wilford, that she might possess the unholy minister, Lawrence M. Hight.

Washes Prisoners' Shirts

For 35 years, a jury has said to this woman of Ina, she shall forget her name. She shall become a number. And so numbers—9521—she will bear. And there—will be no softness for her. There will be no yellow bungalow with roses to train over the porch and three children to quiet.

Early today Bertillon measurements were taken. Elsie Sweetin's face, full view and profile, became part of the criminal records of the state of Illinois.

Tomorrow she will be measured for her suit of gingham, a physician will examine her and she will be told that her work will consist of washing the drab shirts of the men prisoners. Perhaps she will get small comfort from the knowledge that the unfrocked minister, sentenced to life imprisonment, is on the rock pile. Not to him is it given to save the souls of his fellow prisoners and thus to save his own.

Late yesterday she was brought to the prison by Sheriff and Mrs. Grant Holcomb of Mt. Vernon. In Warden Whitman's office her committment papers were examined and then, still in custody of the sheriff, she walked across to the woman's prison.

"I am Innocent," She Cries

Her steps faltered and her mouth devoured the air. A street car passing halted the procession. The gray stone parapets loomed and the woman who had ruggedly connived to kill that her desires might be satiated cowered before the walls that were to shut her in.

She reiterates her innocence as her litany.

"No, I am innocent," she cries ceaselessly. "I am going to write letters. I shall ask all the people who have written me from all over the country and have offered to help to get me out of jail. Stay here? No, indeed may be until March. Maybe not that long."

The childish pout which had so troubled the heart of the minister rests on her lips. Her eyes are mutinous.

Finds Hardest Taskmaster

"What chance has a woman?" she cries in revolt.

Below in the hall the 48 women who will be her new friends—thieves, killers, blackmailers—sing a hymn led by two Sisters of Charity. Their voices are free in resignation. Their cells down the line are crisp in starched linen and artificial flowers.

But Elsie's cell holds only her tears.

BOATS HALTED BY LOW WATER

Navigation on Upper Ohio River at Standstill.

Navigation on the upper Ohio river is at a standstill, as the result of the low water stage—the lowest in several years.

Engineers at Lock No. 8, west of here announced a stage of 7.5 feet today. During the winter of 1917-18 the river is said to have fallen to this mark.

The wickets at the dam were lowered before Christmas and because of the severe weather which caused ice to form in the river, government dam employes have been unable to raise them. Boats ceased running about a week ago and will be unable to operate until the wickets are raised or heavy rains fall.

Workers at the dam said that the wickets at Locks No. 9 and 10 were to be raised today and that they would be raised at Dam No. 7 and 8 tomorrow. Because of repairs which are being made to Dam No. 4 at Legionville, navigation to Pittsburgh will not likely be resumed before next Sunday or Monday.

Despite the low stage, which is said to be affecting Mingo and other river communities, the water supply is in no danger here, City Chemist Daniel H. Rupp declared. Water at the present time is being pumped from an emergency intake, located in the deepest part of the river channel.

Operations at the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel Compnay are being affected by the low stage. Barges are now being unloaded at the foot of Market street and material hauled to loading station near the foot of Jefferson street. This situation will be remedied as soon as the dam wickets are raised, it was stated.

Less Shopping

In every display room at both these hotels is a large printed streamer "Keep the Home Fires Burning." These signs were designed by William C. Lynch of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., of Chester. These signs have been placed in eveery sample room in East Liverpool.

The certificate plan which had been proposed by the Association this year, which would provide a half-rate railroad fare on the return trip was cancelled by the Traffic association Jan. 1, without notice to the Western Glass and Pottery Association. Why this agreement was not permitted to stand has not been explained.

Some buyers visited the East Liverpool district Tuesday, while another crowd went there today. The real rush is expected next week.

The Exposition will close Jan. 24.

William E. Owen, formerly New York state salesman for the Potters' Co-Operative Co., and admittedly the oldest pottery salesmen now in harness, is again back with this firm. For the last few years Mr. Owen has been associated with the Empire China Co., at Burbank, Calif. He is a brother of the late George C. Owen of East Liverpool.

Music By 60-Voice Choir Features Evangelistic Meet

Music by a choir of 60 voices featured Tuesday night's Lockhart-Harbinson revival service at the First Church of Christ.

The choir was directed by J. Frank Harbinson, musical director with the evangelistic party. The song director also pleased with a solo selection "The Bird With a Broken Pinion" during the service.

Evangelist W. J. Lockhart, of Des Moines, Iowa, preached on the subject of "Backsliders." Tonight his theme will be "The Transformed Church." A special service to "mothers" will be held Friday evening and Sunday afternoon, the evangelist will speak to men only.

Evangelist Lockhart is not a large man or striking in appearance to those who have never heard him preach. He is black-haired and has a dark complexion, with blue, piercing eyes. But when he starts to preach, in fact from the moment he leaves his place among the preachers and stands before the people, there is a sudden strange change that seems to come upon the man. He is suddenly transformed and a new magnetic power rivets the attention of the great crowd upon him.

Two-thirds of the converts have been men. It is no' that he does not appeal to women He does.

In his last night's sermon, Dr. Lockhart said:

"If I came to you and said "They tell me you are a liar, you would grow angry and flash back: Who said I was a liar?' If I came to you and said, 'They hell me you are dishonest and won't stand by an agreement,' you turn red in the face with anger and said, 'They tell me you are dishonest But I come to you and say "They tell me you are an old backslider,' and you smile a sickly sort of a smile and say, "Well, Mr. Lockhart, I guess that is about right.'

"But did you not one time promise God you were going to be true to him all your life and have you no led to God, and did you not enter into a solemn obligation when you took the vow of the church, and have you not broken your covenant and renounced your honest obligation and been dishonest with God? Know therefore that it is an evil and bitter thing that thou has forsaken Jehovah thy God and that his fear is not any more in thee.

"You ask me why there are so many backsliders and I am going to let Jesus answer this for you. In the parable of the sower He tells of the three classes who are lost, the one who never allows the good seed to enter his life, the one who does and does not stand because of shallowness of life and one who allows the thorns to grow up and choke out the good seed.

"My friends I could read this story in a way to close the church door and take all heart out of these meetings if I emphasized the first three classes alluded to, and say. 'What is the use of sowing anywhere?' But some seed fell into good ground and brought forth good fruit.'

"I do not know what became of the ninety and nine others among the hundred that were converted in the revival at Kingman, Kans., thirty years ago but I know one boy into whose soul the good seed fell and if all the others had backslid, to me that was a great investment those men made when they put their money into the campaign that called me to my Lord."

Alpena, Mich., Awaits Resumption of Scott Divorce Sensation

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 7.—This city is composing itself today to await as patiently as it can the resumption on March 10, of the divorce hearing in which Representative Frank D. Scott has charged that his wife, Edna James Scott, drank and flirted with many men, from army officers to a hotel clerk, while she countered with tales of extensive drinking and gambling by Scott and his colleagues in congress.

Representative Scott is preparing to leave at once for Washington. With him will go his secretary for the past 15 years, Miss Jane Kennedy, who broke up their home, Mrs. Scott declared, by "false and malicious talebearing."

Mrs. Scott has returned to Detroit.

"I am determined to fight to the end with the limited funds I possess, to prove that my husband has treated me unfairly and cruelly," she said.

complish nothing of the kind. The best that can be hoped of the conference, they say, is that it will furnish grounds for a much broader conference of the Allies, and one at which the whole problem of war debts and reparations could be taken up.

U. S. Representatives Present

The United States is represented by Ambassador Herrick and Ambassador Kellogg, the latter of whom came from London especially for the conference. Col. John Logan, observer on the reparations commission, also is present.

Strenuous opposition to the American claim is expected to come from England. It has been the British contention that America should not participate in the German reparations because America did not sign the treaty of Versailles.

America should collect its war claims from German private property taken during the war by the alien property custodian, England holds. The United States proposes to return this seized property, observers pointed out, and will insist on sharing in German reparations.

A bill has been presented in the British house of commons making it unlawful for pedestrians to walk on the right side of a foot path.

GEN. WOOD PLANS TO QUIT POST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, has indicated to President Coolidge his desire to retire from the post, according to persistent reports circulated here today. Neither the white house nor the war department would confirm the reports.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Another heavy buying movement swept over the stock market in the early trading today and prices of industrial and railroad stocks jumped into higher levels. Numerous stocks advanced more than a point on initial sales and, in the case of stocks with powerful pool backing, the gains ran all the way to three points. Rails were again conspicuous for their activity and strength in this period, with New York Central going through to another "top" at 124½, theh ighest since 1910, when the stock sold at 128.

Wall Street inferred that a favorable country-wide impression had been created by the boosting of dividends on Atchison and American Smelting, the increase in the operation rate of the important steel manufacturers, the decline in call money to three per cent, and the gearing up of manufacturing plants generally for larger production this year. As a result, another heavy influx of out-side buying orders flowed into the stock market and prices moved upward briskly.

OHIO PHONE WEEK PROGRAM

Open House Will be Maintained at Bell Exchange.

Open house to the public will be maintained by the East Liverpool exchange of the Ohio Bell Telephone company during the week of January 12-17, in keeping with a state-wide observance of "Ohio Telephone Week," Frank Swaney, commercial manager, announced today.

The company will make a special effort to give telephone subscribers an opportunity to see just how the system functions. Representatives of all lines of telephone work will be on duty at the exchange.

"It is the desire of the company that every one of our subscribers in East Liverpool pay us a visit and see just how their calls are actually handled over a regular switchboard," said Mr. Swaney. "We believe that such a visit will not only prove exceedingly interesting to our subscribers but beneficial as well. In our office will be equipment displays showing various material that go into the telephone instruments, parts of cable and many other articles of interest."

The four divisions making up the Ohio Bell Telephone system are endeavoring to outdo each other in the number of visitors calling at the office during the week. East Liverpool is situated in the eastern division.

"Ohio Telephone Week," observed in this state last year for the first time, prooved such a big success that the telephone company has decided to make it an annual event in each community where a telephone exchange is maintained.

"Bringing Up Father," Famed Cartoon Show, Here on Saturday

"Bringing Up Father," George McManus' world famed cartoon characters, will appear in person at the Ceramic Theatre on Saturday, Matinee and night. "Jiggs and Maggie" have now become a couple of inveterate Globe Trotters, as well as society scions. "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is the title of their latest exploit. McManus should have dubbed his inimitable characters "The Tragedy of the Rolling Pin." As I very much fear that the example Maggie has set for young wives, flavors somewhat of dire tragedy. I would suggest that Maggie changes her weapon to boxing gloves, the example will be more timely and will give the recreant young husband a slim chance for his life.

"Bringing Up Father" has become a National Institution, theatergoers look forward to their annual visit with a great deal of pleasure, knowing that the entertainment was created for laughing purposes only Requiring no great stretch of imagination, and offering no deep and dark problems to solve. George McManus believes that the people have sufficient tragedy in their everyday lives without drawing upon the imagination for a new thrill. "Laugh—and the crowd laughs with you." "Grouch—and you'll grouch alone. "This was coined from old material by "Jiggs" himself. When "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is announced at the Ceramic, make it a point to secure seats for the entire family, at once. Comedy, girls and music, with ample and sufficient scenic and electrical environment to make the entire presentation pleasing to the eye as well as the ear, and send you home with a good taste in your mouth, and a spark of hilarity in your nature. You don't yawn to keep awake after seeing "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" as you do after seeing a picture in a darkened theatre. You go out whistling the tunes you have heard and with a feeling of "nap" sufficient to last all the next day.

Governor's views on the farm problem. The two are agreed in that they regard the present plight of the American farmer as one which fundamentally must right itself throughout the workings of the economic laws. Also, Carey is in accord with the President with respect to co-operative marketing, loked upon by both as one of the basic principles to be applied to the agricultural problem.

Dry Detective

was opposed to the measure because it was "commercializing the liquor traffic."

"The mayor wants this ordinance adopted so that he can use the money in the 10 percent fund to buy liquor from the bootlegger in order to obtain the evidence," said Solon Kerr. "What's to prevent these men from planting a gallon of whiskey in some innocent party's machine—some person against whom they have a grudge, then arrest him for violation of the law? The evidence would be against him and he would be found guilty. A uniformed policeman would be detected the minute he stepped up to a machine, but not so with a plain clothes man.

"If we pass this ordinance we are doing something ourselves which is a direct violation of the law. I am in favor of curbing the liquor traffic, but believe in going after it in the right way. This ordinance will not help conditions. This measure will invite trouble in the city. I further opose the measure because of the emergency clause, which takes away the people's referendum privileges."

Pottery Company's Protest.

Upon roll call, Councilmen Chambers, Rowe, Eardley, Larcomb and Hayes voted "yea," while Solons Kerr and Farrall voted "nay." The legislators lined up in the same manner in the balloting on the motion to suspend the rules.

The Cartwright Brothers' Pottery company filed a protest with council against the Pennsylvania Railroad company's blocking of Peach alley, which is the main approach to their plant. Company officials declared they had been informed that council had granted the railroad permission orght in permitting the construction company warehouse to the new Hepps & company on Second street.

The communication was referred to the streets committee, who will go over the ground with Safety Director Ellis next Sunday afternoon in an effort to adjust matters. Council claims the railroad company was granted permission to cross the alley but not to block it.

Muffs Once Used by Men.

Gentlemen of style wore muffs in the seventeenth century and they were considered the symbol of fashionable estate. Muff manufacturers have pointed this out in refuting the occasional reports that the muff was going out of style. They say it comes and goes in cycles and that in another year or two they will be as popular as they were a decade ago.

A. P. DENNIS IS NEW DIRECTOR

Unable to Devote Time to Work, S. J. Hannum Resigns.

A. P. Dennis, former mayor of Wellsville, who for the past year has been associated with the Sherman Construction Co., in the capacity of pipe line inspector on the new municipal water works system, last night was appointed safety-service director of the city by Mayor James S. Barnes.

Mr. Dennis will succeed Samuel J. Hannum, Main street druggist, whose resignation was placed in the hands of Mayor Barnes yesterday. Hannum's resignation was dated as effective January 6.

In his brief message to the mayor Mr. Hannum declared that he was unable to devote enough of his time to the job and consequently did not feel that he should continue with the work.

Mr. Hannum was named to the office several months ago following council's action combining the posts of service director and safety director. His salary was established at $500 as an economy move.

Mr. Dennis, his successor, who will devote probably his entire attention to the problems of the two departments, will receive a salary of $1,500.

This amount was appropriated by the finance committee of council in anticipation of the movement and last night solons aproved both the appointment and salary. However, a new ordinance will have to be drawn up, repealing the existing ordinance governing the administrative angle of the combined departments, in order that the changes can be made. Council approved C. C. Ewing's motion for a new ordinance to change the salary specifications.

Following a short illness, Matthew H. Williamson, aged 87 years, well known resident of the city, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. F. Burris, near Hillcrest, death being attributed to complications and infirmities of old age.

He was born on February 7, 1837, in Brooke county, W. Va., near Steubenville.

About 40 years ago he came to Wellsville and established a grocery business in lower Main street which he operated for a number of years. He was an elder in the old Pent church at Cross Creek, W. Va., and later in the United Presbyterian church here.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. James Glass of Burgettstown, Pa., and three children, Mrs. L. F. Burris, Mrs. George Faulk of East Liverpool, and Rev. Charles H. Williamson of Grove City, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the D. N. MacLean chapel, in Riverside avenue, in charge of Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

Friends may view the body between 10 and 2 tomorrow at the MacLean chapel.

MAYOR ASKS FOR POLICE AUTO

Mayor James S. Barnes and Chief of Police Fultz have requisitioned city council for an automobile for police department use.

And President of Council Frank Blackburn, who was given a taste of police duties in connection with his job as acting mayor during the month or so that Mayor Barnes was in California, sincerely believes the auto should be bought.

He expresses the opinion that a police car, used intelligently, would eventually pay for itself.

Councilman Ewing believes that if a car is bought at all, it should be a good one.

Councilman White evinced interest in the proposition and made a motion last night to the effect that the service-safety director, who in this case will be A. P. Dennis, investigate the auto proposal and report back to council.

WILL NOT MAKE PINE ALLEY STOP

A special Pine alley street car stop, as suggested by Postmaster John McQueen, does not sound attractive to the traction company.

Postmaster McQueen submitted the request for a car stop at the post office alley, to council and council turned it over to the street car company.

A letter from President J. H. Maxwell answered the request. The street car company, Mr. Maxwell says, does not feel justified in making such a stop. The people, he pointed out, want rapid transit, and he declared, the streets are already too congested to permit further stops, especially at such a point. It would be dangerous, he contends, to the public officials of the car company, the letter said, fail to see any hardship connected with the short walk between the alley and either Fifth street or Sixth street, nearest stops. Such an arrangement, Mr. Maxwell says, would be an arrangement only for a minority and so far as car company officials can see, not a suitable arrangement for the majority of the traveling public.

Council placed the letter on file and also received Mayor James S. Barnes' report for the month of December, showing collections of $682.59.

Council approved the appointment of D. W. Morton as a member of the board of health for five years.

ASKS PURCHASE OF FIRE HOSE

New fire hose costing approximately $500 will be added to the equipment at the Central station here as a result of a suggestion by Fire Chief A. W. Phillips.

The purchase of the fire hose was the only recommendation made by Chief Phillips in his annual report, which was read to council last night.

The total value of all property endangered by fire during the year was $288,300, the report said. The actual fire loss amounted to $57,019. Over half this amount, or $36,569 was covered by insurance, however, which left a total uncovered loss of approximately $20,000.

Fifty seven alarms were received during the year, 22 by phone and 35 by box. Two explosions, not originating from fire, were not included in the above figures. No one was injured in any of the fires.

The cost of the purchase of the fire hose, as suggested by Chief Phillips, was covered in the appropriations for the first half of the year.

ADVISE CITY TO FIX CLARK AVE.

If Wellsville will repair Clark avenue to the city limits Jefferson county will take steps to fix its highways leading to the city limits.

This is the assertion attributed to Jefferson county commissioners in a conference with Dr. J. S. McCulloch and J. T. Cunningham, superintendent of the McCulloch-Jefferson County Children's home at Yellow Creek.

Dr. McCulloch explained the commissioners' attitude to Mayor James S. Barnes and the latter communicated them to council last night.

Council would like to make a better street of Clark avenue which is one of the worst in the city., and solons last night expressed views to this effect.

But an opinion that an ordinance passed little more than a year ago would not permit assessment of the street car company, temporarily stumped them.

Council members are not certain that such an ordinance is in effect and so instructed Clerk George Hardman to find out about it.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

EAST LIVERPOOL—AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1925.

Good Work, Mayor and Chief!

Reports of their stewardship in 1924 show that Chief of Police Hugh McDermott and Mayor Charles Brown were on the job in ferreting out law violators and meting out penalties.

The nine-man police department under the direction of Chief McDermott made 1,167 arrests, mostly for minor infractions of the statutes, kept grave crimes down to a minimum by reason of their close attention to their duties and recovered $14,011.75 of $22.012.65 loot obtained by robbers.

Aside from the "common drunk" classification, liquor law violations headed the list of offenses charged against prisoners. A total of 159 arrests for defiance of the prohibition law were made, thus attesting the fact that poisonous concoctions sold under the name, "whiskey," are scarce articles here compared with other communities. And credit for stopping the flow should be given the law enforcement branch of the municipal government.

Mayor Brown has co-operated with the police department in enforcing the law by meting out penalties befitting the offense. A new record for collections, which reached a high mark during the preceding administration of J. S. Wilson, was attained by the present executive in a report of $26,673.27 for fines and licenses. This was an average monthly collection of $2,222.77, and most of it accrues to the credit of the city from fines assessed under municipal ordinances.

The two reports not only reflect credit upon the police department and the mayor, but also are evidence of the fact that East Liverpool is a law-abiding community.

Hunters Who Cheat

It has been an unfortunate winter so far for the big game under Uncle Sam's protection. Added to the severity of the weather there have been the depredations of hunters. Men with guns, who would not go quite so far as to poach in the national parks, have lurked just outside them ready to pick off any unlucky deer, elk or bear straying across the line.

It is reported that as early as the end of November there were 250 Yellowstone park elk slaughtered in this way. The deer and elk in Glacier National park have suffered likewise, when driven by deep snow to forage outside of their reservation. Many deer were killed by hunters around Belton, Mont., within a mile of the park, and wounded deer instinctively seeking the park again were shot down on their way.

The same thing has been done, to some extent, in the vicinity of every national park in the country, and many state parks and game refuges.

This is not only cruel and treacherous to animals that have been encouraged to trust man, but from the standpoint of sportsmanship it is the rankest kind of cheating. It is something which inevitably reacts against the cheaters themselves, and all their kind, because it inspires a tightening of the game laws and invites harsher punishment for infraction.

Grandeur

Chicago is going to do a "biggest" thing again. It will erect the largest building in the world, shaming the builders of the Tower of Babel and the Egyptian pyramids and all their successors.

It will be a Temple of Agriculture, which is fitting for the city dominating the great, rich plains of the middle west and gathering and distributing their crops. It will cost $30,000,000 and contain a hall seating 20,000 people, along with an enormous hotel, a great suburban transportation station and numerous other record-breaking features.

All of this will be not only very imposing but very useful, and will be duly appreciated. Yet even Americans begin to weary of superlatives and lose their zest for size, and wonder whether, after all, a Greek Parthenon wasn't superior to a Roman Coliseum, and whether a miniature isn't better than a poster and a perfect diamond isn't preferable to a Crystal palace.

THE AIR MAIL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Advocates of the development of aviation on a big scale in this country are besieging congress to increase appropriations and to embark upon an air program comparable to that of other great nations. To this end they are employing everything from war threats and scares to ridicule, but their strongest argument is the record of accomplishment in the air mail service.

The air mail service is here, and here to stay. This statement is made with all possible emphasis by Colonel Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general, who has charge of that phase of postal activity.

"I am not absolutely certain that we are, as a civilization, any better off for our ability to fly," he says. "I think there are many arguments on both sides of that rather broad question, but we are able to fly. We cannot undo what has been done, and, taking that as a fact, it is quite patently our national duty to fly better than anybody else, and to make every possible practical application of this new trick which we have learned."

Colonel Henderson cites as the outstanding accomplishment of the air mail service that San Francisco has been permanently moved up to within 34 hours of New York. On one record test this time was beaten by almost eight hours, and the schedule will never be longer than the limit now set.

This coast to coast service, involving the great hazard of night flying, is now six months old and is operating regularly seven days a week. Every day it is becoming more popular with the public, and in consequence is constantly better patronized. Not everybody uses this service, of course, but those who do use it have learned the value of being able to get important mail in New York the day after it leaves San Francisco, and they are insistent that the service be extended rather than curtailed.

WHAT MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED

All this has been accomplished within six years after the establishment of the first air mail route between Washington and New York. What may be done within the next like period is almost beyond conjecture, but perhaps the most important of the things hoped for by departmental authorities is that the cost of carrying mail by air will be reduced from $2.63 to less than 30 cents per ton mile.

This cutting the cost of operation to less than 11 per cent of what it is now is attacked by some as the dream of a visionary, but Colonel Henderson says he is confident it can be done.

"In the last analysis," he says, "efficiency of transportation may be measured by its cost per ton mile, its regularity and dependability and its speed. The airplane has proved itself, as far as regularity and speed are concerned, but much remains to be accomplished in the matter of cost. The present cost of operating the air mail is altogether too expensive. From now forward the most urgent task of the postoffice department is to attempt to bring down this cost per ton mile. This means ships with greater carrying capacity. That such ships are possible of design and construction, I have no doubt. That they will be built and put into operation, I have no doubt."

With reduced operating costs the department hopes to reduce the schedule time between coasts, to increase the frequency of dispatches, and to provide additional service each night between New York and Chicago. Then will come a nation-wide connecting up of all important centers, with nightly service between such centers that are from 1,000 to 1,400 miles apart.

The next step will be carrying of certain classes of merchandise in the air, and, ultimately, the carrying of passengers. Colonel Henderson does not, however, even suggest that the airplane will ever become in the true sense of the word a competitor of the railroads. He says it is simply a new kind of transportation. There are more goods to transport each year, and some of these goods will find their way into air channels of transports, but the railroads will continue to enjoy even more traffic than they are able to take care of.

EFFECTIVE ONLY AT LONG DISTANCES

Many people have expressed surprise that the air mail route between Washington and New York was abandoned, believing that it is of prime importance to have the nation's political and financial capitals linked together with the fastest possible system of communications. The fact of the matter is there was very little saving of time in sending mail by airplane between the two cities, and not enough to make it really worth while.

It is approximately 200 miles by air line from Washington to New York and it took the mail planes at least two hours to fly that distance. It required the better part of an hour to carry the mail out to the flying field at this end of the route, and fully as much time was consumed in getting it from the New York flying field to the postoffice, ready for distribution. By trains the mail could be transported from the heart of Washington to the heart of New York in five hours. This meant an advantage of about an hour on the side of the air service, but that was not deemed sufficient.

Early in the experimental work the men who were studying the subject became convinced that the airplane could not really begin to mean much in the matter of postal transportation until the distances covered were at least 1,000 miles. Hence, the drive was begun for the establishment of the transcontinental service.

When night flying was planned, naturally the first question was one of lights. The mail plane pilots must have the way blazed for them across the continent by friendly beacons, the regular landing fields must be adequately illuminated, and emergency landing places must be indicated. Almost all of the earlier suggestions made to the air mail service were for the use of some sort of high-powered beam, shining directly and vertically into the air, but experiments with such lights proved them to be anything but desirable. Other suggestions included the illumination by means of searchlights on large white conical structures, such as the dome of the national capitol, the idea being that the reflection would turn the trick.

But that was found impractical and it was only through the merest chance that the effective system was hit upon. Late one night Colonel Henderson was awaiting a train at a station in a small Illinois city. He saw his train coming, or at least he saw the headlight, and began to get his baggage together when a friend told him that there was no hurry, that the train was still at least 17 miles away, and that the reason he saw it was because the track was perfectly straight for those 17 miles and he was looking directly into the headlight of the locomotive.

"Right there we solved, at least for the moment, our problem of lights," says the air mail chief. "All we had to do was put a brilliant searchlight up in the air and revolve it so that at least once in each revolution it would shine directly into the eyes of the pilot."

The department now has lights, operated on this principle, the larger of which is visible on an ordinary night for over 150 miles, and the smaller for over 40 miles.

DINNER STORIES

An elderly country doctor whose business was not large, sat in his office reading when his henchman appeared.

"Them boys is a-stealin' of your green apples agin, sir. Shall I drive' em away?"

The doctor considered a moment and then leveling his eyes at his servant, responded: "No."

An attorney was consulted by a young woman desirous of bringing action against her husband for a divorce. She related a harrowing tale of the ill-treatment she had received at his hands. So impressive was her recital that the lawyer, for a moment, was startled out of his usual professional composure. "From what you say this man must be a brute of the worst type!" he exclaimed.

The applicant for divorce arose and, with severe dignity, announced: "Sir, I shall consult another lawyer. I came here to get advice as to a divorce, not to hear my husband abused!"

A member of our diplomatic corps says that years ago the wife of the then American minister at The Hague asked Nelidoff, the Russian president of the peace conference of that time, to write something in her album.

That his sentiment was touched with feeling is evident, for he wrote: "To make peace with one en-

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 7.—The winter racing season for 125, or more, galloping days is on at Tijuana, Mexico. The season got away to a flying start on Thanksgiving Day, when a crowd of 20,000 race-mad persons flocked to the quaint little Mexican village, just over the international line and 16 miles from San Diego. The crowd on Thanksgiving Day, by several thousands, was by far the greatest opening day throng to visit the track during the eight years it has been operated by James Wood Coffroth, internationally known sports promoter.

And the opening of the track, like in past years, has had its effect upon San Diego as far as business is concerned. It is now evident that during the short time the track has been open this year a marked change has come over San Diego in the consideration of finance. Proof of this is found in the fact that bank clearings here have jumped skyward for several thousands, and each day sees the increase gain a wider margin.

Race track followers, whether they win or lose, are said to be free and easy with their money, and there is every indication that they are living up to their past performances. Restaurant owners, hotel men and other caterers report that since the track opened they have done a voluminous business. Last year, before the season ended, it was next to impossible to secure a room in a hotel for a week-end unless reservations were made several days in advance. The same situation is expected to prevail again this year.

Keen interest in the Tijuana races is evidenced by the fact that casual observation along the streets will reavel countless numbers of racegoers in every block studying racing programs, form charts, handicaps and over-night entries for the followdwing day.

And these same crowds start trekking to Tijuana every afternoon shortly after lunch to be on hand for the first race. Sutherland stages, which operates 20-passenger buses from a downtown location every few minutes, finds it difficult to dispatch enough buses to handle the throngs, and the same condition prevails at the border line after the last race of the day has been run and the crowd starts its rush back to San Diego for the night, only to return the following day. Monday is the "off" day at the Tijuana track, and there is no racing on that day. Each Tuesday has been set aside as "Ladies' Day."

Reports from the sheriff's office and customs officers stationed at the Mexican border show that—despite the fact that liquors of all qualities and varieties are dispensed at comparatively low prices in the saloons in the runway beneath the track grandstand—only a relatively few persons have been arrested at the line for intoxication. Because of the warm, sultry weather which has prevailed at Tijuana since the track opened, beer has been by far the most popular drink of the season. However, other liquors—wines, whiskies and gin—have received good "play." Bartenders refuse to hazard a guess on just how much liquor, measured in gallons, is consumed daily; but it is known to be a staggering quantity.

The first and only real catastrophe to befall the Tijuana race plant came on the second day of racing this year, when six 800-foot stables were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin. The fire also took toll of six horses, four of them having been burned to death and two others were so badly injured that it was necessary to destroy them. When the fire was discovered more than 300 thoroughbreds were driven from their stalls, and, in wild moments of frenzy, they fled into the foothills back of the track. All of these horses are said to have been recovered, however, and suffered little from their experience.

Before the fire had been entirely extinguished 500 carpenters were employed, and the work of building new stables was started. Within a week after the fire the burned-over area was again covered with stables. In the meantime the horses were temporarily stalled in tents.

If the present pace is maintained, it looks like a prosperous year for the Tijuana track as well as for San Diego.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The largest beauty parlor in the world—a gigantic monument to Milady's vanity—has opened in midtown. It occupies the entire floor of a half block building. The furnishings and trappings are said to have cost $500,000.

Here the lady may go to be coiffed, shingled, bobbed, manicured and massaged. Every known form of beauty treatment is employed and every hindrance to beauty is removed by competent surgeons. There are 70 attendants in charge.

Japanese pages in butterfly kimonos are also on hand. The customer may go to her booth, talk to any part of the world, dictate letters to social secretaries, read the latest novel, send telegrams and what not while youth and beauty are being restored.

If a male barber is preferred for bobbing—there are a dozen of them. One may go there and in four hours time spend a total of $114 for various treatments. It is possible to take care of 300 patrons at the same time.

The proprietor is a former painter who, when his paintings failed to sell, talked a group of rich men into backing him in the venture. The growth of the beauty parlor in New York has been mastodonic. Ten years ago there were only 26 listed in the phone directory.

Today there are more than a thousand. If, as someone had said, a man turns to selling insurance when everything else fails and lives happily ever after, it is true that women in the same fix turn to operating a beauty parlor.

There are thousands of women who spend several hours a day in the beauty salons. Each new treatment is a lure. Especially among those with creper de chine souls. They know that when beauty fades—it is the quick curtain. So they wage the desperate warfare.

Impecuniosity is traditionally associated with the theater. Yet there has been improvement in late years. A certain day and night bank in the theatrical district has mostly stage folk as patrons. It recently made an investigation and found that 62 per cent of players now appearing in New York were saving more than 10 per cent of their earnings weekly.

Joel, the restaurant man, used to be the banker for theatrical folk. He still invites those on the road to send him their savings. While they were touring they used to send him varying amounts. But when they returned it would be gone in a week, he says.

Flyers, by the way, are greatly adding to their incomes by writing for newspapers and magazines. Variety reports that there are eight stars on Broadway who will average more than $25,000 each this year from their literary efforts.

A man was walking up Broadway. He suddenly stiffened his body at though he might be planning for a sudden dive into city waters. In gazing at the window of a dancing academy he saw his wife twirling about in the arms of another man. He waited outside, torn with conflicting emotions. So far as he knew she had never learned to dance. For 18 years he thought he had been able to account for her every moment. He never went home without finding here there. And yet this sudden discovery put him on guard. He had her watched and found that half of her time was spent in the company of another man. That man was his employer.

TODAY

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

A WHITE HOUSE BREAKFAST

On Thursday, E. H. Gary, head of the biggest industrial organization in the world, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., representing what is probably still the biggest fortune in the world, and incidentally one of the most useful, will have breakfast with President Coolidge at the White House.

They will discuss law enforcement and the findings of a citizens committee of one thousand.

Those three men will make an interesting breakfast combination. Gary became head of the great steel concern when he was past 50; Rockefeller, Jr., born to own and manage the world's greatest fortune, is removed by only one generation from a little farm in the huls along the Hudson, and Calvin Coolidge in one generation is promoted from a farm in Vermont to the White House.

HOW TO STOP CRIME

The president will entertain in Gary and Rockefeller two men that might do more than many others to solve the crime problem.

You can diminish crime in two ways, first, by making it costly and painful to the criminal with severe, prompt and inevitable punishment.

Second, since crime is always unprofitable, it can be reduced by increasing facilities in obtaining employment.

The law should be able to say to every man: "If you need food and your wife and children need food, I will show you where you can work any day in the year and earn enough to feed your wife and family.

"If you prefer crime to work, I shall show you another place where you will work inside prison walls and earns nothing for yourself. I shall use your earning in that other place to see that your wife and family don't starve."

Rockefeller and Gary might offer interesting suggestions for legislation that would supply constant employment. This country is big enough and needs enough work to keep everybody busy. In England they pay a hard cash allowance to idle men and have done it since the war in the British unemployment allowance, thus avoiding the crime waves we have here. To put men to work is better than to make beggars of them.

POPES AND KINGS

Changes come rapidly. In 1875, when Pope Leo opened the holy door in Rome he sent gold medals in honor of the event to the Austrian emperor, Francis Joseph, then ruling part of Poland.

Now Pope Pius, 50 years later, again opens the holy door and sends one gold medal to President Wojciechowski, president of the republic of Poland, and one to his wife, Mme. Wojciechowski.

Little could the old emperor imagine what was to have happened before the holy door next be opened.

One reason is found in the fact that cardinals select for pope the ablest man among them, whereas emperors and kings are selected by the accident of birth.

JAIPUR'S GIRL SACRIFICE

One of ten thousand rumors says the Russian government will stir up revolution in Cairo and attempt via Egypt to "set India in flames."

This won't worry the British lion. He knows water drinking, vegetable eating Asiatics do not take fire so easily. And, when they do, they usually attack and burn some neighboring religions that don't please them.

To realize how close the Asiatics, including inhabitants of India, are to old-fashioned religious notions, remember that as recently at 1861, when Lincoln was preparing for his great task, an Indian rajah, to bring good fortune upon himself and his reign, offered at Jaipur a living sacrifice of a young girl.

It takes more than one century to change from that type to the Lincoln type, understanding freedom.

P. S.—To save any swami or other the trouble of writing for further information, those interested are referred to Westermarck's big book on the "Origin of Moral Ideas." The Jaipur incident will be found somewhere near page 500. This is written on the train, the book is not at hand.

The test of Mussolini's strength comes now, and he handles Italy's problems and his own without hesitation or weakness. He doesn't intend to be any Rienzi, glorying for a while in his own greatness, intoxicated with his own importance, and finally stabbed in the stomach by a patriotic butcher.

Florence and other rebellious towns in Italy will learn that times have changed since Savonarola. Flying machines can visit rebellious cities, and talk for Mussolinin from the air. Railroads carry Fascisti police to any part of Italy in a few hours.

And, Mussolini, trained for years as follower and leader in the hard school of Italian socialism, knows what to do, now that he has changed from a rebel against government, and finds himself the head of government.

CHICAGO — A new epoch in railway terminal development will mark the opening of the sixty-million-dollar Chicago Union station on or about Feb. 15.

Spreading out over a larger and larger area, the gray limestone terminal has continued to grow until, in its massive style of architecture, it resembles an imposing temple of antiquity. From atop the bridges spanning the Chicago river it stands out like a new city.

When the completed terminal swings open under auspicious ceremonies, the ancient terminal building will be quickly demolished. The whole transformation, including all work on the new terminal, will have been carried out without interference with a single train. This is just one phase of the unusual engineering skill.

Three baseball diamonds could be laid out upon the great floor of the main waiting room. The concourse building will have a 15-acre roof of glass, extending 1,400 feet beyond the main structure, to form the train shed. Steel umbrella train sheds, extending over several blocks, are almost finished. Several months ago most of the exterior, made of blocks from Indiana's quarries, had been virtually completed.

Parts of the terminal are now in operation, and other sections are being put into use as rapidly as possible. It had been hoped to climax the ten-year undertaking by opening the station Christmas day as a "Santa Claus gift to the city." But the date was found to be premature.

Where Designs Come From.

Designs that fascinate the eye of embroidery lovers do not just grow in the mind of the designer or the factory girl who makes them. They are nature's handiwork. Growing plants provide the motif for much needlework, whether done by hand or on machines and the natural form assumed by a plant shooting into growth or a snowflake falling upon a black background, are but examples of them.

A Woman's Way

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, cleaning up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does will concince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

Hot Gingergread with Pears—Put half a pear on hot gingerbread, cut in square, serve with hot syrup from the pears. A good way to use a few leftover pears.

Roast Rabbit—Let rabbit stand in weak salt and vinegar water one hour. Rinse well. Make a dressing of two cups bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, one-half cup chopped oysters, salt and pepper to taste and a dash of red pepper. Mix well and stuff rabbit, sew top, skewer head back and legs on each side. Season outside with salt and pepper.

Lentil Soup—Take one cup lentils, three cups milk, two tablespoons butin a saucepan with butter, cover and cook gently for fifteen minutes. Add water (or stock) and simmer gently for two hours. Rub this, with the lentils, through a sieve. Return to pan, add milk seasonings and bring to boil. Moisten flour with one-half cup milk, add it to soup and simmer ten minutes. Add cream. Serve hot. When ter, three pints water (or stock,) one onion, one carrot, two stalks, celery, one tablespoon flour, salt and pepper to taste, one-fourth cup cream. Now the holiday season is over we busy housewives may take inventory of our stocks just as the business houses are doing. Pieces of new furniture may have been given for Xmas presents and these will have to find their place in your rooms and be invited to make themselves at home and not look too conspicuous among the older pieces. New ornaments and pictures may replace the old, just as new clothing replaces the worn. If you are afraid of too much bric a brac—and it is a wholesome fear—put a few pieces away and use the new for a time. Then put the new away and bring out the old again. Don't let the new pictures crowd the old ones. Carefully clean and pack a few of the old pictures and put up new ones and then change back again when the novelty of the new wears off. January is a good month to decide what furnishings need replenishing and repairing. And the January sales are a great help in renewing all departments of the household.

Eczema

OH! The joy of a peaceful, restful night. What a wonderful "up and going" feeling follows such a night of undisturbed slumber.

Oh! What tortures—what agony—what despair—goes with the nights where eczema and other skin diseases hold power and drive away rest and peaceful slumber. For under the cover of darkness like crafty beings of the underworld these eruptions work their most serious havoc.

S.S.S. is the established conqueror of these annoying skin diseases. S.S.S. drives these ever disturbing elements from your system—elements that carry in their wake—lack of energy—undermining health! You may try in vain to get rid of them by using salves, lotions, washes, all to no purpose. You can't do it that way—the seat of the trouble lies deeper—impure blood trying to throw off poisons through the tender skin.

S.S.S. purifies the blood. It aids Nature in creating new red-blood-cells by the million! Blood-cells that send new rich blood coursing through your system. Red blood that drives away eczema—drives away pimples, blackheads, boils and rheumatism, too. An increase in red-blood-cells means added strength, added vitality and renewed vigor. Because the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. Start taking S.S.S. today and watch it rout that annoying, skin destroying, health undermining army that holds your system in its grasp! Learn again what it means to enjoy peaceful, restful nights of slumber.

Copyright 1925, by King Features Syndicate Inc

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

Tomato Soup—Cook one quart of tomatoes with an onion and a few cloves until the onion is tender. Strain through a wire strainer. Make a thin white sauce with a large tablespoon of butter, one tablespoon flour, and a pint of milk added gradually. Let come to boil, add strained tomatoes, season and serve.

Cranberry Raisin Roll—Two teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, two cups flour, two tablespoons butter, milk to make soft dough, one cup cranberries, one half cup raisins, one-half cup sugar. Make a dough and roll one inch thick. Chop berries and raisins and mix with sugar. Spread over dough. Roll up and steam for one and a half hours. Serve hot with the following sauce; Two tablespoons butter, one cup sugar, one and one-half cups hot water, pinch salt, juice and rind of one lemon. Cook sugar, flour, water together five minutes and add rest of ingredients.

Baked Ham—One slice of ham two and one-half inches thick, one onion, pepper, milk to cover, one can tomatoes. Soak the ham half a day in milk to cover; then pour on the tomatoes and add chopped onion seasoning well with pepper, and bake slowly one hour.

SUGGESTIONS.

When baking a meat loaf instead of using all crackers to thicken it, try using one cup of bran and a few crackers; you will find it is much better than when all crackers are used. If you have on hand any cooked oats put them in your meat loaf; will never be dry and will taste very delicious.

Keep a few of the favorite flowers by coating them completely with hot parafin. Drop it on the flowers from a spoon. Cover the entire flower enough to hold it firm, but not to cover the color tints. Pansies, violets, hyacinths, lilacs, cannas, dahlias and lillies take this treatment very well.

SLAYER MAKES LAST FIGHT TO ESCAPE DEATH

Condemned Man Takes Case to Supreme Court.

MURDERED FIVE

South Carolinan Says he is Innocent of Crime.

COLUMBIA, S. C. — Edmund Bingham, thrice convicted of having slain a family of five persons, will soon know whether his three-year fight to evade the electric chair has been in vain.

His case is to go to the supreme court for the fifth time. Work of transcribing the testimony is being completed. Failure to complete this work in the prescribed time of 30 days set by the court has given the condemned man several months of life.

Should the supreme court fail to reverse the decision of the lower court Bingham automatically will receive the death sentence—for a fourth time. Three times he has heard the words of judges condemning him to death, and for nearly two years he occupied a death cell in the state penitentiary.

Bigham was convicted of having killed his mother, brother and sister and two young children who had been adopted by his sister. He has maintained from the first that his brother, Smiley Bigham, shot the four and then killed himself. The crimes occurred almost four years ago at Conway, S. C.

Bigham has dramatically protested his innocence in court on each of the occasions when a jury found him guilty. He characterized the testimony on which he was convicted as "the greatest falsehood I ever heard."

Bigham's wife and daughter remain loyal to the condemned man.

"I shall stay with him to the end—whatever that may be!" his wife said after his last conviction.

Malthusian Theory Again Hit.

Toward the end of the eighteenth century Dr. Malthus threw a scare into the world by announcing that scientifically he had figured out that increase in population was getting far ahead of the increase in food production that the human race would eventually starve unless wars and pestilence killed off some. Modern economists point out that the development of farm machinery has done much to disprove it. The products of food products per person engaged in agriculture today is more than double what it was on 1870.

NEW HOME FOR HEALTH UNIT

County Court Sets Aside Building in Rear of Jail.

Hancock county health unit will shortly move into new headquarters in the rear of the county jail as result of action taken at the regular meeting of the county court held yesterday at New Cumberland.

Headquarters have been maintained in the basement of the court house, but this place was deemed inadequate to the needs of the body by members of the county court who are frequently called upon to take care of children who are thrown on the county either by death of their parents of other causes.

The new building consists of eight rooms and was orginally set aside for use of the deputy sheriff. During the past 18 months it has not been used for the purpose intended and it was unanimously decided to place it at the disposal of the health unit. Dr. Charles Koenig, health officer, will move within the next few days.

Reports submitted by the health officer showed the work in the county on a firm basis an dthe unit will be given the whole hearted support of the county court in carrying out the program mapped out by the directing head.

ATTORNEY FLAYS BOOST IN RATES

Characterizing the recent action of the public service commission in granting an increase of telephone rates in the state as "the hardest blow dealt the public," J. D. Rummel, city solicitor of Charleston, speaking in Wheleing last evening, said there was hope remaining that an appeal to a higher body might be effective.

The utterances of Chairman Birk S. Stathers of the commission at Charleston, in which the chairman attacked the opinion of the commission in the phone rate case, were lauded by Judge Rummel. Chairman Stathers cast the single dissenting vote against granting the increase.

Judge Rummel pointed out that the cities in submitting their case had placed their chief reliance on facts derived by engineers and accountants employed by themselves and by the the commission.

"Even in the face of these overwhelming facts the commission decided in favor of the telephone company," Judge Rummell said.

He said he had asked City Solicitor Carl O. Schmidt, of Wheeling, to meet with him in Charleston to confer in regard to an appeal. What steps might be taken to carry the fight against the increase further will be decided at that time, he said. Solicitors of other cities interested in the fight will be called in.

Portable Electric Drill Put to New Use in California

LOS ANGELES — One of the most ingenious uses for the portable electric drill was demonstrated recently in the fruit growing territory of California, where a pair of automatic augers, operating from one motor mounted on a small truck, bored holes for 60,000 grapevines in 10 days. This resulted in a saving of $400 a day over hand labor.

Six thousand holes, three inches in diameter and 18 inches deep, were dug each day.

SOME MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN ARE AILING ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Mayer Tell Women How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Them at This Trying Period

MRS. ELSIE ACKERMAN
CONVOY, OHIO

Convoy, Ohio.—"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do my work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had taken one bottle she said to me, 'You won't have to pay for it! It is helping me wonderfully!' And she took three bottles of it. You can use my testimonial if you wish." — Mrs. ELSIE ACKERMAN, Convoy, Ohio.

Mrs. Mayer's Experience

Litchfield, Conn.—"I have given your medicine a fair trial (I am on my fifth bottle) and can truthfully say that it has helped me. I am at the Change of Life and was not able to sleep nights, had indigestion, palpitation of the heart, pains in my right and left sides (more so if I hurried), had a rapid beating in my left ear and dreaded to see night come. I felt smothered if I lay on my left side, I had gas dreadfully, at times felt as if some one had me by the throat, had hot waves through me and sometimes I would shake in spells of nervousness. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot praise it enough. I can say it does all it claims to do and I can recommend it to my friends. I can sleep much better, the pains in my sides are gone, I am not so nervous, my digestion is much better, and I very seldom have the hot waves. I must say that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women's ills and I will answer letters from women asking about it." — Mrs. JOSEPH MAYER, SR., Box 36, Litchfield, Connecticut.

THE DOUBLE HOUSE

Karesia stood for some time, thinking strange thoughts. Then she closed the locket and went to the bed. She held it up for Mary Bliss to see. "We forgot," she whispered. "We must put it around her neck again," and she lifted Clarice's head and returned the girl's treasure to its place. Then Karesia went into the glazed room and took down from above her desk a small framed photograph, Randsome Rossiter, younger than in the miniature on Clarice's bosom, but with the same dominant smile. Karesia hid it away in her desk drawer.

Again she asked Mary Bliss whether she was tired. "No, look! She's going to sleep now," the woman said with a touch of triumph. "I won't bathe her face any more—she's asleep."

Karesia smiled at her affectionately. "You've made her well," she whispered. Evidently here was someone of whom Mary Bliss was not afraid; a being as helpless as herself, yet needing her protection. That afternoon, when Karesia had lain blinded by a headache, the woman had lost her timidity and had cared for her as tenderly.

She went into the glazed room and lay down on the couch. Without it was darked than it had been earlier in the night. Between her and the canyon was a black gulf, but on the crown of the rounded hill beyond were a group of lights, Rossiter's house lighted. . . . Karesia lay there with her thoughts, she did not know how long, but until she heard a car coming up the slope; she was not mistaken, the car was climbing her street. . . . She went in and looked at Clarice. The girl had turned on her side, she was not flushed now, she had slipped into a natural sleep. Mary Bliss sat on the footstool, stroking with her gnarled fingers the hand which Clarice had flung out on the coverlid. Karesia stole away and opened her front door as Dascome ran up the steps.

She smiled her welcome. "I heard you coming—I hoped you would come."

He brought in with him the chill of the night air and the tenseness of the hours that had passed since he last saw her. He was haggard—gray beneath his tan. "I was in town, Mrs. Kaime, trying to find her. I heard that Mr. Rossiter had taken her away from that crowd. Then I went to him and he told me he had brought her to you. How is she?"

"She is asleep. Mary Bliss is with her. Don't be worried, she is sleeping as naturally as a child. Rand said she would sleep it off." When his face lost its tenseness, Karesia felt a tremendous relief; the man was too sensible and discerning to think evil of Rossiter or do any such wild thing as she had feared. They had not quarrelled.

"He could not have brought her to a safer place, but it made me—I cannot tell you how sorry I am that the thing should have been thrust on you."

"I am glad Rand brought her out here. What made we most anxious was the way you drove on those streets. I thought that very likely you were in some hospital.

"It is kind of you to give me a thought, after subjecting you to this annoyance." He looked down "It is not a habit with her—only an outburst of recklessness over—— Because something she desired seemed unobtainable."

Karesia guessed what he meant by "unobtainable" No one knew better than she how almost any girl would love Rossiter to desperation. "Will you come now and see her?" she asked.

"If I may."

They went up lightly, so when Karesia stood aside at the door and Dascome walked into the room, Mary Bliss had no warning. When she scrambled frantically to her feet, Dascome in his long ulster loomed tall and large directly before her. Mary Bliss ran like a hunted thing, to the very end of the room, against the wall which stopped her, turned and stood, her body jerking, her twisted mouth half open, uttering the queer twittering sounds which had so terrified Karesia that afternoon.

Dascome reached her before Karesia did. He took her by the shoulders and held her against the wall "Stop it!" he commanded, low but with tremendous force The woman gave a wild gasp and stared at him like a trapped animal, then her lips fell apart again and her face began to twitch, and she emitted a single twittering note, which he met with a command which had the force of a blow: "Keep quiet, do you hear! Not another sound!"

He was obeyed Mary Bliss stood under his hands, trembling and shrinking and staring in terror, but not jerking and twisting in convulsions. Then Dascome released her. "Go to your room now and go to bed" was his next command. "Give way like that again and I'll turn you over to the doctors. Are you going to do what I tell you?"

"Yes—yes, I will!" she mumbled.

Dascome moved aside and Mary Bliss crept away. He turned then to Karesia, who had been too surprised and shocked for speech or movement. "Don't be frightened, Mrs. Kaime," he said quietly. "I saved her from another fit, that was all. She's all right now. Just a moment—then I'll explain."

He went over to the bed and looked at his daughter. Clarice had not waked, she had not even stirred. Dascome bent and listened to her breathing, then put his fingers on her pulse. For some moments there was perfect silence. What he had done to Mary Bliss was no longer a terrifying mystery to Karesia; he had frightened the woman out of having an attack nevertheless she felt as if some tremendous force had entered the room embodied in the figure bent over the bed; as if she herself dared not stir without permission. He had acted so quickly and ruthlessly. She herself felt oddly submissive.

Dascome lifted finally, looked over at her and smiled. He indicated the glazed room by a gesture. "Can we go in there so we can talk?"

His smile was confidence-inspiring and Karesia returned to more nearly normal. "I think I ought to speak to Mary Bliss first?" she questioned.

Dascome was still smiling encouragingly. "Surely. You will find her in bed—the sensible place for her."

He was right. Mary Bliss had evidently undressed in haste; her clothes lay in a circle on the floor. She lay covered to the chin with her eyes closed.

The Pathway of Fools

WHEN Jim Hamilton married Ruth Mason, they had little to "go on" but love. A few acres of land, a few head of cattle—these and their love for each other promised happiness. For five years they toiled side-by-side. Their fortunes grew. Children came, bringing an added measure of comfort. They were supremely happy and contented with their lot.

Then—oil was discovered on the little ranch. Overnight, Jim Hamilton became rich beyond his wildest dreams. Influential business men, financial promoters from the East, sought him out—cultivated his acquaintance—finally induced him to move to New York City where he and his family could live as befitted their new station in life.

So to New York they went, under gentle protest from Ruth, who was well content to have just a home in Texas with her children, her Jim, and their wonderful love. Alas! How hard she tried to fit into the new luxurious scheme of things! Jim became instantly popular—especially with women. One, an exquisite creature of patrician beauty fascinated him beyond expression. Like other beautiful women he came to know, she seemed to possess every grace, every refinement, that Ruth did not.

And this is just the bare beginning—a mere introductory background to one of the most astounding, most heart-gripping life-dramas that it is ever given human beings to play. Did Jim remember the little wife who had labored so faithfully, who had sacrificed so willingly, who had devoted herself, body and soul, to the man she loved? Did she admit defeat, and surrender him to the "other woman"—or did she battle tirelessly, fiercely, savagely, to hold her mate? And what of the other woman? Did her artful wiles, her subtle allurements, prove winning weapons in this bitter conflict between two women, so widely different—this woman's war for a man's love—for his very soul?

Only Jim himself, out of the hall of memories, can bring you a clear picture of this terrible crisis in his life, and its dramatic outcome. Told with a most compelling frankness, and of vital interest to men, here is a true-life narrative that it is of even more vital importance that every woman, every girl, should read. It bares a man's soul completely, stripping it of every shred of concealment. It gives an amazingly clear insight into the workings of his mind and heart—and brings understanding of his nature and instincts as no other story could do.

"When Riches Come," as it is entitled, is really a man's love story written for women. Nothing exactly like it, that we know of, has ever before appeared in print. There is a powerful lesson here for all men, all women. It appears as one of the big features in the February issue of True Story Magazine. Don't miss it! On the newsstands today.

"You fool! What did you think I married you for? Your good looks? Your personality?" She laughed—a mocking laugh, that made my over-taut nerves quiver. —from "When Riches Come," in February True Story.

Other Heart-Stirring True Stories in the February Issue Are:

"The Price of Fame"—More than anything else, Nellie wanted to become a great actress. So with hopes high she went to Hollywood in search of a "career." Like hundreds of other girls who go westward each year, staking their all on the flimsy hope of becoming movie stars, Nellie did not dream of the price exacted for fame by those who shape human destinies in the movie colonies. A powerful, thrillingly dramatic true-life story that every girl should read.

"The Evil Men Do"—When Evelyn became private secretary to the great Enoch Blair, his interest in her set her head in a whirl. First came his invitation to dine—then long rides in the country. Before she was aware of what had happened, she found herself caught in the grip of a mad adventure from which she seemed powerless to escape—and that could have only one end. Don't fail to read this startling, heart-gripping chapter lifted directly from the book of a young girl's life.

"Human Wreckage"—When he married Helen Kirke, he thought his happiness was complete. Then he met Olga Harmon, a famous dancer—a woman with all the beauty, all the fascination, all the feminine arts and wiles that try men's souls. Came a moment of madness when wife, home, honor, all were forgotten. It could have only one ending. A confession that ranks as a masterpiece in the true-life stories of men.

In the Same Issue:

"The Tell-Tale Tattoo"
"Through the Flame"
"As God Intended"
"The Jilted Woman"
"Love's Redemption"
"A Strange Marriage"
"Tinsel and Gold"
"The Binding Tie"
"Up From Nowhere"

A Letter From the Heart of an Indiana Social Worker

Editor "True Story"—Dear Sir:

I am assistant matron in a school for delinquent girls in a small Indiana town and each evening we have an hour of reading for the inmates, from seven until eight o'clock. I have always tried to pick out the best literature obtainable for them, that which is uplifting to their poor lives. A week ago I purchased a copy of the "True Story" Magazine with no intention of letting these girls read it. It was the first one I have ever read and I have no words with which to explain my surprise at the value of this book. A lot of people make evil of it but let me tell you how much I think of it, how much trust I put into this magazine.

Tonight just three quarters of an hour ago I took this book into the girls' dormitory and I told them I wanted to read them a story. I turned to the one in the September issue entitled "Her Birthright," the two thousand dollar prize winner, by the way, and read it through word for word. As I read the arms of one of the girls nearest me went around my neck, and I felt her body shudder. There were sobs through the little audience, and when I had finished all wanted to talk at once, so I told them I wanted each one of them, there being sixteen in number, to tell me what they thought of the story. One of them said, "Oh, Mrs. — —, If I had only had that book a year ago, I would not be here today a disgrace, the mother of a baby without a name and I only seventeen." Another little girl, she is only fifteen and will become a mother in a couple of months more, cried as if her heart would break and said she felt better to hear another story like hers, and she uttered a short prayer for this girl and for her sisters in this home.

So I have made this resolve: Each month, not one, but three or four magazines will be placed with these girls so they can all enjoy them and read them themselves. What they get from these wonderful true stories will give them heart to live their days here, but the greatest good they will reap from them will be when they have served their time here and are again put out into the cold world to go the right path or the wrong. But so great is my belief in "True Story" that I fervently believe they could not possibly step from the narrow road again as long as they read the stories in this book, and they say they can hardly wait until the October issue is out. It is all they talk about, and when they are performing their duties through the day, I frequently hear them discussing "True Story" and with an eagerness that is worth worlds to see.

A lot of people would not approve of me putting this book in the home, but I know what good it can do because I HAVE SEEN and what better proof have we?

Sincerely yours,

_____

Runyon Says

BY DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

GOING through some old clippings the other day the writer came across an article written by him several years ago on the greatest "drawing cards"—that is, box office attractions—of the period.

He said in this article that they were:

Babe Ruth,	Enrico Caruso,
Al Jolson,	Jack Dempsey,
John McCormack,	Harry Lauder.

Caruso is dead. The others are alive. Moreover, they remain the greatest box office attractions of today, their drawing power undiminished by the lapse of some little time. In some cases it has increased.

The order in which they are listed above is not intended as the order of their drawing power.

Each draws to the capacity of their hall of activity nearly every time they appear. Ruth's "audiences" probably fluctuate more than the others.

McCormack, the Irish tenor, is perhaps the steadiest "sell out" of the list since the passing of Caruso. And McCormack must perhaps be rated FIRST of all "attractions" in the world in drawing power, because he is strictly an individual attraction.

Ruth wouldn't draw a nickel without a baseball club around him, Dempsey must have an opponent to get his biggest crowds.

McCormack requires only a piano player. He needs no scenery, no "props," no assistance other than his accompanist and ticket takers and a few policemen to keep the crowd in order as it struggles to get in.

McCormack is not particularly prepossessing in appearance. He is a solid-looking, middle-aged man. He certainly has no attributes of the sheik, nothing of that mysterious something that is called "sex appeal."

But the magic of his marvelous voice pours a steady stream of gold through the box office windows. As an individual "drawing card" McCormack is champion of the world.

Jolson is not far behind the tenor and appears with greater regularity.

As a steady, nightly attraction there are none stronger than the one-time minstrel.

Jolson can go out on the road with a mediocre show and play town halls, auditoriums, car barns and pack them night after night. He is positively "sure fire" wherever he goes.

Lauder, the great Scotch comedian comes to America only about once a year, touring the country with a show usually made up of vaudeville acts. He always plays to tremendous business and to audiences unique in that they are made up largely of men and women who seldom go to see any other performer.

Dempsey, proportionately to his number of appearances, has undoubtedly pulled more money into the box offices than any public performer, living or dead, in any field of activity.

In six ring appearances he has drawn close to $4,000,000. In just two he derw $2,700,000 of that total. Allowing half the total to his opponent in each case—and you know that's a great deal more than the opponent drew—the writer still believes that $2,000,000 for six appearances is a record.

Dempsey seems to have something more than his pugilistic ability as a drawing attraction. For instance, he has drawn more women to his battles than any other fighter that ever lived, although this is probably partly due to the fact that women hadn't commenced attending fights in any number before Dempsey's period.

However, Dempsey recently demonstrated in vaudeville that he is quite an individual attraction; that people are interested in him personally.

To a new list of great "drawing cards" the writer must necessarily add the names of Charley Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, the screen comedians.

Their pictures—which are, after all, themselves—are tremendous attractions. When one of their pictures is released over the country they probably play to greater "audiences" than any other individual performers.

But, of course, a general release gives them a capacity, so to speak, that you can scarcely compare with the single hall or arena to which McCormack, Ruth, Jolson and Dempsey are confined.

Financially, Lloyd at this time probably makes more money than any other single public performer of any kind. His income must be enormous.

McCormack and Jolson, between their end of the box office receipts and the income from their phonograph records must gross well into six figures on the year probably over $500,000.

Lauder, it is said, is content with a guarantee of around $5,000 per week on his tours. But Lauder, now a very rich man, also makes much money, from his records.

Ruth, proportionately to the number of persons he draws, gets the least money of all the big "cards." Ruth's basebal salary is about $52,000 per year, to which he adds in other ways, say $25,000 more.

If Ruth got a small percentage of the admission fee paid by every person who would say, if asked at the box office window, "I came to see Ruth" it is conceivable that he would exceed his set salary.

But baseball hasn't yet reached the point where it pays its stars proportionately to their drawing power, because there seems to be no method by which that drawing power can be definitely determined.

Football is now outdrawing all other sport in America.

However, in football the teams and the institutions they represent are responsible for the "darw," not the individual stars.

This is demonstrated by the fact that Yale and Harvard, for instance, draw just as many persons when they have no outstanding stars as they do when they have Mahans and Brickleys.

The only football star of recent years who might pack a stadium anywhere in the country, regardless of college or community pride in the outcome of the game, is "Red" Grange. And Grange is an exception.

"Red" Grange is probably the only football player in history who attracted the attention of the vaudeville booking offices through the astounding publicity he received.

The writer knows that several agents seriously contemplated making Grange an offer to appear on the stage at the close of last season. And the public was interested in the superplayer to such an extent it is quite conceivable he would have been a good "card."

Thorpe, the Indian, in his palmiest days just as a football player, never had that compliment paid him.

Flying Finn Breaks Three World Indoor Records

Flaxen Haired Boy Runs Legs Off Ray and Rival Ritola

New Board Track Marks Set in Mile, 1,500 Meters and 5,000 Meters by Paavo Nurmi in First American Appearance; Takes New York by Storm.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A slight, stoop-shouldered Finn—a mere boy with curly, flaxen hair and the pale clear skin of a bank clerk—took New York by storm last night.

Now New York knows.

And New York today belongs to Paavo Nurmi. Last night, running for the first time in America, among strangers in a strange land, Paavo Nurmi broke three world records—one for the mile, one for 1,500-meters and one for 5,000 meters.

His time for the mile was four minutes and 13 seconds, one and three-fifths seconds faster than the former indoor world record mark made by Joie Ray. The time for 1,500 meters was 3 minutes 56 1-5 seconds and for the five thousand meters 14 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds.

Never before had Paavo Nurmi run on an indoor board track.

Nurmi literally ran the legs off Joie Ray in the mile race, in which Joie himself broke his own world record and then with a rest of a scant two hours, came back and raced his own countryman, Willie Ritola, into complete and abject subjection over the 5,000 meter route.

At the finish he smiled boyishly, almost shyly, as 10,000 frantic, excitement-maddened fans rushed and crowded and pushed, and yelled "Nurmi, Nurmi, Nurmi."

It was in the mile that the flying Finn made his debut. The crowd gasped when he trotted out on the track. He looked too slender, too undernourished, too thin of cheek, too boyish. New York has expected something unusual. They saw only a boy, a flaxen-haired, smiling boy. A bit shy and a bit nervous from the strangeness of it.

Nurmi won the mile in the last lap, passing Ray like a blue jerseyed flash. He breasted the tape 15 yards in front. Ray was racing his heart out, trying to catch a shadow.

In the 5,000 meters, he beat his ancient rival, Ritola, one of his best competitors when Nurmi set four world records in the Olympic games.

These two ran their mightiest and lost—lost because the hare cannot outrace the antelope; human feet can not catch the moonbeam.

M. P. PASSERS DOWN M. E. FIVE

Win in Final Quarter Through Seven-Point Rally.

In two great battles that will stand out as thrillers of the season, the Methodist Protestant basketball squads seniors and juniors, won games from the Methodist Episcopal representatives last night on the high school floor. As a result the M. P. aggregation Seniors, retain the lead in the Sunday school league race.

The M. P. Seniors got away with a 21 to 17 victory while the Juniors were forced to fight five minutes extra to win by a count of 31 to 30.

Bailey, Burke and Ankrim were the outstanding stars for the winners while Horwell, C. Nease and L. Nease performed valiantly for the losers.

The M. E. Seniors, challenging the supremacy of the league leaders, played a brand of basketball in the opening stage that made them entertain visions of victory. They led by the count of 11 to 7 at the end of the half, and continued with such effect that they wound up the third period with a lead of three points, the score being 16 to 13.

Wilson scored from the field and put the M. P. five within a point of the opposition and Mackey followed it up with a double decker that gave the M. P. quint the lead for the first time. Todd increased the margin with a field goal and Mackey clinched the game with the last two-pointer of the contest. The M. E. five, hanging on the ropes as a result of the M. P. comeback, managed to toss in a foul for one more point.

Mackey was the M. P. star with 13 points. Bromby, Furrer and Pyles were the mainstays of the M. E. quint.

QUINN IS SLATED FOR RETIREMENT

Jack Quinn is destined to pass out of the big show before the end of the 1925 season—if he even starts it with the Red Sox or some other big league club.

Jack has been slated for the ash can several times before and fooled the wiseboys. This time, however, it seems probable that he has run out his string.

But mark this. When he goes he will take with him one of the best curves in the business. That curve carried him through season after season when, by all that was true and holy, he should have been done. That curve helped him win 12 games, while losing but 13 for Lee Fohl's team of misfits last season.

Ask any batter who has faced that curve when Quinn was sent in as a relief hurler to pull a game out of the fire and he will tell you it is a "mean" ball.

He takes something with him when he leaves.

SHORT SHIP RACE CIRCUIT PLANS 1925 SCHEDULE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—Stewards of the Ohio short ship circuit, including representatives of Sandusky, Fremont, Mansfield, Canton and two Cleveland tracks were in session at the hotel Hollenden here today arranging their annual schedule of dates. Youngstown and Akron, it was said as the stewards gathered, might also be included, but it was more or less doubtful.

At the grand circuit meeting ended late yesterday radical rule changes were adopted, including the provisions for claiming races and classification of horses on the "win race" basis, and registration of trotters and pacers, were adopted.

Dates assigned included North Randall June 22 to July 4; and Aug. 12 to Aug. 26; Columbus July 6 to July 11 and Sept. 21 to October 3, and Toledo July 13 to July 18.

SPORT PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR WINTER GUESTS

ORMOND BEACH, Fla.—Not wishing to be outdone by neighboring municipalities, this city, Winter home of John D. Rockefeller, has arranged a pretentious sports program for the Winter months.

Golf will be the featured attraction, as there are two fine courses here, and the leading players of the country will appear in the various competitions.

There also will be tennis tournaments, baseball games, trap-shooting, and swimming and diving contests, in which Olympic champions and holders of world titles will take part.

A miniature Olympic aquatic carnival for women will be held Sunday, February 8. Girls who already have accepted invitations are: Aileen Aiggin, Sybil Bauer, Helen Wainright, Ethel Lackie, Martha Dorelius, Agnes Geraghty and Gertrude Ederle. All these stars won points of championships for Uncle Sam at the recent Olympic games.

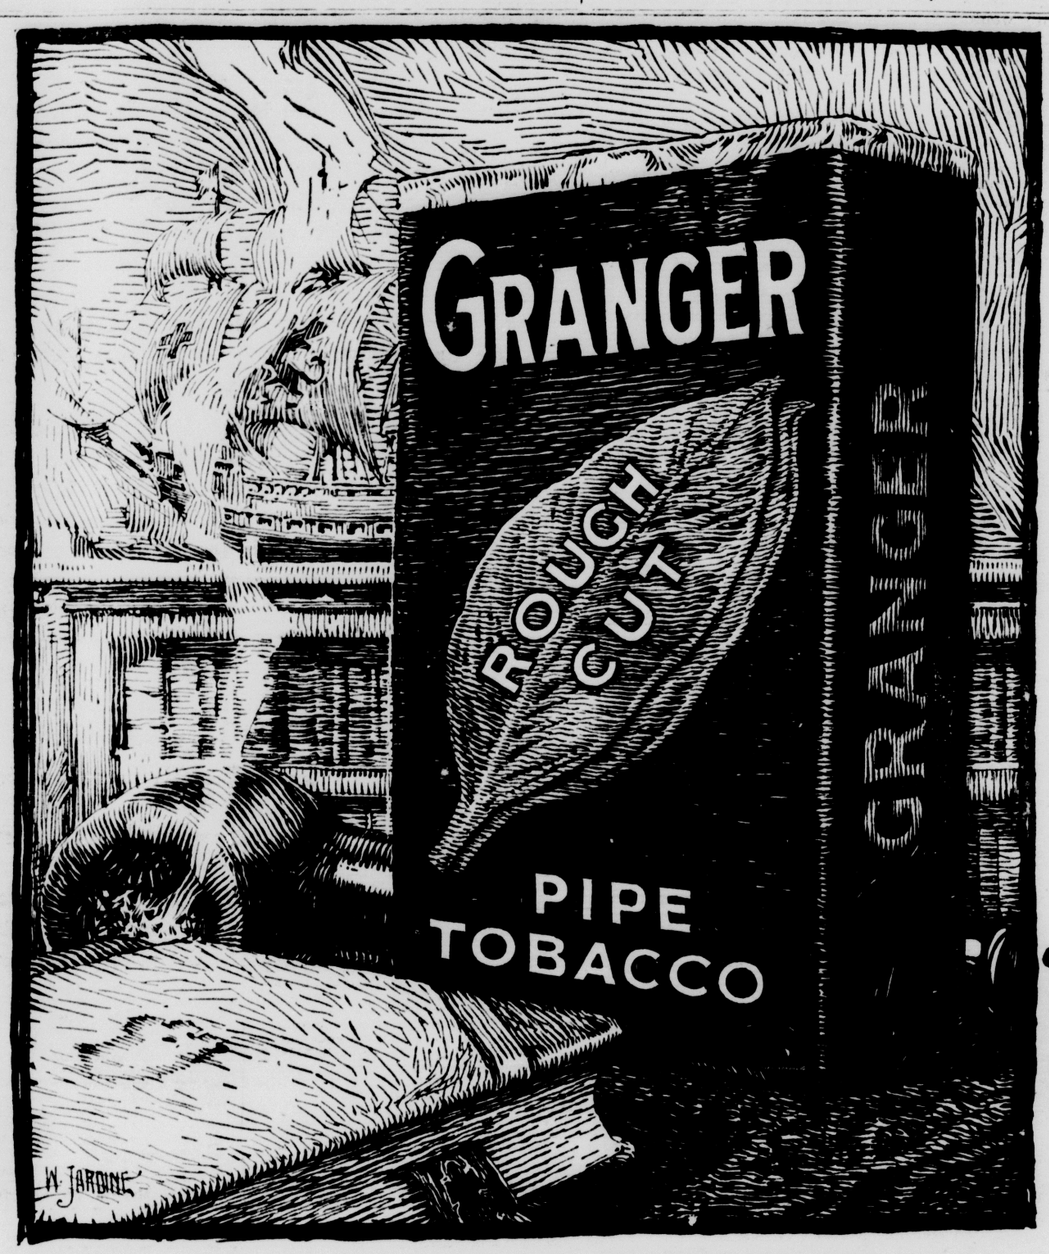

The Ormond Beach events will be held in tidal water, and efforts will be made for new world's records over such a course in conformity with the newly adopted rules of the International Swimming Federation.

In the golf tournaments scheduled for this city there are no less than five competitions for women, and invitations to attend them have been extended to the foremost women players of the country. Among those invited are: Miss Glenna Collett, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd and Miss Alexa Stirling, present national champion.

Tad Has Rivals.

Tad Jones is the most talked of but the fact that the Blues won championships in rowing and trick athletics in 1924 as well as in football indicates that the members of the other branches are stepping on high.

Guatemala is to have an electric railway, with unusually narrow gauge, that will cost $3,000,000.

WALKER AIMING AT NEW TITLE

Will Try to Lift McTigue's Crown in Battle Tonight.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 7.—Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., world's welterweight champion, predicted today that he would win by a knockout tonight in his fight here with Mike McTigue, light heavyweight titleholder. Victory by that route would make Walker a dual champion.

The bout is scheduled for 12 rounds, but Mickey is confident it will not go beyong ten, at most. No decision is permitted under the New Jersey law and only by stopping McTigue can Walker achieve his ambition.

McTigue's weight edge on Walker and his ability on the defense, many experts believe, will enable him to stave off the Jersey man's attack. Walker rules favorite however.

Irrespective of the outcome, Walker said, he intends to try later for the middleweight title now held by Harry Gred.

JOHNSON AFTER VERNON CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Walter Johnson, ace pitcher of the Washington champion club, was scheduled to arrive here today for the avowed purpose of purchasing the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league.

Johnson, it was reported, plans to buy Vernon from Ed. Maier, who is known to be anxious to sell the Tigers for $250,000 or thereabouts. Ann Arbor, Mich., and Reno, Nev., capital was said to be behind Johnson in the proposed deal. Another report however, had it that the Washington Star would combine in the buy with Wm. Lane, Salt Lake City mining millionaire, reputed to have just disposed of the Salt Lake club of the Coast circuit.

The Vernon deal is said to hinge largely on Johnson's gaining permission from Wm. Wrigley, Chicago millionaire, and owner of the Los Angeles club of the Coast league, for the Vernon club house of Wrigley's new Los Angeles ball park.

YOUNGSTOWN AT WORK ON PLANS FOR NEW CLUB

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 7—Whether or not Youngstown will be represented in the proposed new Central league the coming season will be determined at a meeting to be held in Pittsburgh early next month.

This announcement was made today by Joseph Shoemaker, who represented this city yesterday in a session of the league's baseball magnates at Hotel Henry, Pittsburgh, when franchises were awarded Akron and Cumberland, Md.

The circuit as it now stands consists of Youngstown, Wheeling, Erie, Altoona, Johnstown, Cumberland and Akron. The eighth city to round out the organization will be selected from among the following: Uniontown, Canton, Dayton, Zanesville and Springfield.

According to Mr. Shoemaker who made a survey of the local situation during the past week he is ready to go ahead with his plans to place Youngstown in the league. While here he looked over several prospective sites for a ball park and he also stated that Hans Wagner, former Pittsburgh idol, is all set to manage the local club.

After Downtown Location.

An effort was made by Shoemaker to secure the Idora park grounds but he learned that the field there had already been promised to Harry Baugh and Jack Resinger, local semi pro promoters. He also endeavored to make an arrangement for the use of Evans field but nothing definite on this would be known for a few weeks, he stated.

FIRPO ALTERS WORK SYSTEM

No More Sketchy Training, Declares Luis, in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 7—Luis Firpo is thru with sketchy training. He wants at least three months preparation hereafter. The reason Charlie Weinert of Newark, N. J., jabbed him to death, he says, was that Firpo went into the ring with but three days training.

These were the assertions of the former "wild bull of the Pampas" in an exclusive interview with International News Service just before he boarded the boat train for London. There he will complete arrangements for a fight with Tom Gibbons.

"I won't fight before April in any case," he announced, apparently revising his attitude since his announcement last week that the Gibbons fight probably would be the first week in March.

"I'll never fight again without at least three month's training. The reason Weinert defeated me was because I went into the ring with only three days training. If I have my way this London match with Gibbons won't be held before April, to allow me sufficient time to get ready for it."

Despite the bearish turn the Wild Bull's stock took in the United States after the Wills and Weinert fights, Firpo apparently is confident of as many fights as he wants.

"Richard Klegin offers me 1,000,000 francs to meet Bombardier Wells February 15 on the Riveria," he continued. "But that's too soon I wish to complete my European motor tour, visiting Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Rome, with an extended visit to Spain before beginning training.

"The London fight isn't certain yet. Jimmy Johnston is now in Rome and plans to make me an offer to fight Jack Renault in New York, but we haven't talked figures yet. I expect to do my training on the Riveria.

"I will remain in London only three or four days—only long enough to complete the formalities for the fight and arrange to get my American car admitted to France."

Awaits Kane's Answer.

LOS, ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Dick Donald, Los Angeles fight promoter, today was awaiting an answer from Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, regarding a Los Angeles bout between Gibbons and Luis Firpo.

Donald said to represent wealthy Los Angeles sportsmen, proposes to stage the Gibbons-Firpo match in Los-Angeles Washington's birthday. He wired Kane proposing that Gibbons meet Firpo here instead of in London, as is now planned.

New Chevrolet Arrives Here; Pretty, Roomy, Comfortable

Trotter-Chevrolet Company Announces New Cars Come in Five Body Types.

A new Chevrolet—more beautiful in body lines, more roomy and comfortable, with a host of new mechanical and body features—has been announced this week by the Trotter-Chevrolet Motor company. The new cars come in five body types, the touring, roadster, coach, coupe and sedan, and are being shown for the first time at the New York show.

There is hardly a feature of the Chevrolet that it is not new, improved or redesigned, while most of these features are of the type and quality characteristic of higher priced cars.

All models have full streamline bodies, with refinements in design which make them the most beautiful cars Chevrolet has ever produced.

New axles — rear axle is entirely new of banjo type construction and with one-piece pressed steel housing.

New and heavier channel steel frame 38 inches longer, with five sturdy cross members.

Motor Improvements.

New improvements in the Chevrolet motor, such as heavier crankshaft with larger connecting rod bearings, longer and larger center main bearings, shorter intake manifold bringing the carburetor closer to the cylinders, insuring better carburetion and easier starting, rocker arms and valves completely enclosed.

New Harrison radiator shell of highly polished nonrusting airplane metal.

All open models have redesigned windshield, with very large upper panel to permit unobstructed vision. All closed bodies equipped with V one-piece windshield and automatic windshield wiper.

All closed bodies built by Fisher. New bodies roomier.

New instrument board with more convenient and beautiful groping of instruments.

While the new Harrison radiator remains the same in size and capacity the material and appearance of the shell has radically changed. In place of the former enameled steel shell, the new radiator shell is made of airplane metal, which is nonrusting because of the composition of the material used and has all the beauty of nickel.

The clutch has been changed from a cone type to a perfected single plate, dry disc clutch, which requires no lubrication. This new type makes for easier operation, smoother engagement, more positive drive and longer life.

New Rear Axle.

The rear axle is entirely new. In this construction the differential complete with the ring gear and pinion are mounted as an integral part of the third member in what is known as the differential carrier. The new stamped one-piece axle housing—known as the banjo type—is similar in design and construction to that used on the most costly cars. New departure ball bearings are used throughout.

The front axle has been greatly strengthened and redesigned.

The springs are of the semi-elliptical type, which are longer and provide easy riding. They are of chrome Vanadiam steel, one of the toughest types of steel, so far developed. The rear springs are under-slung to improve roadability. Alemite fittings insure positive lubrication and by the use of bronze bushings the life of the shackle bolts is greatly lengthened.

The new channel steel frame is 38 inches longer, is stronger and has five sturdy cross members instead of four.

Many features which make for comfort and convenience have been incorporated in the new bodies. The open bodies are roomier, the front seat has been tilted back at the top for more comfortable seating, the spring constructed in the seats has been substantially improved, the rear cushion seat has been lowered at the back, the tonneau floor boards have been lowered and the front section placed at an angle to serve as foot rest.

All closed bodies are built by Fisher and have the rounded curves and graceful lines that have come to be associated with all products of this company. They have the "VV" one-piece windshield, with regulator located above the windshield and automatic windshield wiper, controlled from the dash. This new windshield affords unobstructed vision and perfect ventilation. All closed cars have new type metal door checks, operating at the top of the doors.

There is a dome light in coach and sedan and robe rail in sedan.

All body types are equipped with cowl lights and new instrument board refined and designed for maximum leg room.

The windshield in the open body types has been so changed that the rubber weather stripping between the upper and lower windshield can in no way interfere with vision.

All bodies are finished in Duco, the new and lustrous finish which retains its gloss indefinitely and is practically impervious to damage. Chevrolet is the lowest priced car to introduce Duco finish on all its standard body types.

Another innovation, particularly in the low-priced field, is the finishing of all Chevrolet cars in beautiful colors. The touring, roadster and coach are finished in a rich, dark blue; the sedan is aquamarine blue with upper panels in black, and the coupe is sage green in the lower panels and hood and black on the upper panels. Fenders on all the models are in black.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead o serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creoote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion s a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Given Wrong Tip.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — Three Belmont county deputy sheriffs were called to Miday on Christmas night, the report being that a gang of "drunks" had blocked a road. The deputies found a crew of telephone repairmen, who had been working to replace wires broken by the cold weather, trying to get a truck back onto the highway. The truck had skidded off the road. The deputies played the good samaritan act and helped get the machine back on the road. They then returned to resume their slumbers.

White House Program Safe as Postal Pay Veto is Sustained

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—With the leadership of President Coolidge unshaken the administration's legislative program today faced clear sailing in a congress previously noted for its turbulent opposition.

The victory won by the president when the senate upheld his veto of the postal pay bill, it was said, removed nearly all the opposition to his program. Administration spokesmen declared they would now concentrate their efforts on enacting all imperative legislation in time to adjourn congress on March 4, in accordance with the president's wishes.

By the inauguration of night sessions, in the senate work was speeded up on the consideration of appropriation bills. The interior department bill was passed without serious delay last night and plans were laid to enact both the postoffice and treasury department bills at future night sessions. In the house, the administration's drive was confined to speeding up the drafting of other appropriation bills.

WYOMING'S EX-GOVERNOR MAY ENTER CABINET

ROBERT DAVIS CAREY IS LIKELY SELECTION FOR AGRICULTURAL JOB

White House Leans Strongly Toward Appointment of Chairman of President's Fact-finding Commission to Succeed H. M. Gore.

FIRST WILL ACT AS ASSISTANT

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Robert Davis Carey, former governor of Wyoming and present chairman of the president's agricultural fact-finding commission, appeared today a likely selection for the secretaryship of agriculture after March 4, next.

Although President Coolidge has made no definite decisions as to who shall succeed Howard M. Gore, the present secretary, it was made known at the White House that the executive is leaning very strongly toward the appointment of Carey.

Month's Work Mapped Out.

Under the president's plan, the man who will assume the agriculture portfolio first will be appointed assistant secretary to enable him to "get his hand in" at the job. Therefore, if Governor Carey is Mr. Coolidge's final selection his appointment to that post may be expected within the next 30 days.

Carey's duties as chairman of the agriculture committee probably will hold his attention for at least a month. The commission has just reconvened to map out a program of farm aid for submission to congress and it has been indicated that this work will take until the first of February at the earliest. With the knowledge he already has of the agricultural situation, however, it is pointed out that Governor Carey could become extremely well versed in the duties of the department in a month.

Coolidge Knows His Views.

The record of Carey from the Agrarian's standpoint is an impressive one. Fifty-six years of age, virtually all of his life he had been associated in one way or another with farm enterprises. From 1919 to 1923, he served as governor of his state. He graduated from Yale in 1900.

President Coolidge has held numerous conferences with Gov. Carey since the latter's assumption of the chairmanship of the agricultural committee and he is well acquainted with the LONDON, Jan. 7.—Although United States Ambassador Kellogg was in Paris today, counsellor Sterling of the United States embassy issued a statement today denying that Kellogg was recalled and appointed United States attorney general.

The proposed emergency ordinance "authorizing the appointment of detectives to enforce the prohibition laws" took another step nearer enactment, when council, at a special session, last evening approved the measure on second reading by a vote of 5 to 2.

Blocked by Councilmen N. P. Kerr and Thomas Farrall, sponsors of the ordinance lacked the necessary three-fourths vote to suspend the rules and enact the measure on third and final reading. The measure will likely be considered at the regular meeting of the municipal body next Friday evening.

Last night's special meeting was for the sole purpose of considering the detective measure, which was approved by Mayor Charles Brown "to enforce the liquor ordinance." The bill was passed on first reading at a meeting on December 26.

Farrall Attacks Legislation.

Councilman Farrall turned his guns on the measure immediately after Councilman J. R. Chambers moved that the ordinance be taken up for consideration.

Man, Who Learned Law Never Forgets, Plans to Start Anew

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—On his departure today for Mount Holly, N. J., to face a 14-year-old embezzlement charge, Clifford S. Heller, the man who learned that the law never forgets, declared he would come back to Detroit to start anew.

Heller, arrested here shortly before Christmas, following a search by the law leading through several countries, was cashier in a bank in the little eastern town. One night, while his wife and two children waited in their comfortable home for his return, and while the trusting citizens of Mount Holly smiled with content at the industry betokened by the cashier's light burning in the bank, he slipped away from all his associations. The next day bank officials discovered $18,000 of the bank's money was also missing.

A few years ago Heller, known as Luther Smith, was established as a prosperous business man in Detroit, married, and apparently forgotten. But the law never forgets. Today Heller returns to New Jersey.

76-Year-Old Inmate of County Home, At Lisbon, Hangs Self

Funeral services for John Myler, 76, inmate of the county home, near Lisbon, who committed suicide by hanging, were conducted at the county farm, this afternoon, in charge of Rev. Peter McCauley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Lisbon. Burial was made in the county farm cemetery.

County home officials today were unable to assign a reason for Myler's act, unless it was failing health. In recent weeks he appeared to be worrying.

Myler has been an inmate of the county farm for 32 years having been admitted on February 14, 1892. He claimed that he had been a native of Pennsylvania, but that he was without a home, near relatives or friends.

He retired at the usual time Monday night, but when his room was found empty, Tuesday morning, a search was instituted. His body was found hanging to the rafters in the chicken house on the farm.

GIRL COASTER DIES IN CRASH

Archie Hahn, Father, Seriously Injured in Homeworth Accident.

Phoebe Hahn, nine-year-old Homeworth girl, is dead today as a result of a coasting accident at Homeworth, in the western section of Columbiana county, Monday night.

Archie Hahn, father of the child, suffered a compound fracture of his right arm, a broken collar bone and injuries about the head and face. He is in the Alliance hospital.

The child, whose mother died four years ago, and her father, were sledding on the steep hill, just west of Homeworth, when the accident occurred.

An automobile, driven by Jesse W. Fraedley of Homeworth was enroute up the hill, when the Hahn girl, believed to have been blinded by the headlights on the machine, steered her sled directly into the machine. Her skull was crushed and death ensued within a few minutes after she was removed to her home.

Besides her father, the child is survived by a brother, Halden, and one sister, Pearl.

Nazarene Church Leases K. & M. Room; Services Tonight

Members of the church of the Nazarene, which has been worshipping in temporary quarters in the Ikirt building, while a new church edifice is under construction, has obtained a lease on the room, formerly occupied by the K. & M. Dollar store, East Fifth street.

The congregation is moving its property into the new quarters today and will hold its initial service there at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Work on the new church building, which occupies the site of the old structure near the corner of St. Clair and Lincoln avenues, was started in the fall. Cold weather has held up building operations and the church will not likely be completed and ready for occupancy before the later part of spring.

BY M. K. ZIMERMAN.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 7.—Less shopping and more buying characterized the opening of the annual glass and pottery exposition than was the general rule the first few days last year. Buyers reported that home stocks of both domestic dinnerware and glassware were almost exhausted during the holiday season.

Between 150 and 200 buyers registered at the Ft. Pitt hotel from Monday until noon Wednesday. Among them representatives of the largest distributing interests in the country. The majority of the visitors began to place business.

Foreign Products Flood In 1924.

For some years orders for glassware have been the first thought of many buyers when they arrive in the market, and then attention is given to dinnerware, stoneware and art pottery.

Last year the buying season opened with a rush, and both manufacturers and salesmen held high hopes that the same situation would prevail throughout the year. Seemingly without reason there was a lull in the demand for both these lines that continued until late last fall.

Demand for merchandise even then was slow, compared with previous seasons. A flood of imported china and glass affected the demand for domestic lines. Fall buying, which was conservative, did not put enough stocks in the hands of the distributors to "carry over" into 1925, following holiday sales. As a result, merchandise is needed now.

Displays in Two Hotels.

Manufacturers only are showing their lines in the Ft. Pitt hotel this year, and while a number of sales agencies and manufacturers are displaying offerings at the William Penn hotel. There are but two lines at the Hotel Henry, one of these being the New Cumberland, (W. Va.) Glass Co.

France Urges Debt Conference be Held in Brussels.

By FRANK E. MASON.

PARIS, Jan. 7—France and Great Britain are in complete accord on matters which will come today before the allied financial conference, it was indicated following a conference between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchhill of England.

Following a two-hour conference of the two men, an official statement was issued which said:

Urges Conference in Brussels.

French officials are willing that an inter-allied debt conference be held in Brussels during March, but such a conference with American representatives absent would be "useless," officials declared.

Before any definite steps could be taken for holding a conference in Brussels the subject would have to be taken up with Washington and this has not been done, it was said in official circles.

Any suggestion at this time on the part of Great Britain or any other nation for such a conference therefore would be "premateur," it was said.

The Franco-American debt situatica and America's "legal" right to a share of the receipts derived through the Dawes' plan were paramount, in the eyes of diplomats, to all other matters scheduled to come before the allied financial conference.

Ostensibly the conference is being held to work out a new division of German reparations. Actually, according to diplomatic observers, it will ac-

By SONIA LEE.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 7—There are many games to play.
Sometimes you win,
Sometimes you lose.

Elsie Sweetin lost, and today at 6 o'clock a clanging bell woke her to a still-dark morning and reminded her that this was her day—the day when she began her reckoning in Joliet penitentiary for the murder of her husband, Wilford, that she might possess the unholy minister, Lawrence M. Hight.

Washes Prisoners' Shirts

For 35 years, a jury has said to this woman of Ina, she shall forget her name. She shall become a number. And so numbers—9521—she will bear. And there—will be no softness for her. There will be no yellow bungalow with roses to train over the porch and three children to quiet.

Early today Bertillion measurements were taken. Elsie Sweetin's face, full view and profile, became part of the criminal records of the state of Illinois.

Tomorrow she will be measured for her suit of gingham, a physician will examine her and she will be told that her work will consist of washing the drab shirts of the men prisoners. Perhaps she will get small comfort from the knowledge that the unfrocked minister, sentenced to life imprisonment, is on the rock pile. Not to him is it given to save the souls of his fellow prisoners and thus to save his own.

Late yesterday she was brought to the prison by Sheriff and Mrs. Grant Holcomb of Mt. Vernon. In Warden Whitman's office her committment papers were examined and then, still in custody of the sheriff, she walked across to the woman's prison.

"I am innocent," She Cries

Her steps faltered and her mouth devoured the air. A street car passing halted the procession. The gray stone parapets loomed and the woman who had ruggedly connived to kill that her desires might be satiated cowered before the walls that were to shut her in.

She reiterates her innocence as her litany.

"No, I am innocent," she cries ceaselessly. "I am going to write letters. I shall ask all the people who have written me from all over the country and have offered to help to get me out of jail. Stay here? No, indeed may be until March. Maybe not that long."

The childish pout which had so troubled the heart of the minister rests on her lips. Her eyes are mutinous.

Finds Hardest Taskmaster

"What chance has a woman?" she cries in revolt.

Below in the hall the 48 women who will be her new friends—thieves, killers, blackmailers—sing a 'hymn led by two Sisters of Charity. Their voices are free in resignation. Their cells down the line are crisp in starched linen and artificial flowers.

But Elsie's cell holds only her tears.

She is finding the hardest taskmaster—retribution.

BY M. K. ZIMERMAN.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 7.—Less shopping and more buying characterized the opening of the annual glass and pottery exposition than was the general rule the first few days last year. Buyers reported that home stocks of both domestic dinnerware and glassware were almost exhausted during the holiday season.

Between 150 and 200 buyers registered at the Ft. Pitt hotel from Monday until noon Wednesday. Among them representatives of the largest distributing interests in the country. The majority of the visitors began to place business.

Foreign Products Flood In 1924.

For some years orders for glassware have been the first thought of many buyers when they arrive in the market, and then attention is given to dinnerware, stoneware and art pottery.

Last year the buying season opened with a rush, and both manufacturers and salesmen held high hopes that the same situation would prevail throughout the year. Seemingly without reason there was a lull in the demand for both these lines that continued until late last fall.

Demand for merchandise even then was slow, compared with previous seasons. A flood of imported china and glass affected the demand for domestic lines. Fall buying, which was conservative, did not put enough stocks in the hands of the distributors to "carry over" into 1925, following holiday sales. As a result, merchandise is needed now.

Displays in Two Hotels.

Manufacturers only are showing their lines in the Ft. Pitt hotel this year, and while a number of sales agencies and manufacturers are displaying offerings at the William Penn hotel. There are but two lines at the Hotel Henry, one of these being the New Cumberland, (W. Va.) Glass Co.

GIRL COASTER DIES IN CRASH

Archie Hahn, Father, Seriously Injured in Homeworth Accident.

Phoebe Hahn, nine-year-old Homeworth girl, is dead today as a result of a coasting accident at Homeworth, in the western section of Columbiana county, Monday night.

Archie Hahn, father of the child, suffered a compound fracture of his right arm, a broken collar bone and injuries about the head and face. He is in the Alliance hospital.

The child, whose mother died four years ago, and her father, were sledding on the steep hill, just west of Homeworth, when the accident occurred.

An automobile, driven by Jesse W. Fraedley of Homeworth was enroute up the hill, when the Hahn girl, believed to have been blinded by the headlights on the machine, steered her sled directly into the machine. Her skull was crushed and death ensued within a few minutes after she was removed to her home.

Besides her father, the child is survived by a brother, Halden, and one sister, Pearl.

Nazarene Church Leases K. & M. Room; Services Tonight

Members of the church of the Nazarene, which has been worshipping in temporary quarters in the Ikirt building, while a new church edifice is under construction, has obtained a lease on the room, formerly occupied by the K. & M. Dollar store, East Fifth street.

The congregation is moving its property into the new quarters today and will hold its initial service there at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Work on the new church building, which occupies the site of the old structure near the corner of St. Clair and Lincoln avenues, was started in the fall. Cold weather has held up building operations and the church will not likely be completed and ready for occupancy before the later part of spring.

LONDON, PARIS ARE IN ACCORD AS U. S. PRESSES DEBT CLAIMS

Clementel-Churchill Love Meet Precedes Allied Parley.

France Urges Debt Conference be Held in Brussels.

By FRANK E. MASON.

PARIS, Jan. 7—France and Great Britain are in complete accord on matters which will come today before the allied financial conference, it was indicated following a conference between Finance Minister Clementel and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchhill of England.

Following a two-hour conference of the two men, an official statement was issued which said:

Urges Conference in Brussels.

French officials are willing that an inter-allied debt conference be held in Brussels during March, but such a conference with American representatives absent would be "useless," officials declared.

Before any definite steps could be taken for holding a conference in Brussels the subject would have to be taken up with Washington and this has not been done, it was said in official circles.

Any suggestion at this time on the part of Great Britain or any other nation for such a conference therefore would be "premateur," it was said.

The Franco-American debt situation and America's "legal" right to a share of the receipts derived through the Dawes' plan were paramount, in the eyes of diplomats, to all other matters scheduled to come before the allied financial conference.

Ostensibly the conference is being held to work out a new division of German reparations. Actually, according to diplomatic observers, it will ac-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7—In response to dramatic demands from his own colleagues, Senator Dial, Democrat of South Carolina, today withdrew from the record his speech of last week in which he viciously assailed his own party and declared that President Coolidge was "a better Democrat" than the Democrats in congress.

Withdrawal came only after Senator Robinson, Democrat of Arkansas, and Senator Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, had denounced Dial for making the speech.

By SONIA LEE.

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 7—There are many games to play.

Sometimes you win,

Sometimes you lose.

Elsie Sweetin lost, and today at 6 o'clock a clanging bell woke her to a still-dark morning and reminded her that this was her day—the day when she began her reckoning in Joliet penitentiary for the murder of her husband, Wilford, that she might possess the unholy minister, Lawrence M. Hight.

Washes Prisoners' Shirts

For 35 years, a jury has said to this woman of ina, she shall forget her name. She shall become a number. And so numbers—9521—she will bear. And there—will be no softness for her. There will be no yellow bungalow with roses to train over the porch and three children to quiet.

Early today Bertillon measurements were taken. Elsie Sweetin's face, full view and profile, became part of the criminal records of the state of Illinois.

Tomorrow she will be measured for her suit of gingham, a physician will examine her and she will be told that her work will consist of washing the drab shirts of the men prisoners. Perhaps she will get small comfort from the knowledge that the unfrocked minister, sentenced to life imprisonment, is on the rock pile. Not to him is it given to save the souls of his fellow prisoners and thus to save his own.

Late yesterday she was brought to the prison by Sheriff and Mrs. Grant Holcomb of Mt. Vernon. In Warden Whitman's office her committment papers were examined and then, still in custody of the sheriff, she walked across to the woman's prison.

"I am innocent," She Cries

Her steps faltered and her mouth devoured the air. A street car passing halted the procession. The gray stone parapets loomed and the woman who had ruggedly connived to kill that her desires might be satiated cowered before the walls that were to shut her in.

She reiterates her innocence as her litany.

"No, I am innocent," she cries ceaselessly. "I am going to write letters. I shall ask all the people who have written me from all over the country and have offered to help to get me out of jail. Stay here? No, indeed may be until March. Maybe not that long."

The childish pout which had so troubled the heart of the minister rests on her lips. Her eyes are mutinous.

Finds Hardest Taskmaster

"What chance has a woman?" she cries in revolt.

Below in the hall the 48 women who will be her new friends—thieves, killers, blackmailers—sing a hymn led by two Sisters of Charity. Their voices are free in resignation. Their cells down the line are crisp in starched linen and artificial flowers.

But Elsie's cell holds only her tears.

Navigation on Upper Ohio River at Standstill.

Navigation on the upper Ohio river is at a standstill, as the result of the low water stage—the lowest in several years.

Engineers at Lock No. 8, west of here announced a stage of 7.5 feet today. During the winter of 1917-18 the river is said to have fallen to this mark.

The wickets at the dam were lowered before Christmas and because of the severe weather which caused ice to form in the river, government dam employes have been unable to raise them. Boats ceased running about a week ago and will be unable to operate until the wickets are raised or heavy rains fall.

Workers at the dam said that the wickets at Locks No. 9 and 10 were to be raised today and that they would be raised at Dam No. 7 and 8 tomorrow. Because of repairs which are being made to Dam No. 4 at Legionville, navigation to Pittsburgh will not likely be regumed before next Sunday or Monday.

Despite the low stage, which is said to be affecting Mingo and other river communities, the water supply is in no danger here, City Chemist Daniel H. Rupp declared. Water at the present time is being pumped from an emergency intake, located in the deepest part of the river channel.

Operations at the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel Compnay are being affected by the low stage. Barges are now being unloaded at the foot of Market street and material hauled to loading station near the foot of Jefferson street. This situation will be remedied as soon as the dam wickets are raised, it was stated.

In every display room at both these hotels is a large printed streamer "Keep the Home Fires Burning." These signs were designed by William C. Lynch of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., of Chester. These signs have been placed in eveery sample room in East Liverpool.

The certificate plan which had been proposed by the Association this year, which would provide a half-rate railroad fare on the return trip was cancelled by the Traffic association Jan. 1, without notice to the Western Glass and Pottery Association. Why this agreement was not permitted to stand has not been explained.

Some buyers visited the East Liverpool district Tuesday, while another crowd went there today. The real rush is expected next week.

The Exposition will close Jan. 24.

William E. Owen, formerly New York state salesman for the Potters' Co-Operative Co., and admittedly the oldest pottery salesmen now in harness, is again back with this firm. For the last few years Mr. Owen has been associated with the Empire China Co., at Burbank, Calif. He is a brother of the late George C. Owen of East Liverpool.

Music By 60-Voice Choir Features Evangelistic Meet

Rev. W. J. Lockhart, Des Moines, Ia., Preaches on "Backsliders" at Church of Christ.

Music by a choir of 60 voices featured Tuesday night's Lockhart-Harbinson revival service at the First Church of Christ.

The choir was directed by J. Frank Harbinson, musical director with the evangelistic party. The song director also pleased with a solo selection "The Bird With a Broken Pinion" during the service.

Evangelist W. J. Lockhart, of Des Moines, Iowa, preached on the subject of "Backsliders." Tonight his theme will be "The Transformed Church." A special service to "mothers" will be held Friday evening and Sunday afternoon, the evangelist will speak to men only.

Evangelist Lockhart is not a large man or striking in appearance to those who have never heard him preach. He is black-haired and has a dark complexion, with blue, piercing eyes. But when he starts to preach, in fact from the moment he leaves his place among the preachers and stands before the people, there is a sudden strange change that seems to come upon the man. He is suddenly transformed and a new magnetic power rivets the attention of the great crowd upon him.

Two-thirds of the converts have been men. It is no' that he does not appeal to women. He does.

In his last night's sermon, Dr. Lockhart said:

"If I came to you and said "They tell me you are a liar, you would grow angry and flash back: Who said I was a liar?' If I came to you and said, 'They hell me you are dishonest and won't stand by an agreement,' you turn red in the face with anger and said, 'They tell me you are dishonest But I come to you and say 'They tell me you are an old backslider,' and you smile a sickly sort of a smile and say, "Well, Mr. Lockhart, I guess that is about right.'

"But did you not one time promise God you were going to be true to him all your life and have you no led to God, and did you not enter into a solemn obligation when you took the vow of the church, and have you not broken your covenant and renounced your honest obligation and been dishonest with God? Know therefore that it is an evil and bitter thing that thou has forsaken Jehovah thy God and that his fear is not any more in thee.

"You ask me why there are so many backsliders and I am going to let Jesus answer this for you. In the parable of the sower He tells of the three classes who are lost, the one who never allows the good seed to enter his life, the one who does and does not stand because of shallowness of life and one who allows the thorns to grow up and choke out the good seed.

"My friends I could read this story in a way to close the church door and take all heart out of these meetings if I emphasized the first three classes alluded to, and say, 'What is the use of sowing anywhere?' But some seed fell into good ground and brought forth good fruit.'

"I do not know what became of the ninety and nine others among the hundred that were converted in the revival at Kingman, Kans., thirty years ago but I know one boy into whose soul the good seed fell and if all the others had backslid, to me that was a great investment those men made when they put their money into the campaign that called me to my Lord."

Alpena, Mich., Awaits Resumption of Scott Divorce Sensation

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 7.—This city is composing itself today to await as patiently as it can the resumption on March 10, of the divorce hearing in which Representative Frank D. Scott has charged that his wife, Edna James Scott, drank and flirted with many men, from army officers to a hotel clerk, while she countered with tales of extensive drinking and gambling by Scott and his colleagues in congress.

Representative Scott is preparing to leave at once for Washington. With him will go his secretary for the past 15 years, Miss Jane Kennedy, who broke up their home, Mrs. Scott declared, by "false and malicious talebearing."

Mrs. Scott has returned to Detroit.

"I am determined to fight to the end with the limited funds I possess, to prove that my husband has treated me unfairly and cruelly," she said.

complish nothing of the kind. The best that can be hoped of the conference, they say, is that it will furnish grounds for a much broader conference of the Allies, and one at which the whole problem of war debts and reparations could be taken up.

U. S. Representatives Present.

The United States is represented by Ambassador Herrick and Ambassador Kellogg, the latter of whom came from London especially for the conference. Col. John Logan, observer on the reparations commission, also is present.

Strenuous opposition to the American claim is expected to come from England. It has been the British contention that America should not participate in the German reparations because America did not sign the treaty of Versailles.

America should collect its war claims from German private property taken during the war by the alien property custodian, England holds. The United States proposes to return this seized property, observers pointed out, and will insist on sharing in German reparations.

GEN. WOOD PLANS TO QUIT POST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, has indicated to President Coolidge his desire to retire from the post, according to persistent reports circulated here today. Neither the white house nor the war department would confirm the reports.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Another heavy buying movement swept over the stock market in the early trading today and prices of industrial and railroad stocks jumped into higher levels. Numerous stocks advanced more than a point on initial sales and, in the case of stocks with powerful pool backing, the gains ran all the way to three points. Rails were again conspicuous for their activity and strength in this period, with New York Central going through to another "top" at 124½, theh ighest since 1910, when the stock sold at 128.

Wall Street inferred that a favorable country-wide impression had been created by the boosting of dividends on Atchison and American Smelting, the increase in the operation rate of the important steel manufacturers, the decline in call money to three per cent, and the gearing up of manufacturing plants generally for larger production this year. As a result, another heavy influx of out-side buying orders flowed into the stock market and prices moved upward briskly.

OHIO PHONE WEEK PROGRAM

Open House Will be Maintained at Bell Exchange.

Open house to the public will be maintained by the East Liverpool exchange of the Ohio Bell Telephone company during the week of January 12-17, in keeping with a state-wide observance of "Ohio Telephone Week," Frank Swaney, commercial manager, announced today.

The company will make a special effort to give telephone subscribers an opportunity to see just how the system functions. Representatives of all lines of telephone work will be on duty at the exchange.

"It is the desire of the company that every one of our subscribers in East Liverpool pay us a visit and see just how their calls are actually handled over a regular switchboard," said Mr. Swaney. "We believe that such a visit will not only prove exceedingly interesting to our subscribers but beneficial as well. In our office will be equipment displays showing various material that go into the telephone instruments, parts of cable and many other articles of interest."

The four divisions making up the Ohio Bell Telephone system are endeavoring to outdo each other in the number of visitors calling at the office during the week. East Liverpool is situated in the eastern division.

"Ohio Telephone Week," observed in this state last year for the first time, prooved such a big success that the telephone company has decided to make it an annual event in each community where a telephone exchange is maintained.

"Bringing Up Father," Famed Cartoon Show, Here on Saturday

"Bringing Up Father," George McManus' world famed cartoon characters, will appear in person at the Ceramic Theatre on Saturday, Matinee and night. "Jiggs and Maggie" have now become a couple of inveterate Globe Trotters, as well as society scions. "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is the title of their latest exploit. McManus should have dubbed his inimitable characters "The Tragedy of the Rolling Pin." As I very much fear that the example Maggie has set for young wives, flavors somewhat of dire tragedy. I would suggest that Maggie changes her weapon to boxing gloves, the example will be more timely and will give the recreant young husband a slim chance for his life.

"Bringing Up Father" has become a National Institution, theatergoers look forward to their annual visit with a great deal of pleasure, knowing that the entertainment was created for laughing purposes only Requiring no great stretch of imagination, and offering no deep and dark problems to solve. George McManus believes that the people have sufficient tragedy in their everyday lives without drawing upon the imagination for a new thrill. "Laugh—and the crowd laughs with you." "Grouch—and you'll grouch alone. "This was coined from old material by "Jiggs" himself. When "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is announced at the Ceramic, make it a point to secure seats for the entire family, at once. Comedy, girls and music, with ample and sufficient scenic and electrical environment to make the entire presentation pleasing to the eye as well as the ear, and send one home with a good taste in your mouth, and a spark of hilarity in your nature. You don't yawn to keep awake after seeing "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" as you do after seeing a picture in a darkened theatre. You go out whistling the tunes you have heard and with a feeling of "oop" sufficient to last all the next day.

The two are agreed in that they regard the present plight of the American farmer as one which fundamentally must right itself throughout the workings of the economic laws. Also, Carey is in accord with the President with respect to co-operative marketing, loked upon by both as one of the basic principles to be applied to the agricultural problem.

was opposed to the measure because it was "commercializing the liquor traffic."

"The mayor wants this ordinance adopted so that he can use the money in the 10 percent fund to buy liquor from the bootlegger in order to obtain the evidence," said Solon Kerr. "What's to prevent these men from planting a gallon of whiskey in some innocent party's machine—some person against whom they have a grudge, then arrest him for violation of the law? The evidence would be against him and he would be found guilty. A uniformed policeman would be detected the minute he stepped up to a machine, but not so with a plain-clothes man.

"If we pass this ordinance we are doing something ourselves which is a direct violation of the law. I am in favor of curbing the liquor traffic, but believe in going after it in the right way. This ordinance will not help conditions. This measure will invite trouble in the city. I further opose the measure because of the emergency clause, which takes away the people's referendum privileges."

Pottery Company's Protest.

Upon roll call, Councilmen Chambers, Rowe, Eardley, Larcomb and Hayes voted "yea," while Solons Kerr and Farrall voted "nay." The legislators lined up in the same manner in the balloting on the motion to suspend the rules.

The Cartwright Brothers' Pottery company filed a protest with council against the Pennsylvania Railroad company's blocking of Peach alley, which is the main approach to their plant. Company officials declared they had been informed that council had granted the railroad permission or right in permitting the construction of many warehouses to the new Hepps & Company on Second street.

The communication was referred to the streets committee, who will go over the ground with Safety Director Ellis next Sunday afternoon in an effort to adjust matters. Council claims the railroad company was granted permission to cross the alley but not to block it.

Muffs Once Used by Men.

Gentlemen of style wore muffs in the seventeenth century and they were considered the symbol of fashionable estate. Muff manufacturers have pointed this out in refuting the occasional reports that the muff was going out of style. They say it comes and goes in cycles and that in another year or two they will be as popular as they were a decade ago.

BOATS HALTED BY LOW WATER

Navigation on Upper Ohio River at Standstill.

Navigation on the upper Ohio river is at a standstill, as the result of the low water stage—the lowest in several years.

Engineers at Lock No. 8, west of here announced a stage of 7.5 feet today. During the winter of 1917-18 the river is said to have fallen to this mark.

The wickets at the dam were lowered before Christmas and because of the severe weather which caused ice to form in the river, government dam employes have been unable to raise them. Boats ceased running about a week ago and will be unable to operate until the wickets are raised or heavy rains fall.

Workers at the dam said that the wickets at Locks No. 9 and 10 were to be raised today and that they would be raised at Dam No. 7 and 8 tomorrow. Because of repairs which are being made to Dam No. 4 at Legionville, navigation to Pittsburgh will not likely be resumed before next Sunday or Monday.

Despite the low stage, which is said to be affecting Mingo and other river communities, the water supply is in no danger here, City Chemist Daniel H. Rupp declared. Water at the present time is being pumped from an emergency intake, located in the deepest part of the river channel.

Operations at the East Liverpool Sand and Gravel Compnay are being affected by the low stage. Barges are now being unloaded at the foot of Market street and material hauled to loading station near the foot of Jefferson street. This situation will be remedied as soon as the dam wickets are raised, it was stated.

In every display room at both these hotels is a large printed streamer "Keep the Home Fires Burning." These signs were designed by William C. Lynch of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., of Chester. These signs have been placed in eveery sample room in East Liverpool.

The certificate plan which had been proposed by the Association this year, which would provide a half-rate railroad fare on the return trip was cancelled by the Traffic association Jan. 1, without notice to the Western Glass and Pottery Association. Why this agreement was not permitted to stand has not been explained.

Some buyers visited the East Liverpool district Tuesday, while another crowd went there today. The real rush is expected next week.

The Exposition will close Jan. 24.

William E. Owen, formerly New York state salesman for the Potters' Co-Operative Co., and admittedly the oldest pottery salesmen now in harness, is again back with this firm. For the last few years Mr. Owen has been associated with the Empire China Co., at Burbank, Calif. He is a brother of the late George C. Owen of East Liverpool.

Music By 60-Voice Choir Features Evangelistic Meet

Rev. W. J. Lockhart, Des Moines, Ia., Preaches on "Backsliders" at Church of Christ.

Music by a choir of 60 voices featured Tuesday night's Lockhart-Harbinson revival service at the First Church of Christ.

The choir was directed by J. Frank Harbinson, musical director with the evangelistic party. The song director also pleased with a solo selection "The Bird With a Broken Pinion" during the service.

Evangelist W. J. Lockhart, of Des Moines, Iowa, preached on the subject of "Backsliders." Tonight his theme will be "The Transformed Church." A special service to "mothers" will be held Friday evening and Sunday afternoon, the evangelist will speak to men only.

Evangelist Lockhart is not a large man or striking in appearance to those who have never heard him preach. He is black-haired and has a dark complexion, with blue, piercing eyes. But when he starts to preach, in fact from the moment he leaves his place among the preachers and stands before the people, there is a sudden strange change that seems to come upon the man. He is suddenly transformed and a new magnetic power rivets the attention of the great crowd upon him.

Two-thirds of the converts have been men. It is no' that he does not appeal to women He does.

In his last night's sermon, Dr. Lockhart said:

"If I came to you and said "They tell me you are a liar, you would grow angry and flash back: Who said I was a liar?' If I came to you and said, 'They hell me you are dishonest and won't stand by an agreement,' you turn red in the face with anger and said, 'They tell me you are dishonest But I come to you and say 'They tell me you are an old backslider,' and you smile a sickly sort of a smile and say, "Well, Mr. Lockhart, I guess that is about right.'

"But did you not one time promise God you were going to be true to him all your life and have you no led to God, and did you not enter into a solemn obligation when you took the vow of the church, and have you not broken your covenant and renounced your honest obligation and been dishonest with God? Know therefore that it is an evil and bitter thing that thou has forsaken Jehovah thy God and that his fear is not any more in thee.

"You ask me why there are so many backsliders and I am going to let Jesus answer this for you. In the parable of the sower He tells of the three classes who are lost, the one who never allows the good seed to enter his life, the one who does and does not stand because of shallowness of life and one who allows the thorns to grow up and choke out the good seed.

"My friends I could read this story in a way to close the church door and take all heart out of these meetings if I emphasized the first three classes alluded to, and say. 'What is the use of sowing anywhere?' But some seed fell into good ground and brought forth good fruit.'

"I do not know what became of the ninety and nine others among the hundred that were converted in the revival at Kingman, Kans., thirty years ago but I know one boy into whose soul the good seed fell and if all the others had backslid, to me that was a great investment those men made when they put their money into the campaign that called me to my Lord."

Alpena, Mich., Awaits Resumption of Scott Divorce Sensation

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 7.—This city is composing itself today to await as patiently as it can the resumption on March 10, of the divorce hearing in which Representative Frank D. Scott has charged that his wife, Edna James Scott, drank and flirted with many men, from army officers to a hotel clerk, while she countered with tales of extensive drinking and gambling by Scott and his colleagues in congress.

Representative Scott is preparing to leave at once for Washington. With him will go his secretary for the past 15 years, Miss Jane Kennedy, who broke up their home, Mrs. Scott declared, by "false and malicious talebearing."

Mrs. Scott has returned to Detroit.

"I am determined to fight to the end with the limited funds I possess, to prove that my husband has treated me unfairly and cruelly," she said.

complish nothing of the kind. The best that can be hoped of the conference, they say, is that it will furnish grounds for a much broader conference of the Allies, and one at which the whole problem of war debts and reparations could be taken up.

U. S. Representatives Present.

The United States is represented by Ambassador Herrick and Ambassador Kellogg, the latter of whom came from London especially for the conference. Col. John Logan, observer on the reparations commission, also is present.

Strenuous opposition to the American claim is expected to come from England. It has been the British contention that America should not participate in the German reparations because America did not sign the treaty of Versailles.

America should collect its war claims from German private property taken during the war by the alien property custodian, England holds. The United States proposes to return this seized property, observers pointed out, and will insist on sharing in German reparations.

A bill has been presented in the British house of commons making it unlawful for pedestrians to walk on the right side of a foot path.

GEN. WOOD PLANS TO QUIT POST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, has indicated to President Coolidge his desire to retire from the post, according to persistent reports circulated here today. Neither the white house nor the war department would confirm the reports.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Another heavy buying movement swept over the stock market in the early trading today and prices of industrial and railroad stocks jumped into higher levels. Numerous stocks advanced more than a point on initial sales and, in the case of stocks with powerful pool backing, the gains ran all the way to three points. Rails were again conspicuous for their activity and strength in this period, with New York Central going through to another "top" at 124½, theh ighest since 1910, when the stock sold at 128.

Wall Street inferred that a favorable country-wide impression had been created by the boosting of dividends on Atchison and American Smelting, the increase in the operation rate of the important steel manufacturers, the decline in call money to three per cent, and the gearing up of manufacturing plants generally for larger production this year. As a result, another heavy influx of out-side buying orders flowed into the stock market and prices moved upward briskly.

Open house to the public will be maintained by the East Liverpool exchange of the Ohio Bell Telephone company during the week of January 12-17, in keeping with a state-wide observance of "Ohio Telephone Week," Frank Swaney, commercial manager, announced today.

"It is the desire of the company that every one of our subscribers in East Liverpool pay us a visit and see just how their calls are actually handled over a regular switchboard," said Mr. Swaney. In our office will be equipment displays showing various material that go into the telephone instruments, parts of cable and many other articles of interest."

The four divisions making up the Ohio Bell Telephone system are endeavoring to outdo each other in the number of visitors calling at the office during the week. East Liverpool is situated in the eastern division.

"Ohio Telephone Week," observed in this state last year for the first time, prooved such a big success that the telephone company has decided to make it an annual event in each community where a telephone exchange is maintained.

"Bringing Up Father," Famed Cartoon Show, Here on Saturday

"Bringing Up Father," George McManus' world famed cartoon characters, will appear in person at the Ceramic Theatre on Saturday, Matinee and night. "Jiggs and Maggie" have now become a couple of inveterate Globe Trotters, as well as society scions. "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is the title of their latest exploit. McManus should have dubbed his inimitable characters "The Tragedy of the Rolling Pin." As I very much fear that the example Maggie has set for young wives, flavors somewhat of dire tragedy, I would suggest that Maggie changes her weapon to boxing gloves, the example will be more timely and will give the recreant young husband a slim chance for his life.

"Bringing Up Father" has become a National Institution, theatergoers look forward to their annual visit with a great deal of pleasure, knowing that the entertainment was created for laughing purposes only Requiring no great stretch of imagination, and offering no deep and dark problems to solve. George McManus believes that the people have sufficient tragedy in their everyday lives without drawing upon the imagination for a new thrill. "Laugh—and the crowd laughs with you." "Grouch—and you'll grouch alone, "This was coined from old material by "Jiggs" himself. When "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is announced at the Ceramic, make it a point to secure seats for the entire family, at once. Comedy, girls and music, with ample and sufficient scenic and electrical environment to make the entire presentation pleasing to the eye as well as the ear, and send you home with a good taste in your mouth, and a spark of biliarity in your nature. You don't yawn to keep awake after seeing "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" as you do after seeing a picture in a darkened theatre. You go out whistling the tunes you have heard and with a feeling of "nap" sufficient to last all the next day.

A. P. DENNIS IS NEW DIRECTOR

Unable to Devote Time to Work, S. J. Hannum Resigns.

A. P. Dennis, former mayor of Wellsville, who for the past year has been associated with the Sherman Construction Co., in the capacity of pipe line inspector on the new municipal water works system, last night was appointed safety-service director of the city by Mayor James S. Barnes.

Mr. Dennis will succeed Samuel J. Hannum, Main street druggist, whose resignation was placed in the hands of Mayor Barnes yesterday. Hannum's resignation was dated as effective January 6.

In his brief message to the mayor Mr. Hannum declared that he was unable to devote enough of his time to the job and consequently did not feel that he should continue with the work.

Mr. Hannum was named to the office several months ago following council's action combining the posts of service director and safety director. His salary was established at $500 as an economy move.

Mr. Dennis, his successor, who will devote probably his entire attention to the problems of the two departments, will receive a salary of $1,500.

This amount was appropriated by the finance committee of council in anticipation of the movement and last night solons aproved both the appointment and salary. However, a new ordinance will have to be drawn up, repealing the existing ordinance governing the administrative angle of the combined departments, in order that the changes can be made. Council approved C. C. Ewing's motion for a new ordinance to change the salary specifications.

M. H. WILLIAMSON, AGED 87, IS DEAD

Following a short illness, Matthew H. Williamson, aged 87 years, well known resident of the city, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. L. F. Burris, near Hillcrest, death being attributed to complications and infirmities of old age.

He was born on February 7, 1837, in Brooke county, W. Va., near Steubenville.

About 40 years ago he came to Wellsville and established a grocery business in lower Main street which he operated for a number of years. He was an elder in the old Pent church at Cross Creek, W. Va., and later in the United Presbyterian church here.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. James Glass of Burgettstown, Pa., and three children, Mrs. L. F. Burris, Mrs. George Faulk of East Liverpool, and Rev. Charles H. Williamson of Grove City, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at the D. N. MacLean chapel, in Riverside avenue, in charge of Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

Friends may view the body between 10 and 2 tomorrow at the MacLean chapel.

APPROPRIATION BILL IS PASSED

Under suspended rules city council last night approved the appropriations ordinance providing funds for the operation of the city for the first six months of the year. The ordinance calls for a total expenditure of $57,573.

The appropriations in further detail are listed in the following totals, which includes salaries or expenses, or both; council $410; clerk $300; mayor $875; auditor $915; treasurer $275; solicitor $800; elections $20; legal advertising $160; judicial $84; safety, administrative, $165; telephone and telegraph system $25; police department $4,925; fire department $3,885; health $495; sanitary $339; quarantine $225; service fund, administrative, $425; engineering $325; street repairs $10,600 ($8,000 of which will have accrued from auto licenses by March); sidewalks $1,000; street cleaning $1,100; street lighting $6,115; garbage removal $1,085; sewers, ditches and drainage $950; water works, administrative and other $16,210; park fund, playground, $450; service fund, public buildings and land, $2,100; cemeteries $2,815; library $500.

MAYOR ASKS FOR POLICE AUTO

Mayor James S. Barnes and Chief of Police Fultz have requisitioned city council for an automobile for police department use.

And President of Council Frank Blackburn, who was given a taste of police duties in connection with his job as acting mayor during the month or so that Mayor Barnes was in California, sincerely believes the auto should be bought.

He expresses the opinion that a police car, used intelligently, would eventually pay for itself.

Councilman Ewing believes that if a car is bought at all, it should be a good one.

Councilman White evinced interest in the proposition and made a motion last night to the effect that the service-safety director, who in this case will be A. P. Dennis, investigate the auto proposal and report back to council.

WILL NOT MAKE PINE ALLEY STOP

A special Pine alley street car stop, as suggested by Postmaster John McQueen, does not sound attractive to the traction company.

Postmaster McQueen submitted the request for a car stop at the post office alley, to council and council turned it over to the street car company.

A letter from President J. H. Maxwell answered the request. The street car company, Mr. Maxwell says, does not feel justified in making such a stop. The people, he pointed out, want rapid transit, and he declared, the streets are already too congested to permit further stops, especially at such a point. It would be dangerous, he contends, to the public officials of the car company, the letter said, fail to see any hardship connected with the short walk between the alley and either Fifth street or Sixth street, nearest stops. Such an arrangement, Mr. Maxwell says, would be an arrangement only for a minority and so far as car company officials can see, not a suitable arrangement for the majority of the traveling public.

Council placed the letter on file and also received Mayor James S. Barnes' report for the month of December, showing collections of $682.59.

Council approved the appointment of D. W. Morton as a member of the board of health for five years.

ASKS PURCHASE OF FIRE HOSE

New fire hose costing approximately $500 will be added to the equipment at the Central station here as a result of a suggestion by Fire Chief A. W. Phillips.

The purchase of the fire hose was the only recommendation made by Chief Phillips in his annual report, which was read to council last night.

The total value of all property endangered by fire during the year was $288,300, the report said. The actual fire loss amounted to $57,019. Over half this amount, or $36,569 was covered by insurance, however, which left a total uncovered loss of approximately $20,000.

Fifty seven alarms were received during the year, 22 by phone and 35 by box. Two explosions, not originating from fire, were not included in the above figures. No one was injured in any of the fires.

The cost of the purchase of the fire hose, as suggested by Chief Phillips, was covered in the appropriations for the first half of the year.

ADVISE CITY TO FIX CLARK AVE.

If Wellsville will repair Clark avenue to the city limits Jefferson county will take steps to fix its highways leading to the city limits.

This is the assertion attributed to Jefferson county commissioners in a conference with Dr. J. S. McCulloch and J. T. Cunningham, superintendent of the McCulloch-Jefferson County Children's home at Yellow Creek.

Dr. McCulloch explained the commissioners' attitude to Mayor James S. Barnes and the latter communicated them to council last night.

Council would like to make a better street of Clark avenue which is one of the worst in the city., and solons last night expressed views to this effect.

But an opinion that an ordinance passed little more than a year ago would not permit assessment of the street car company, temporarily stumped them.

Council members are not certain that such an ordinance is in effect

Getting Too Fat? Try This—Reduce

Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets and follow directions. One dollar is the price the world over. Get them from your own druggist or send price direct to Marmola Co., General Motors Bldg., Detroit, Mich. By doing this you will be able to reduce steadily and easily and pleasantly, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise. Start taking them today and get slender.

TAKE SALTS FOR A KIDNEY BACKACHE

Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flush the kidneys occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders.

By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Good Work, Mayor and Chief!

Reports of their stewardship in 1924 show that Chief of Police Hugh McDermott and Mayor Charles Brown were on the job in ferreting out law violators and meting out penalties.

The nine-man police department under the direction of Chief McDermott made 1,167 arrests, mostly for minor infractions of the statutes, kept grave crimes down to a minimum by reason of their close attention to their duties and recovered $14,011.75 of $22.012.65 loot obtained by robbers.

Aside from the "common drunk" classification, liquor law violations headed the list of offenses charged against prisoners. A total of 159 arrests for defiance of the prohibition law were made, thus attesting the fact that poisonous concoctions sold under the name, "whiskey," are scarce articles here compared with other communities. And credit for stopping the flow should be given the law enforcement branch of the municipal government.

Mayor Brown has co-operated with the police department in enforcing the law by meting out penalties befitting the offense. A new record for collections, which reached a high mark during the preceding administration of J. S. Wilson, was attained by the present executive in a report of $26,673.27 for fines and licenses. This was an average monthly collection of $2,222.77, and most of it accrues to the credit of the city from fines assessed under municipal ordinances.

The two reports not only reflect credit upon the police department and the mayor, but also are evidence of the fact that East Liverpool is a law-abiding community.

Hunters Who Cheat

It has been an unfortunate winter so far for the big game under Uncle Sam's protection. Added to the severity of the weather there have been the depredations of hunters. Men with guns, who would not go quite so far as to poach in the national parks, have lurked just outside them ready to pick off any unlucky deer, elk or bear straying across the line.

It is reported that as early as the end of November there were 250 Yellowstone park elk slaughtered in this way. The deer and elk in Glacier National park have suffered likewise, when driven by deep snow to forage outside of their reservation. Many deer were killed by hunters around Belton, Mont., within a mile of the park, and wounded deer instinctively seeking the park again were shot down on their way.

The same thing has been done, to some extent, in the vicinity of every national park in the country, and many state parks and game refuges.

This is not only cruel and treacherous to animals that have been encouraged to trust man, but from the standpoint of sportsmanship it is the rankest kind of cheating. It is something which inevitably reacts against the cheaters themselves, and all their kind, because it inspires a tightening of the game laws and invites harsher punishment for infraction.

Grandeur

Chicago is going to do a "biggest" thing again. It will erect the largest building in the world, shaming the builders of the Tower of Babel and the Egyptian pyramids and all their successors.

It will be a Temple of Agriculture, which is fitting for the city dominating the great, rich plains of the middle west and gathering and distributing their crops. It will cost $30,000,000 and contain a hall seating 20,000 people, along with an enormous hotel, a great suburban transportation station and numerous other record-breaking features.

All of this will be not only very imposing but very useful, and will be duly appreciated. Yet even Americans begin to weary of superlatives and lose their zest for size, and wonder whether, after all, a Greek Parthenon wasn't superior to a Roman Coliseum, and whether a miniature isn't better than a poster and a perfect diamond isn't preferable to a Crystal palace.

THE AIR MAIL SERVICE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Advocates of the development of aviation on a big scale in this country are besieging congress to increase appropriations and to embark upon an air program comparable to that of other great nations. To this end they are employing everything from war threats and scares to ridicule, but their strongest argument is the record of accomplishment in the air mail service.

The air mail service is here, and here to stay. This statement is made with all possible emphasis by Colonel Paul Henderson, second assistant postmaster general, who has charge of that phase of postal activity.

"I am not absolutely certain that we are, as a civilization, any better off for our ability to fly," he says. "I think there are many arguments on both sides of that rather broad question, but we are able to fly. We cannot undo what has been done, and, taking that as a fact, it is quite patently our national duty to fly better than anybody else, and to make every possible practical application of this new trick which we have learned."

Colonel Henderson cites as the outstanding accomplishment of the air mail service that San Francisco has been permanently moved up to within 34 hours of New York. On one record test this time was beaten by almost eight hours, and the schedule will never be longer than the limit now set.

This coast to coast service, involving the great hazard of night flying, is now six months old and is operating regularly seven days a week. Every day it is becoming more popular with the public, and in consequence is constantly better patronized. Not everybody uses this service, of course, but those who do use it have learned the value of being able to get important mail in New York the day after it leaves San Francisco, and they are insistent that the service be extended rather than curtailed.

WHAT MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED

All this has been accomplished within six years after the establishment of the first air mail route between Washington and New York. What may be done within the next like period is almost beyond conjecture, but perhaps the most important of the things hoped for by departmental authorities is that the cost of carrying mail by air will be reduced from $2.63 to less than 30 cents per ton mile.

This cutting the cost of operation to less than 11 per cent of what it is now is attacked by some as the dream of a visionary, but Colonel Henderson says he is confident it can be done.

"In the last analysis," he says, "efficiency of transportation may be measured by its cost per ton mile, its regularity and dependability and its speed. The airplane has proved itself, as far as regularity and speed are concerned, but much remains to be accomplished in the matter of cost. The present cost of operating the air mail is altogether too expensive. From now forward the most urgent task of the postoffice department is to attempt to bring down this cost per ton mile. This means ships with greater carrying capacity. That such ships are possible of design and construction, I have no doubt. That they will be built and put into operation, I have no doubt."

With reduced operating costs the department hopes to reduce the schedule time between coasts, to increase the frequency of dispatches, and to provide additional service each night between New York and Chicago. Then will come a nation-wide connecting up of all important centers, with nightly service between such centers that are from 1,000 to 1,400 miles apart.

The next step will be carrying of certain classes of merchandise in the air, and, ultimately, the carrying of passengers. Colonel Henderson does not, however, even suggest that the airplane will ever become in the true sense of the word a competitor of the railroads. He says it is simply a new kind of transportation. There are more goods to transport each year, and some of these goods will find their way into air channels of transports, but the railroads will continue to enjoy even more traffic than they are able to take care of.

EFFECTIVE ONLY AT LONG DISTANCES

Many people have expressed surprise that the air mail route between Washington and New York was abandoned, believing that it is of prime importance to have the nation's political and financial capitals linked together with the fastest possible system of communications. The fact of the matter is there was very little saving of time in sending mail by airplane between the two cities, and not enough to make it really worth while.

It is approximately 200 miles by air line from Washington to New York and it took the mail planes at least two hours to fly that distance. It required the better part of an hour to carry the mail out to the flying field at this end of the route, and fully as much time was consumed in getting it from the New York flying field to the postoffice, ready for distribution. By trains the mail could be transported from the heart of Washington to the heart of New York in five hours. This meant an advantage of about an hour on the side of the air service, but that was not deemed sufficient.

Early in the experimental work the men who were studying the subject became convinced that the airplane could not really begin to mean much in the matter of postal transportation until the distances covered were at least 1,000 miles. Hence, the drive was begun for the establishment of the transcontinental service.

When night flying was planned, naturally the first question was one of lights. The mail plane pilots must have the way blazed for them across the continent by friendly beacons, the regular landing fields must be adequately illuminated, and emergency landing places must be indicated. Almost all of the earlier suggestions made to the air mail service were for the use of some sort of high-powered beam, shining directly and vertically into the air, but experiments with such lights proved them to be anything but desirable. Other suggestions included the illumination by means of searchlights on large white conical structures, such as the dome of the national capitol, the idea being that the reflection would turn the trick.

But that was found impractical and it was only through the merest chance that the effective system was hit upon. Late one night Colonel Henderson was awaiting a train at a station in a small Illinois city. He saw his train coming, or at least he saw the headlight, and began to get his baggage together when a friend told him that there was no hurry, that the train was still at least 17 miles away, and that the reason he saw it was because the track was perfectly straight for those 17 miles and he was looking directly into the headlight of the locomotive.

"Right there we solved, at least for the moment, our problem of lights," says the air mail chief. "All we had to do was put a brilliant searchlight up in the air and revolve it so that at least once in each revolution it would shine directly into the eyes of the pilot."

The department now has lights, operated on this principle, the larger of which is visible on an ordinary night for over 150 miles, and the smaller for over 40 miles.

DINNER STORIES

An elderly country doctor whose business was not large, sat in his office reading when his henchman appeared.

"Them boys is a-stealin' of your green apples agin, sir. Shall I drive' em away?"

The doctor considered a moment and then leveling his eyes at his servant, responded: "No."

An attorney was consulted by a young woman desirous of bringing action against her husband for a divorce. She related a harrowing tale of the ill-treatment she had received at his hands. So impressive was her recital that the lawyer, for a moment, was startled out of his usual professional composure. "From what you say this man must be a brute of the worst type!" he exclaimed.

The applicant for divorce arose and, with severe dignity, announced: "Sir, I shall consult another lawyer. I came here to get advice as to a divorce, not to hear my husband abused!"

A member of our diplomatic corps says that years ago the wife of the then American minister at The Hague asked Nelidoff, the Russian president of the peace conference of that time, to write something in her album.

That his sentiment was touched with feeling is evident, for he wrote: "To make peace with one en-

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 7.—The winter racing season for 125, or more, galloping days is on at Tiuana, Mexico. The season got away to a flying start on Thanksgiving Day, when a crowd of 20,000 race-mad persons flocked to the quaint little Mexican village, just over the international line and 16 miles from San Diego. The crowd on Thanksgiving Day, by several thousands, was by far the greatest opening day throng to visit the track during the eight years it has been operated by James Wood Coffroth, internationally known sports promoter.

And the opening of the track, like in past years, has had its effect upon San Diego as far as business is concerned. It is now evident that during the short time the track has been open this year a marked change has come over San Diego in the consideration of finance. Proof of this is found in the fact that bank clearings here have jumped skyward for several thousands, and each day sees the increase gain a wider margin.

Race track followers, whether they win or lose, are said to be free and easy with their money, and there is every indication that they are living up to their past performances. Restaurant owners, hotel men and other caterers report that since the track opened they have done a voluminous business. Last year, before the season ended, it was next to impossible to secure a room in a hotel for a week-end unless reservations were made several days in advance. The same situation is expected to prevail again this year.

Keen interest in the Tijuana races is evidenced by the fact that casual observation along the streets will reavel countless numbers of racegoers in every block studying racing programs, form charts, handicaps and over-night entries for the followdwing day.

And these same crowds start trekking to Tijuana every afternoon shortly after lunch to be on hand for the first race. Sutherland stages, which operates 20-passenger buses from a downtown location every few minutes, finds it difficult to dispatch enough buses to handle the throngs, and the same condition prevails at the border line after the last race of the day has been run and the crowd starts its rush back to San Diego for the night, only to return the following day. Monday is the "off" day at the Tijuana track, and there is no racing on that day. Each Tuesday has been set aside as "Ladies' Day."

Reports from the sheriff's office and customs officers stationed at the Mexican border show that —despite the fact that liquors of all qualities and varieties are dispensed at comparatively low prices in the saloons in the runway beneath the track grandstand—only a relatively few persons have been arrested at the line for intoxication. Because of the warm, sultry weather which has prevailed at Tijuana since the track opened, beer has been by far the most popular drink of the season. However, other liquors—wines, whiskies and gin—have received good "play." Bartenders refuse to hazard a guess on just how much liquor, measured in gallons, is consumed daily; but it is known to be a staggering quantity.

The first and only real catastrophe to befall the Tijuana race plant came on the second day of racing this year, when six 800-foot stables were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin. The fire also took toll of six horses, four of them having been burned to death and two others were so badly injured that it was necessary to destroy them. When the fire was discovered more than 300 thoroughbreds were driven from their stalls, and, in wild moments of frenzy, they fled into the foothills back of the track. All of these horses are said to have been recovered, however, and suffered little from their experience.

Before the fire had been entirely extinguished 500 carpenters were employed, and the work of building new stables was started. Within a week after the fire the burned-over area was again covered with stables. In the meantime the horses were temporarily stalled in tents.

If the present pace is maintained, it looks like a prosperous year for the Tijuana track as well as for San Diego.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The largest beauty parlor in the world—a gigantic monument to Milady's vanity—has opened in midtown. It occupies the entire floor of a half block building. The furnishings and trappings are said to have cost $500,000.

Here the lady may go to be coiffed, shingled, bobbed, manicured and massaged. Every known form of beauty treatment is employed and every hindrance to beauty is removed by competent surgeons. There are 70 attendants in charge.

Japanese pages in butterfly kimonos are also on hand. The customer may go to her booth, talk to any part of the world, dictate letters to social secretaries, read the latest novel, send telegrams and what not while youth and beauty are being restored.

If a male barber is preferred for bobbing—there are a dozen of them. One may go there and in four hours time spend a total of $114 for various treatments. It is possible to take care of 300 patrons at the same time.

The proprietor is a former painter who, when his paintings failed to sell, talked a group of rich men into backing him in the venture. The growth of the beauty parlor in New York has been mastodonic. Ten years ago there were only 26 listed in the phone directory.

Today there are more than a thousand. If, as someone had said, a man turns to selling insurance when everything else fails and lives happily ever after, it is true that women in the same fix turn to operating a beauty parlor.

There are thousands of women who spend several hours a day in the beauty salons. Each new treatment is a lure. Especially among those with creper de chine souls. They know that when beauty fades—it is the quick curtain. So they wage the desperate warfare.

Impecuniosity is traditionally associated with the theater. Yet there has been improvement in late years. A certain day and night bank in the theatrical district has mostly stage folk as patrons. It recently made an investigation and found that 62 per cent of players now appearing in New York were saving more than 10 per cent of their earnings weekly.

Joel, the restaurant man, used to be the banker for theatrical folk. He still invites those on the road to send him their savings. While they were touring they used to send him varying amounts. But when they returned it would be gone in a week, he says.

Plyers, by the way, are greatly adding to their incomes by writing for newspapers and magazines. Variety reports that there are eight stars on Broadway who will average more than $25,000 each this year from their literary efforts.

A man was walking up Broadway. He suddenly stiffened his body at though he might be planning for a sudden dive into city waters. In gazing at the window of a dancing academy he saw his wife twirling about in the arms of another man. He waited outside, torn with conflicting emotions. So far as he knew she had never learned to dance. For 18 years he thought he had been able to account for her every moment. He never went home without finding here there. And yet this sudden discovery put him on guard. He had her watched and found that half of her time was spent in the company of another man. That man was his employer.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

A WHITE HOUSE BREAKFAST

On Thursday, E. H. Gary, head of the biggest industrial organization in the world, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., representing what is probably still the biggest fortune in the world, and incidentally one of the most useful, will have breakfast with President Coolidge at the White House.

They will discuss law enforcement and the findings of a citizens committee of one thousand.

Those three men will make an interesting breakfast combination. Gary became head of the great steel concern when he was past 50; Rockefeller, Jr., born to own and manage the world's greatest fortune, is removed by only one generation from a little farm in the huls along the Hudson, and Calvin Coolidge in one generation is promoted from a farm in Vermont to the White House.

HOW TO STOP CRIME

The president will entertain in Gary and Rockefeller two men that might do more than many others to solve the crime problem.

You can diminish crime in two ways, first, by making it costly and painful to the criminal with severe, prompt and inevitable punishment.

Second, since crime is always unprofitable, it can be reduced by increasing facilities in obtaining employment.

The law should be able to say to every man: "If you need food and your wife and children need food, I will show you where you can work any day in the year and earn enough to feed your wife and family.

"If you prefer crime to work, I shall show you another place where you will work inside prison walls and earns nothing for yourself. I shall use your earning in that other place to see that your wife and family don't starve."

Rockefeller and Gary might offer interesting suggestions for legislation that would supply constant employment. This country is big enough and needs enough work to keep everybody busy. In England they pay a hard cash allowance to idle men and have done it since the war in the British unemployment allowance, thus avoiding the crime waves we have here. To put men to work is better than to make beggars of them.

POPES AND KINGS

Changes come rapidly. In 1875, when Pope Leo opened the holy door in Rome he sent gold medals in honor of the event to the Austrian emperor, Francis Joseph, then ruling part of Poland.

Now Pope Pius, 50 years later, again opens the holy door and sends one gold medal to President Wocjechowski, president of the republic of Poland, and one to his wife, Mme. Wocjechowski.

Little could the old emperor imagine what was to have happened before the holy door next be opened.

One reason is found in the fact that cardinals select for pope the ablest man among them, whereas emperors and kings are selected by the accident of birth.

JAIPUR'S GIRL SACRIFICE

One of ten thousand rumors says the Russian government will stir up revolution in Cairo and attempt via Egypt to "set India in flames."

This won't worry the British lion. He knows water drinking, vegetable eating Asiatics do not take fire so easily. And, when they do, they usually attack and burn some neighboring religions that don't please them.

To realize how close the Asiatics, including inhabitants of India, are to old-fashioned religious notions, remember that as recently at 1861, when Lincoln was preparing for his great task, an Indian rajah, to bring good fortune upon himself and his reign, offered at Jaipur a living sacrifice of a young girl.

It takes more than one century to change from that type to the Lincoln type, understanding freedom.

P. S.—To save any swami or other the trouble of writing for further information, those interested are referred to Westermarck's big book on the "Origin of Moral Ideas." The Jaipur incident will be found somewhere near page 500. This is written on the train, the book is not at hand.

The test of Mussolini's strength comes now, and he handles Italy's problems and his own without hesitation or weakness. He doesn't intend to be any Rienzi, glorying for a while in his own greatness, intoxicated with his own importance, and finally stabbed in the stomach by a patriotic butcher.

Florence and other rebellious towns in Italy will learn that times have changed since Savonarola. Flying machines can visit rebellious cities, and talk for Mussolinin from the air. Railroads carry Fascisti police to any part of Italy in a few hours.

And, Mussolini, trained for years as follower and leader in the hard school of Italian socialism, knows what to do, now that he has changed from a rebel against government, and finds himself the head of government.

The fact of the matter is there was very little saving of time in sending mail by airplane between the two cities, and not enough to make it really worth while.

It is approximately 200 miles by air line from Washington to New York and it took the mail planes at least two hours to fly that distance. It required the better part of an hour to carry the mail out to the flying field at this end of the route, and fully as much time was consumed in getting it from the New York flying field to the postoffice, ready for distribution. By trains the mail could be transported from the heart of Washington to the heart of New York in five hours. This meant an advantage of about an hour on the side of the air service, but that was not deemed sufficient.

Early in the experimental work the men who were studying the subject became convinced that the airplane could not really begin to mean much in the matter of postal transportation until the distances covered were at least 1,000 miles. Hence, the drive was begun for the establishment of the transcontinental service.

When night flying was planned, naturally the first question was one of lights. The mail plane pilots must have the way blazed for them across the continent by friendly beacons, the regular landing fields must be adequately illuminated, and emergency landing places must be indicated. Almost all of the earlier suggestions made to the air mail service were for the use of some sort of high-powered beam, shining directly and vertically into the air, but experiments with such lights proved them to be anything but desirable. Other suggestions included the illumination by means of searchlights on large white conical structures, such as the dome of the national capitol, the idea being that the reflection would turn the trick.

But that was found impractical and it was only through the merest chance that the effective system was hit upon. Late one night Colonel Henderson was awaiting a train at a station in a small Illinois city. He saw his train coming, or at least he saw the headlight, and began to get his baggage together when a friend told him that there was no hurry, that the train was still at least 17 miles away, and that the reason he saw it was because the track was perfectly straight for those 17 miles and he was looking directly into the headlight of the locomotive.

"Right there we solved, at least for the moment, our problem of lights," says the air mail chief. "All we had to do was put a brilliant searchlight up in the air and revolve it so that at least once in each revolution it would shine directly into the eyes of the pilot."

The department now has lights, operated on this principle, the larger of which is visible on an ordinary night for over 150 miles, and the smaller for over 40 miles.

DINNER STORIES

An elderly country doctor whose business was not large, sat in his office reading when his henchman appeared.

"Them boys is a-stealin' of your green apples agin, sir. Shall I drive 'em away?"

The doctor considered a moment and then leveling his eyes at his servant, responded: "No."

An attorney was consulted by a young woman desirous of bringing action against her husband for a divorce. She related a harrowing tale of the ill-treatment she had received at his hands. So impressive was her recital that the lawyer, for a moment, was startled out of his usual professional composure. "From what you say this man must be a brute of the worst type!" he exclaimed.

The applicant for divorce arose and, with severe dignity, announced: "Sir, I shall consult another lawyer. I came here to get advice as to a divorce, not to hear my husband abused!"

A member of our diplomatic corps says that years ago the wife of the then American minister at The Hague asked Nelidoff, the Russian president of the peace conference of that time, to write something in her album.

That his sentiment was touched with feeling is evident, for he wrote: "To make peace with one en-

NEWSY GOSSIP OF BIG CITIES

By WILLIAM G. CAYCE.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 7.—The winter racing season for 125, or more, galloping days is on at Tijuana, Mexico. The season got away to a flying start on Thanksgiving Day, when a crowd of 20,000 race-mad persons flocked to the quaint little Mexican village, just over the international line and 16 miles from San Diego. The crowd on Thanksgiving Day, by several thousands, was by far the greatest opening day throng to visit the track during the eight years it has been operated by James Wood Coffroth, internationally known sports promoter.

And the opening of the track, like in past years, has had its effect upon San Diego as far as business is concerned. It is now evident that during the short time the track has been open this year a marked change has come over San Diego in the consideration of finance. Proof of this is found in the fact that bank clearings here have jumped skyward for several thousands, and each day sees the increase gain a wider margin.

Race track followers, whether they win or lose, are said to be free and easy with their money, and there is every indication that they are living up to their past performances. Restaurant owners, hotel men and other caterers report that since the track opened they have done a voluminous business. Last year, before the season ended, it was next to impossible to secure a room in a hotel for a week-end unless reservations were made several days in advance. The same situation is expected to prevail again this year.

Keen interest in the Tijuana races is evidenced by the fact that casual observation along the streets will reavel countless numbers of racegoers in every block studying racing programs, form charts, handicaps and over-night entries for the followding day.

And these same crowds start trekking to Tijuana every afternoon shortly after lunch to be on hand for the first race. Sutherland stages, which operates 20-passenger buses from a downtown location every few minutes, finds it difficult to dispatch enough buses to handle the throngs, and the same condition prevails at the border line after the last race of the day has been run and the crowd starts its rush back to San Diego for the night, only to return the following day. Monday is the "off" day at the Tijuana track, and there is no racing on that day. Each Tuesday has been set aside as "Ladies' Day."

Reports from the sheriff's office and customs officers stationed at the Mexican border show that—despite the fact that liquors of all qualities and varieties are dispensed at comparatively low prices in the saloons in the runway beneath the track grandstand—only a relatively few persons have been arrested at the line for intoxication. Because of the warm, sultry weather which has prevailed at Tijuana since the track opened, beer has been by far the most popular drink of the season. However, other liquors—wines, whiskies and gin—have received good "play." Bartenders refuse to hazard a guess on just how much liquor, measured in gallons, is consumed daily; but it is known to be a staggering quantity.

The first and only real catastrophe to befall the Tijuana race plant came on the second day of racing this year, when six 800-foot stables were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin. The fire also took toll of six horses, four of them having been burned to death and two others were so badly injured that it was necessary to destroy them. When the fire was discovered more than 300 thoroughbreds were driven from their stalls, and, in wild moments of frenzy, they fled into the foothills back of the track. All of these horses are said to have been recovered, however, and suffered little from their experience.

Before the fire had been entirely extinguished 500 carpenters were employed, and the work of building new stables was started. Within a week after the fire the burned-over area was again covered with stables. In the meantime the horses were temporarily stalled in tents.

If the present pace is maintained, it looks like a prosperous year for the Tijuana track as well as for San Diego.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The largest beauty parlor in the world—a gigantic monument to Milady's vanity—has opened in midtown. It occupies the entire floor of a half block building. The furnishings and trappings are said to have cost $500,000.

Here the lady may go to be coiffed, shingled, bobbed, manicured and massaged. Every known form of beauty treatment is employed and every hindrance to beauty is removed by competent surgeons. There are 70 attendants in charge.

Japanese pages in butterfly kimonos are also on hand. The customer may go to her booth, talk to any part of the world, dictate letters to social secretaries, read the latest novel, send telegrams and what not while youth and beauty are being restored.

If a male barber is preferred for bobbing—there are a dozen of them. One may go there and in four hours time spend a total of $114 for various treatments. It is possible to take care of 300 patrons at the same time.

The proprietor is a former painter who, when his paintings failed to sell, talked a group of rich men into backing him in the venture. The growth of the beauty parlor in New York has been mastodonic. Ten years ago there were only 26 listed in the phone directory.

Today there are more than a thousand. If, as someone had said, a man turns to selling insurance when everything else fails and lives happily ever after, it is true that women in the same fix turn to operating a beauty parlor.

There are thousands of women who spend several hours a day in the beauty salons. Each new treatment is a lure. Especially among those with creper de chine souls. They know that when beauty fades—it is the quick curtain. So they wage the desperate warfare.

Impecuniosity is traditionally associated with the theater. Yet there has been improvement in late years. A certain day and night bank in the theatrical district has mostly stage folk as patrons. It recently made an investigation and found that 62 per cent of players now appearing in New York were saving more than 10 per cent of their earnings weekly.

Joel, the restaurant man, used to be the banker for theatrical folk. He still invites those on the road to send him their savings. While they were touring they used to send him varying amounts. But when they returned it would be gone in a week, he says.

Flyers, by the way, are greatly adding to their incomes by writing for newspapers and magazines. Variety reports that there are eight stars on Broadway who will average more than $25,000 each this year from their literary efforts.

A man was walking up Broadway. He suddenly stiffened his body at though he might be planning for a sudden dive into city waters. In gazing at the window of a dancing academy he saw his wife twirling about in the arms of another man. He waited outside, torn with conflicting emotions. So far as he knew she had never learned to dance. For 18 years he thought he had been able to account for her every moment. He never went home without finding here there. And yet this sudden discovery put him on guard. He had her watched and found that half of her time was spent in the company of another man. That man was his employer.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

A WHITE HOUSE BREAKFAST

On Thursday, E. H. Gary, head of the biggest industrial organization in the world, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., representing what is probably still the biggest fortune in the world, and incidentally one of the most useful, will have breakfast with President Coolidge at the White House.

They will discuss law enforcement and the findings of a citizens committee of one thousand.

Those three men will make an interesting breakfast combination. Gary became head of the great steel concern when he was past 50; Rockefeller, Jr., born to own and manage the world's greatest fortune, is removed by only one generation from a little farm in the hills along the Hudson, and Calvin Coolidge in one generation is promoted from a farm in Vermont to the White House.

HOW TO STOP CRIME

The president will entertain Gary and Rockefeller two men that might do more than many others to solve the crime problem.

You can diminish crime in two ways, first, by making it costly and painful to the criminal with severe, prompt and inevitable punishment.

Second, since crime is always unprofitable, it can be reduced by increasing facilities in obtaining employment.

The law should be able to say to every man: "If you need food and your wife and children need food, I will show you where you can work any day in the year and earn enough to feed your wife and family.

"If you prefer crime to work, I shall show you another place where you will work inside prison walls and earns nothing for yourself. I shall use your earning in that other place to see that your wife and family don't starve."

Rockefeller and Gary might offer interesting suggestions for legislation that would supply constant employment. This country is big enough and needs enough work to keep everybody busy. In England they pay a hard cash allowance to idle men and have done it since the war in the British unemployment allowance, thus avoiding the crime waves we have here. To put men to work is better than to make beggars of them.

POPES AND KINGS

Changes come rapidly. In 1875, when Pope Leo opened the holy door in Rome he sent gold medals in honor of the event to the Austrian emperor, Francis Joseph, then ruling part of Poland.

Now Pope Pius, 50 years later, again opens the holy door and sends one gold medal to President Wojciechowski, president of the republic of Poland, and one to his wife, Mme. Wojciechowski.

Little could the old emperor imagine what was to have happened before the holy door next be opened.

JAIPUR'S GIRL SACRIFICE

This won't worry the British lion. He knows water drinking, vegetable eating Asiatics do not take fire so easily. And, when they do, they usually attack and burn some neighboring religions that don't please them.

To realize how close the Asiatics, including inhabitants of India, are to old-fashioned religious notions, remember that as recently at 1861, when Lincoln was preparing for his great task, an Indian rajah, to bring good fortune upon himself and his reign, offered at Jaipur a living sacrifice of a young girl.

It takes more than one century to change from that type to the Lincoln type, understanding freedom.

P. S.—To save any swami or other the trouble of writing for further information, those interested are referred to Westermarck's big book on the "Origin of Moral Ideas." The Jaipur incident will be found somewhere near page 500. This is written on the train, the book is not at hand.

The test of Mussolini's strength comes now, and he handles Italy's problems and his own without hesitation or weakness. He doesn't intend to be any Rienzi, glorying for a while in his own greatness, intoxicated with his own importance, and finally stabbed in the stomach by a patriotic butcher.

Florence and other rebellious towns in Italy will learn that times have changed since Savonarola. Flying machines can visit rebellious cities, and talk for Mussolinin from the air. Railroads carry Fascisti police to any part of Italy in a few hours.

And, Mussolini, trained for years as follower and leader in the hard school of Italian socialism, knows what to do, now that he has changed from a rebel against government, and finds himself the head of government.

CHICAGO — A new epoch in railway terminal development will mark the opening of the sixty-million-dollar Chicago Union station on or about Feb. 15.

Spreading out over a larger and larger area, the gray limestone terminal has continued to grow until, in its massive style of architecture, it resembles an imposing temple of antiquity. From atop the bridges spanning the Chicago river it stands out like a new city.

When the completed terminal swings open under auspicious ceremonies, the ancient terminal building will be quickly demolished. The whole transformation, including all work on the new terminal, will have been carried out without interference with a single train. This is just one phase of the unusual engineering skill.

Three baseball diamonds could be laid out upon the great floor of the main waiting room. The concourse building will have a 15-acre roof of glass, extending 1,400 feet beyond the main structure, to form the train shed. Steel umbrella train sheds, extending over several blocks, are almost finished. Several months ago most of the exterior, made of blocks from Indiana's quarries, had been virtually completed.

Parts of the terminal are now in operation, and other sections are being put into use as rapidly as possible. It had been hoped to climax the ten-year undertaking by opening the station Christmas day as a "Santa Claus gift to the city." But the date was found to be premature.

A Woman's Way

"I tried for four months to get my wife to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I know had helped a friend of mine who also suffered from stomach trouble. She insisted her case was different. I finally had to bribe her with a new dress. The first dose produced remarkable results, cleaning up her complexion and restoring her appetite. She can now eat things she hadn't been able to for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One does will concince or money refunded. Jesse D. Holloway and Druggists Everywhere.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Roast Rabbit—Let rabbit stand in weak salt and vinegar water one hour. Rinse well. Make a dressing of two cups bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, one-half cup chopped oysters, salt and pepper to taste and a dash of red pepper. Mix well and stuff rabbit, sew top, skewer head back and legs on each side. Season outside with salt and pepper.

Lentil Soup—Take one cup lentils, three cups milk, two tablespoons butter, three pints water (or stock,) one onion, one carrot, two stalks, celery, one tablespoon flour, salt and pepper to taste, one-fourth cup cream. Lentils may be cooked over night in the fireless cooker. The next day cut onion, celery and carrot in small pieces, put in a saucepan with butter, cover and cook gently for fifteen minutes. Add water (or stock) and simmer gently for two hours. Rub this, with the lentils, through a sieve. Return to pan, add milk seasoning and bring to boil. Moisten flour with one-half cup milk, add it to soup and simmer ten minutes. Add cream. Serve hot. When fireless cooker is not used, cook lentils until tender with the vegetables.

Now the holiday season is over we busy housewives may take inventory of our stocks just as the business houses are doing. Pieces of new furniture may have been given for Xmas presents and these will have to find their place in your rooms and be invited to make themselves at home and not look too conspicuous among the older pieces. New ornaments and pictures may replace the old, just as new clothing replaces the worn. If you are afraid of too much bric a brac—and it is a wholesome fear—put a few pieces away and use the new for a time. Then put the new away and bring out the old again. Don't let the new pictures crowd the old ones. Carefully clean and pack a few of the old pictures and put up new ones and then change back again when the novelty of the new wears off. January is a good month to decide what furnishings need replenishing and repairing. And the January sales are a great help in renewing all departments of the household.

Tomato Soup—Cook one quart of tomatoes with an onion and a few cloves until the onion is tender. Strain through a wire strainer. Make a thin white sauce with a large tablespoon of butter, one tablespoon flour, and a pint of milk added gradually. Let come to boil, add strained tomatoes, season and serve.

Cranberry Raisin Roll—Two teaspoons baking powder, two teaspoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, two cups flour, two tablespoons butter, milk to make soft dough, one cup cranberries, one half cup raisins, one-half cup sugar. Make a dough and roll one inch thick. Chop berries and raisins and mix with sugar. Spread over dough. Roll up and steam for one and a half hours. Serve hot with the following sauce; Two tablespoons butter, one cup sugar, one and one-half cups hot water, pinch salt, juice and rind of one lemon. Cook sugar, flour, water together five minutes and add rest of ingredients.

Baked Ham—One slice of ham two and one-half inches thick, one onion, pepper, milk to cover, one can tomatoes. Soak the ham half a day in milk to cover; then pour on the tomatoes and add chopped onion seasoning well with pepper, and bake slowly one hour.

SUGGESTIONS.

When baking a meat loaf instead of using all crackers to thicken it, try using one cup of bran and a few crackers; you will find it is much better than when all crackers are used. If you have on hand any cooked oats put them in your meat loaf; will never be dry and will taste very delicious.

Keep a few of the favorite flowers by coating them completely with hot parafin. Drop it on the flowers from a spoon. Cover the entire flower enough to hold it firm, but not to cover the color tints. Pansies, violets, hyacinths, lilacs, cannas, dahlias and lillies take this treatment very well.

Eczema

Oh! What tortures — what agony —what despair—goes with the nights where eczema and other skin diseases hold power and drive away rest and peaceful slumber. For under the cover of darkness like crafty beings of the underworld these eruptions work their most serious havoc.

S.S.S. is the established conqueror of these annoying skin diseases. S.S.S. drives these ever disturbing elements from your system—elements that carry in their wake—lack of energy—undermining health! You may try in vain to get rid of them by using salves, lotions, washes, all to no purpose. You can't do it that way—the seat of the trouble lies deeper—impure blood trying to throw off poisons through the tender skin.

S.S.S. purifies the blood. It aids Nature in creating new red-blood-cells by the million! Blood-cells that send new rich blood coursing through your system. Red blood that drives away eczema—drives away pimples, blackheads, boils and rheumatism, too. An increase in red-blood-cells means added strength, added vitality and renewed vigor. Because the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. Start taking S.S.S. today and watch it rout that annoying, skin destroying, health undermining army that holds your system in its grasp! Learn again what it means to enjoy peaceful, restful nights of slumber.

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

SLAYER MAKES LAST FIGHT TO ESCAPE DEATH

Condemned Man Takes Case to Supreme Court.

MURDERED FIVE

South Carolinan Says he is Innocent of Crime.

COLUMBIA, S. C. — Edmund Bingham, thrice convicted of having slain a family of five persons, will soon know whether his three-year fight to evade the electric chair has been in vain.

His case is to go to the supreme court for the fifth time. Work of transcribing the testimony is being completed. Failure to complete this work in the prescribed time of 30 days set by the court has given the condemned man several months of life.

Should the supreme court fail to reverse the decision of the lower court Bingham automatically will receive the death sentence—for a fourth time. Three times he has heard the words of judges condemning him to death, and for nearly two years he occupied a death cell in the state penitentiary.

Bigham was convicted of having killed his mother, brother and sister and two young children who had been adopted by his sister. He has maintained from the first that his brother, Smiley Bigham, shot the four and then killed himself. The crimes occurred almost four years ago at Conway, S. C.

Bigham has dramatically protested his innocence in court on each of the occasions when a jury found him guilty. He characterized the testimony on which he was convicted as "the greatest falsehoood I ever heard."

"I shall stay with him to the end —whatever that may be!" his wife said after his last conviction.

Malthusian Theory Again Hit.

Toward the end of the eighteenth century Dr. Malthus threw a scare into the world by announcing that scientifically he had figured out that the increase in population was getting so far ahead of the increase in food production that the human race would eventually starve unless wars and pestilence killed off some. Modern economists point out that the development of farm machinery has done much to disprove it. The production of food products per person engaged in agriculture today is more than double what it was on 1870.

Hot Gingerbread with Pears—Put half a pear on hot gingerbread, cut in square, serve with hot syrup from the pears. A good way to use a few leftover pears.

Roast Rabbit—Let rabbit stand in weak salt and vinegar water one hour. Rinse well. Make a dressing of two cups bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, one-half cup chopped oysters, salt and pepper to taste and a dash of red pepper. Mix well and stuff rabbit, sew top, skewer head back and legs on each side. Season outside with salt and pepper.

Lentil Soup—Take one cup lentils, three cups milk, two tablespoons butter in a saucepan with butter, cover and cook gently for fifteen minutes. Add water (or stock) and simmer gently for two hours. Rub this, with the lentils, through a sieve. Return to pan, add milk seasonings and bring to boil. Moisten flour with one-half cup milk, add it to soup and simmer ten minutes. Add cream. Serve hot. When ter, three pints water (or stock,) one onion, one carrot, two stalks, celery, one tablespoon flour, salt and pepper to taste, one-fourth cup cream. Lentils may be cooked over night in the fireless cooker. The next day cut onion, celery and carrot in small pieces, put

Now the holiday season is over we busy housewives may take inventory of our stocks just as the business houses are doing. Pieces of new furniture may have been given for Xmas presents and these will have to find their place in your rooms and be invited to make themselves at home and not look too conspicuous among the older pieces. New ornaments and pictures may replace the old, just as new clothing replaces the worn. If you are afraid of too much bric a brac—and it is a wholesome fear—put a few pieces away and use the new for a time. Then put the new away and bring out the old again. Don't let the new pictures crowd the old ones. Carefully clean and pack a few of the old pictures and put up new ones and then change back again when the novelty of the new wears off. January is a good month to decide what furnishings need replenishing and repairing. And the January sales are a great help in renewing all departments of the household.

NEW HOME FOR HEALTH UNIT

County Court Sets Aside Building in Rear of Jail.

Hancock county health unit will shortly move into new headquarters in the rear of the county jail as result of action taken at the regular meeting of the county court held yesterday at New Cumberland.

Headquarters have been maintained in the basement of the court house, but this place was deemed inadequate to the needs of the body by members of the county court who are frequently called upon to take care of children who are thrown on the county either by death of their parents of other causes.

The new building consists of eight rooms and was orginally set aside for use of the deputy sheriff. During the past 18 months it has not been used for the purpose intended and it was unanimously decided to place it at the disposal of the health unit. Dr. Charles Koenig, health officer, will move within the next few days.

Reports submitted by the health officer showed the work in the county on a firm basis an dthe unit will be given the whole hearted support of the county court in carrying out the program mapped out by the directing head.

BOOSTERS HEAR HEALTH ADDRESS

Isaac Brown, superintendent of the Steubenville district of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, was the speaker at the meeting of the Chester Boosters' club last evening in the Masonic temple, First street.

ATTORNEY FLAYS BOOST IN RATES

Characterizing the recent action of the public service commission in granting an increase of telephone rates in the state as "the hardest blow dealt the public," J. D. Rummel, city solicitor of Charleston, speaking in Wheleing last evening, said there was hope remaining that an appeal to a higher body might be effective.

The utterances of Chairman Birk S. Stathers of the commission at Charleston, in which the chairman attacked the opinion of the commission in the phone rate case, were lauded by Judge Rummel. Chairman Stathers cast the single dissenting vote against granting the increase.

Judge Rummel pointed out that the cities in submitting their case had placed their chief reliance on facts derived by engineers and accountants employed by themselves and by the the commission.

"Even in the face of these overwhelming facts the commission decided in favor of the telephone company," Judge Rummell said.

He said he had asked City Solicitor Carl O. Schmidt, of Wheeling, to meet with him in Charleston to confer in regard to an appeal. What steps might be taken to carry the fight against the increase further will be decided at that time, he said. Solicitors of other cities interested in the fight will be called in.

Portable Electric Drill Put to New Use in California

LOS ANGELES — One of the most ingenious uses for the portable electric drill was demonstrated recently in the fruit growing territory of California, where a pair of automatic augers, operating from one motor mounted on a small truck, bored holes for 60,000 grapevines in 10 days. This resulted in a saving of $400 a day over hand labor.

Six thousand holes, three inches in diameter and 18 inches deep, were dug each day.

SOME MIDDLE-AGED WOMEN ARE AILING ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. Mayer Tell Women How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Them at This Trying Period

MRS. ELSIE ACKERMAN
CONVOY, OHIO

Convoy, Ohio.—"During the Change of Life I was weak and run-down and could hardly do my work. By reading your advertisements I found out about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has straightened me right out and made me feel like a new woman. By the time I had taken eight bottles I was well and could do my housework on the farm without trouble. I recommended it to my daughter-in-law after her second baby was born and it did her a wonderful lot of good. I told her to try it and if it didn't help her I would pay for it, and before she had taken one bottle she said to me, 'You won't have to pay for it! It is helping me wonderfully!' And she took three bottles of it. You can use my testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. ELSIE ACKERMAN, Convoy, Ohio.

Mrs. Mayer's Experience

Litchfield, Conn.—"I have given your medicine a fair trial (I am on my fifth bottle) and can truthfully say that it has helped me. I am at the Change of Life and was not able to sleep nights, had indigestion, palpitation of the heart, pains in my right and left sides (more so if I hurried), had a rapid beating in my left ear and dreaded to see night come. I felt smothered if I lay on my left side, I had gas dreadfully, at times felt as if some one had me by the throat, had hot waves through me and sometimes I would shake in spells of nervousness. I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot praise it enough. I can say it does all it claims to do and I can recommend it to my friends. I can sleep much better, the pains in my sides are gone, I am not so nervous, my digestion is much better, and I very seldom have the hot waves. I must say that the Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women's ills and I will answer letters from women asking about it."—Mrs. JOSEPH MAYER, SR., Box 36, Litchfield, Connecticut.

NEW HOME FOR HEALTH UNIT

County Court Sets Aside Building in Rear of Jail.

Hancock county health unit will shortly move into new headquarters in the rear of the county jail as result of action taken at the regular meeting of the county court held yesterday at New Cumberland.

The new building consists of eight rooms and was orginally set aside for use of the deputy sheriff. During the past 18 months it has not been used for the purpose intended and it was unanimously decided to place it at the disposal of the health unit. Dr. Charles Koenig, health officer, will move within the next few days.

Reports submitted by the health officer showed the work in the county on a firm basis an dthe unit will be given the whole hearted support of the county court in carrying out the program mapped out by the directing head.

Grandmother Knew

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mus-tard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings re-lief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bron-chitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, conges-tion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chil-blains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Never neglect lame muscles

Going around half-crippled by lame muscles is needless—when it's so easy to get limbered up with this world-famous lini-ment.

Pat on gently a little Sloan's. It needs no rubbing. The liniment itself does the whole job. In it are stimulating ingredients that start the blood circulating swiftly through the stiff, painful muscles, and this increased supply of fresh, pure blood washes out fatigue poisons and rebuilds broken-down tissue. Marvellously—your lame-ness is gone.

ONLY PACKARD CAN BUILD A PACKARD

For Twenty-Five Years

For a quarter of a century, Packard has been building cars of the highest quality for that portion of the public that demands the best at any price.

Today, from the position of leadership that has been so generously accorded, Packard celebrates its Silver Anniversary by making it possible for more men and women to have the car of their dreams.

Revised prices just announced offer an average reduction of $750 on the enclosed models of the Packard Six—for example, the price of the Seven Passenger Sedan is reduced $840.

Each car is identical in every way with those Packard has been building during the past year. The prices of all models of the Packard Eight are not affected.

Packard Six and Packard Eight both furnished in ten body types, open and enclosed. Packard's extremely liberal time-payment plan makes possible the immediate enjoyment of a Packard—purchasing out of income instead of capital.

Karesia stood for some time, thinking strange thoughts. Then she closed the locket and went to the bed. She held it up for Mary Bliss to see. "We forgot," she whispered. "We must put it around her neck again," and she lifted Clarice's head and returned the girl's treasure to its place. Then Karesia went into the glazed room and took down from above her desk a small framed photograph, Randsome Rossiter, younger than in the miniature on Clarice's bosom, but with the same dominant smile. Karesia hid it away in her desk drawer.

Again she asked Mary Bliss whether she was tired. "No, look! She's going to sleep now," the woman said with a touch of triumph. "I won't bathe her face any more—she's asleep."

Karesia smiled at her affectionately. "You've made her well," she whispered. Evidently here was someone of whom Mary Bliss was not afraid; a being as helpless as herself, yet needing her protection. That afternoon, when Karesia had lain blinded by a headache, the woman had lost her timidity and had cared for her as tenderly.

She went into the glazed room and lay down on the couch. Without it was darked than it had been earlier in the night. Between her and the canyon was a black gulf, but on the crown of the rounded hill beyond were a group of lights, Rossiter's house lighted. . . . Karesia lay there with her thoughts, she did not know how long, but until she heard a car coming up the slope; she was not mistaken, the car was climbing her street. . . . She went in and looked at Clarice. The girl had turned on her side, she was not flushed now, she had slipped into a natural sleep. Mary Bliss sat on the footstool, stroking with her gnarled fingers the hand which Clarice had flung out on the coverlid. Karesia stole away and opened her front door as Dascome ran up the steps.

She smiled her welcome. "I heard you coming—I hoped you would come."

He brought in with him the chill of the night air and the tenseness of the hours that had passed since he last saw her. He was haggard—gray beneath his tan. "I was in town, Mrs. Kaime, trying to find her. I heard that Mr. Rossiter had taken her away from that crowd. Then I went to him and he told me he had brought her to you. How is she?"

"She is asleep. Mary Bliss is with her. Don't be worried, she is sleeping as naturally as a child. Rand said she would sleep it off." When his face lost its tenseness, Karesia felt a tremendous relief; the man was too sensible and discerning to think evil of Rossiter or do any such wild thing as she had feared. They had not quarrelled.

"He could not have brought her to a safer place, but it made me—I cannot tell you how sorry I am that the thing should have been thrust on you."

"I am glad Rand brought her out here. What made we most anxious was the way you drove on those streets. I thought that very likely you were in some hospital.

"It is kind of you to give me a thought, after subjecting you to this annoyance." He looked down "It is not a habit with her—only an outburst of recklessness over—— Because something she desired seemed unobtainable."

Karesia guessed what he meant by "unobtainable" No one knew better than she how almost any girl would love Rossiter to desperation. "Will you come now and see her?" she asked.

"If I may."

They went up lightly, so when Karesia stood aside at the door and Dascome walked into the room, Mary Bliss had no warning. When she scrambled frantically to her feet, Dascome in his long ulster loomed tall and large directly before her. Mary Bliss ran like a hunted thing, to the very end of the room, against the wall which stopped her, turned and stood, her body jerking, her twisted mouth half open, uttering the queer twittering sounds which had so terrified Karesia that afternoon.

Dascome reached her before Karesia did. He took her by the shoulders and held her against the wall "Stop it!" he commanded, low but with tremendous force The woman gave a wild gasp and stared at him like a trapped animal, then her lips fell apart again and her face began to twitch, and she emitted a single twittering note, which he met with a command which had the force of a blow: "Keep quiet, do you hear! Not another sound!"

He was obeyed Mary Bliss stood under his hands, trembling and shrinking and staring in terror, but not jerking and twisting in convulsions. Then Dascome released her. "Go to your room now and go to bed" was his next command. "Give way like that again and I'll turn you over to the doctors. Are you going to do what I tell you?"

"Yes—yes, I will!" she mumbled.

Dascome moved aside and Mary Bliss crept away. He turned then to Karesia, who had been too surprised and shocked for speech or movement. "Don't be frightened, Mrs. Kaime," he said quietly. "I saved her from another fit, that was all. She's all right now. Just a moment—then I'll explain."

He went over to the bed and looked at his daughter. Clarice had not waked, she had not even stirred. Dascome bent and listened to her breathing, then put his fingers on her pulse. For some moments there was perfect silence. What he had done to Mary Bliss was no longer a terrifying mystery to Karesia; he had frightened the woman out of having an attack nevertheless she felt as if some tremendous force had entered the room embodied in the figure bent over the bed; as if she herself dared not stir without permission. He had acted so quickly and ruthlessly. She herself felt oddly submissive.

Dascome lifted finally, looked over at her and smiled. He indicated the glazed room by a gesture. "Can we go in there so we can talk?"

His smile was confidence-inspiring and Karesia returned to more nearly normal. "I think I ought to speak to Mary Bliss first?" she questioned.

Dascome was still smiling encouragingly. "Surely. You will find her in bed—the sensible place for her."

He was right. Mary Bliss had evidently undressed in haste; her clothes lay in a circle on the floor. She lay covered to the chin with her eyes closed.

The Pathway of Fools

WHEN Jim Hamilton married Ruth Mason, they had little to "go on" but love. A few acres of land, a few head of cattle—these and their love for each other promised happiness. For five years they toiled side-by-side. Their fortunes grew. Children came, bringing an added measure of comfort. They were supremely happy and contented with their lot.

Then—oil was discovered on the little ranch. Overnight, Jim Hamilton became rich beyond his wildest dreams. Influential business men, financial promoters from the East, sought him out—cultivated his acquaintance—finally induced him to move to New York City where he and his family could live as befitted their new station in life.

So to New York they went, under gentle protest from Ruth, who was well content to have just a home in Texas with her children, her Jim, and their wonderful love. Alas! How hard she tried to fit into the new luxurious scheme of things! Jim became instantly popular—especially with women. One, an exquisite creature of patrician beauty fascinated him beyond expression. Like other beautiful women he came to know, she seemed to possess every grace, every refinement, that Ruth did not.

And this is just the bare beginning—a mere introductory background to one of the most astounding, most heart-gripping life-dramas that it is ever given human beings to play. Did Jim remember the little wife who had labored so faithfully, who had sacrificed so willingly, who had devoted herself, body and soul, to the man she loved? Did she admit defeat, and surrender him to the "other woman"—or did she battle tirelessly, fiercely, savagely, to hold her mate? And what of the other woman? Did her artful wiles, her subtle allurements, prove winning weapons in this bitter conflict between two women, so widely different—this woman's war for a man's love—for his very soul?

Only Jim himself, out of the hall of memories, can bring you a clear picture of this terrible crisis in his life, and its dramatic outcome. Told with a most compelling frankness, and of vital interest to men, here is a true-life narrative that it is of even more vital importance that every woman, every girl, should read. It bares a man's soul completely, stripping it of every shred of concealment. It gives an amazingly clear insight into the workings of his mind and heart—and brings understanding of his nature and instincts as no other story could do.

"When Riches Come," as it is entitled, is really a man's love story written for women. Nothing exactly like it, that we know of, has ever before appeared in print. There is a powerful lesson here for all men, all women. It appears as one of the big features in the February issue of True Story Magazine. Don't miss it! On the newsstands today.

"You fool! What did you think I married you for! Your good looks? Your personality?" She laughed—a mocking laugh, that made my over-taut nerves quiver. —from "When Riches Come," in February True Story.

Other Heart-Stirring True Stories in the February Issue Are:

"The Price of Fame"—More than anything else, Nellie wanted to become a great actress. So with hopes high she went to Hollywood in search of a "career." Like hundreds of other girls who go westward each year, staking their all on the flimsy hope of becoming movie stars, Nellie did not dream of the price exacted for fame by those who shape human destinies in the movie colonies. A powerful, thrillingly dramatic true-life story that every girl should read.

"The Evil Men Do"—When Evelyn became private secretary to the great Enoch Blair, his interest in her set her head in a whirl. First came his invitation to dine—then long rides in the country. Before she was aware of what had happened, she found herself caught in the grip of a mad adventure from which she seemed powerless to escape—and that could have only one end. Don't fail to read this startling, heart-gripping chapter lifted directly from the book of a young girl's life.

"Human Wreckage"—When he married Helen Kirke, he thought his happiness was complete. Then he met Olga Harmon, a famous dancer—a woman with all the beauty, all the fascination, all the feminine arts and wiles that try men's souls. Came a moment of madness when wife, home, honor, all were forgotten. It could have only one ending. A confession that ranks as a masterpiece in the true-life stories of men.

A Letter From the Heart of an Indiana Social Worker

Editor "True Story"—Dear Sir:

I am assistant matron in a school for delinquent girls in a small Indiana town and each evening we have an hour of reading for the inmates, from seven until eight o'clock. I have always tried to pick out the best literature obtainable for them, that which is uplifting to their poor lives. A week ago I purchased a copy of the "True Story" Magazine with no intention of letting these girls read it. It was the first one I have ever read and I have no words with which to explain my surprise at the value of this book. A lot of people make evil of it but let me tell you how much I think of it, how much trust I put into this magazine.

Tonight just three quarters of an hour ago I took this book into the girls' dormitory and I told them I wanted to read them a story. I turned to the one in the September issue entitled "Her Birthright," the two thousand dollar prize winner, by the way, and read it through word for word. As I read the arms of one of the girls nearest me went around my neck, and I felt her body shudder. There were sobs through the little audience, and when I had finished all wanted to talk at once, so I told them I wanted each one of them, there being sixteen in number, to tell me what they thought of the story. One of them said, "Oh, Mrs. — —, If I had only had that book a year ago, I would not be here today a disgrace, the mother of a baby without a name and I only seventeen." Another little girl, she is only fifteen and will become a mother in a couple of months more, cried as if her heart would break and said she felt better to hear another story like hers, and she uttered a short prayer for this girl and for her sisters in this home.

So I have made this resolve: Each month, not one, but three or four magazines will be placed with these girls so they can all enjoy them and read them themselves. What they get from these wonderful true stories will give them heart to live their days here, but the greatest good they will reap from them will be when they have served their time here and are again put out into the cold world to go the right path or the wrong. But so great is my belief in "True Story" that I fervently believe they could not possibly step from the narrow road again as long as they read the stories in this book, and they say they can hardly wait until the October issue is out. It is all they talk about, and when they are performing their duties through the day, I frequently hear them discussing "True Story" and with an eagerness that is worth worlds to see.

A lot of people would not approve of me putting this book in the home, but I know what good it can do because I HAVE SEEN and what better proof have we?

Sincerely yours,

Runyon Says

BY DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

GOING through some old clippings the other day the writer came across an article written by him several years ago on the greatest "drawing cards"—that is, box office attractions—of the period.

He said in this article that they were:

Babe Ruth, Enrico Caruso,
Al Jolson, Jack Dempsey,
John McCormack, Harry Lauder.

Caruso is dead. The others are alive. Moreover, they remain the greatest box office attractions of today, their drawing power undiminished by the lapse of some little time. In some cases it has increased.

The order in which they are listed above is not intended as the order of their drawing power.

Each draws to the capacity of their hall of activity nearly every time they appear. Ruth's "audiences" probably fluctuate more than the others.

McCormack, the Irish tenor, is perhaps the steadiest "sell out" of the list since the passing of Caruso. And McCormack must perhaps be rated FIRST of all "attractions" in the world in drawing power, because he is strictly an individual attraction.

Ruth wouldn't draw a nickel without a baseball club around him, Dempsey must have an opponent to get his biggest crowds.

McCormack requires only a piano player. He needs no scenery, no "props," no assistance other than his accompanist and ticket takers and a few policemen to keep the crowd in order as it struggles to get in.

McCormack is not particularly prepossessing in appearance. He is a solid-looking, middle-aged man. He certainly has no attributes of the sheik, nothing of that mysterious something that is called "sex appeal."

But the magic of his marvelous voice pours a steady stream of gold through the box office windows. As an individual "drawing card" McCormack is champion of the world.

Jolson is not far behind the tenor and appears with greater regularity. As a steady, nightly attraction there are none stronger than the one-time minstrel.

Jolson can go out on the road with a mediocre show and play town halls, auditoriums, car barns and pack them night after night. He is positively "sure fire" wherever he goes.

Lauder, the great Sctoch comedian comes to America only about once a year, touring the country with a show usually made up of vaudeville acts. He always plays to tremendous business and to audiences unique in that they are made up largely of men and women who seldom go to see any other performer.

Dempsey, proportionately to his number of appearances, has undoubtedly pulled more money into the box offices than any public performer, living or dead, in any field of activity.

In six ring appearances he has drawn close to $4,000,000. In just two he derw $2,700,000 of that total. Allowing half the total to his opponent in each case—and you know that's a great deal more than the opponent drew—the writer still believes that $2,000,000 for six appearances is a record.

Dempsey seems to have something more than his pugilistic ability as a drawing attraction. For instance, he has drawn more women to his battles than any other fighter that ever lived, although this is probably partly due to the fact that women hadn't commenced attending fights in any number before Dempsey's period.

However, Dempsey recently demonstrated in vaudeville that he is quite an individual attraction; that people are interested in him personally.

To a new list of great "drawing cards" the writer must necessarily add the names of Charley Chaplin and Harold Lloyd, the screen comedians.

Their pictures—which are, after all, themselves—are tremendous attractions. When one of their pictures is released over the country they probably play to greater "audiences" than any other individual performers.

But, of course, a general release gives them a capacity, so to speak, that you can scarcely compare with the single hall or arena to which McCormack, Ruth, Jolson and Dempsey are confined.

Financially, Lloyd at this time probably makes more money than any other single public performer of any kind. His income must be enormous.

McCormack and Jolson, between their end of the box office receipts and the income from their phonograph records must gross well into six figures on the year probably over $500,000.

Lauder, it is said, is content with a guarantee of around $5,000 per week on his tours. But Lauder, now a very rich man, also makes much money, from his records.

Ruth, proportionately to the number of persons he draws, gets the least money of all the big "cards." Ruth's basebal salary is about $52,000 per year, to which he adds in other ways, say $25,000 more.

If Ruth got a small percentage of the admission fee paid by every person who would say, if asked at the box office window, "I came to see Ruth" it is conceivable that he would exceed his set salary.

But baseball hasn't yet reached the point where it pays its stars proportionately to their drawing power, because there seems to be no method by which that drawing power can be definitely determined.

Football is now outdrawing all other sport in America.

However, in football the teams and the institutions they represent are responsible for the "darw," not the individual stars.

This is demonstrated by the fact that Yale and Harvard, for instance, draw just as many persons when they have no outstanding stars as they do when they have Mahans and Brickleys.

The only football star of recent years who might pack a stadium anywhere in the country, regardless of college or community pride in the outcome of the game, is "Red" Grange. And Grange is an exception.

"Red" Grange is probably the only football player in history who attracted the attention of the vaudeville booking offices through the astounding publicity he received.

The writer knows that several agents seriously contemplated making Grange an offer to appear on the stage at the close of last season. And the public was interested in the superplayer to such an extent it is quite conceivable he would have been a good "card."

Thorpe, the Indian, in his palmiest days just as a football player, never had that compliment paid him.

Win in Final Quarter Through Seven-Point Rally.

In two great battles that will stand out as thrillers of the season, the Methodist Protestant basketball squads seniors and juniors, won games from the Methodist Episcopal representatives last night on the high school floor. As a result the M. P. aggregation. Seniors, retain the lead in the Sunday school league race.

The M. P. Seniors got away with a 21 to 17 victory while the Juniors were forced to fight five minutes extra to win by a count of 31 to 30.

Bailey, Burke and Ankrim were the outstanding stars for the winners while Horwell, C. Nease and L. Nease performed valiantly for the losers.

The M. E. Seniors, challenging the supremacy of the league leaders, played a brand of basketball in the opening stage that made them entertain visions of victory. They led by the count of 11 to 7 at the end of the half, and continued with such effect that they wound up the third period with a lead of three points, the score being 16 to 13.

Wilson scored from the field and put the M. P. five within a point of the opposition and Mackey followed it up with a double decker that gave the M. P. quint the lead for the first time. Todd increased the margin with a field goal and Mackey clinched the game with the last two-pointer of the contest. The M. E. five, hanging on the ropes as a result of the M. P. comeback, managed to toss in a foul for one more point.

Mackey was the M. P. star with 13 points. Bromby, Furrer and Pyles were the mainstays of the M. E. quint.

QUINN IS SLATED FOR RETIREMENT

Jack Quinn is destined to pass out of the big show before the end of the 1925 season—if he even starts it with the Red Sox or some other big league club.

Jack has been slated for the ash can several times before and fooled the wiseboys. This time, however, it seems probable that he has run out his string.

But mark this. When he goes he will take with him one of the best curves in the business. That curve carried him through season after season when, by all that was true and holy, he should have been done. That curve helped him win 12 games, while losing but 13 for Lee Fohl's team of misfits last season.

Ask any batter who has faced that curve when Quinn was sent in as a relief hurler to pull a game out of the fire and he will tell you it is a "mean" ball.

He takes something with him when he leaves.

New Board Track Marks Set in Mile, 1,500 Meters and 5,000 Meters by Paavo Nurmi in First American Appearance; Takes New York by Storm.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A slight, stoop-shouldered Finn—a mere boy with curly, flaxen hair and the pale clear skin of a bank clerk—took New York by storm last night.

Now New York knows.

And New York today belongs to Paavo Nurmi. Last night, running for the first time in America, among strangers in a strange land, Paavo Nurmi broke three world records—one for the mile, one for 1,500-meters and one for 5,000 meters.

His time for the mile was four minutes and 13 seconds, one and three-fifths seconds faster than the former indoor world record mark made by Joie Ray. The time for 1,500 meters was 3 minutes 56 1-5 seconds and for the five thousand meters 14 minutes, 44 3-5 seconds.

Never before had Paavo Nurmi run on an indoor board track.

Nurmi literally ran the legs off Joie Ray in the mile race, in which Joie himself broke his own world record and then with a rest of a scant two hours, came back and raced his own countryman, Willie Ritola, into complete and abject subjection over the 5,000 meter route.

At the finish he smiled boyishly, almost shyly, as 10,000 frantic, excitement-maddened fans rushed and crowded and pushed, and yelled "Nurmi. Nurmi. Nurmi."

It was in the mile that the flying Finn made his debut. The crowd gasped when he trotted out on the track. He looked too slender, too undernourished, too thin of cheek, too boyish. New York has expected something unusual. They saw only a boy, a flaxen-haired, smiling boy. A bit shy and a bit nervous from the strangeness of it.

In the 5,000 meters, he beat his ancient rival, Ritola, one of his best competitors when Nurmi set four world records in the Olympic games.

SHORT SHIP RACE CIRCUIT PLANS 1925 SCHEDULE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—Stewards of the Ohio short ship circuit, including representatives of Sandusky, Fremont, Mansfield, Canton and two Cleveland tracks were in session at the hotel Hollenden here today arranging their annual schedule of dates. Youngstown and Akron, it was said as the stewards gathered, might also be included, but it was more or less doubtful.

At the grand circuit meeting ended late yesterday radical rule changes were adopted, including the provisions for claiming races and classification of horses on the "win race" basis, and registration of trotters and pacers, were adopted.

Dates assigned included North Randall June 22 to July 4; and Aug. 12 to Aug. 26; Columbus July 6 to July 11 and Sept. 21 to October 3, and Toledo July 13 to July 18.

SPORT PROGRAM IS PLANNED FOR WINTER GUESTS

ORMOND BEACH, Fla.—Not wishing to be outdone by neighboring municipalities, this city, Winter home of John D. Rockefeller, has arranged a pretentious sports program for the Winter months.

Golf will be the featured attraction, as there are two fine courses here, and the leading players of the country will appear in the various competitions.

There also will be tennis toruna-ments, baseball games, trap-shooting, and swimming and diving contests, in which Olympic champions and holders of world titles will take part.

A miniature Olympic aquatic carnival for women will be held Sunday, February 8. Girls who already have accepted invitations are: Aileen Aiggin, Sybil Bauer, Helen Wainright, Ethel Lackie, Martha Dorelius, Agnes Geraghty and Gertrude Ederle. All these stars won points of championships for Uncle Sam at the recent Olympic games.

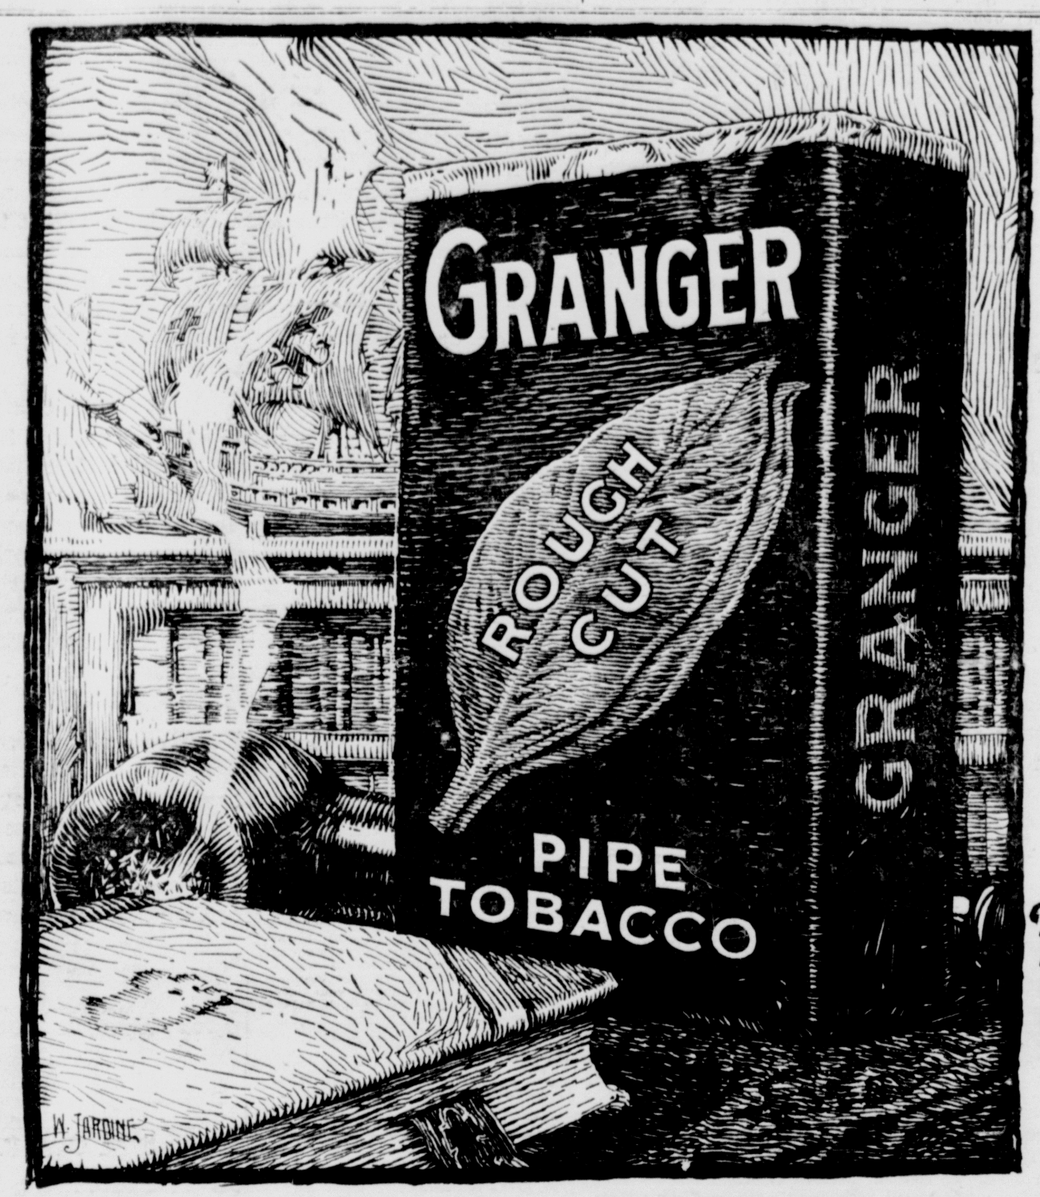

The Ormond Beach events will be held in tidal water, and efforts will be made for new world's records over such a course in conformity with the newly adopted rules of the International Swimming Federation.

In the golf tournaments scheduled for this city there are no less than five competitions for women, and invitations to attend them have been extended to the foremost women players of the country. Among those invited are: Miss Glenna Collett, Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd and Miss Alexa Stirling, present national champion.

The most remarkable tobacco ever offered to pipe smokers — in quality, in value, in taste

Runyon Says

BY DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright, 1925, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

GOING through some old clippings the other day the writer came across an article written by him several years ago on the greatest "drawing cards"—that is, box office attractions—of the period.

He said in this article that they were:

Babe Ruth, Enrico Caruso, Al Jolson, Jack Dempsey, John McCormack, Harry Lauder.

Caruso is dead. The others are alive. Moreover, they remain the greatest box office attractions of today, their drawing power undiminished by the lapse of some little time. In some cases it has increased.

The order in which they are listed above is not intended as the order of their drawing power.

Each draws to the capacity of their hall of activity nearly every time they appear. Ruth's "audiences" probably fluctuate more than the others.

McCormack, the Irish tenor, is perhaps the steadiest "sell out" of the list since the passing of Caruso. And McCormack must perhaps be rated FIRST of all "attractions" in the world in drawing power, because he is strictly an individual attraction.

WALKER AIMING AT NEW TITLE

Will Try to Lift McTigue's Crown in Battle Tonight.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 7.—Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., world's welterweight champion, predicted today that he would win by a knockout tonight in his fight here with Mike McTigue, light heavyweight titleholder. Victory by that route would make Walker a dual champion.

The bout is scheduled for 12 rounds, but Mickey is confident it will not go beyong ten, at most. No decision is permitted under the New Jersey law and only by stopping McTigue can Walker achieve his ambition.

McTigue's weight edge on Walker and his ability on the defense, many experts believe, will enable him to stave off the Jersey man's attack. Walker rules favorite however.

Irrespective of the outcome, Walker said, he intends to try later for the middleweight title now held by Harry Gred.

JOHNSON AFTER VERNON CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Walter Johnson, ace pitcher of the Washington champion club, was scheduled to arrive here today for the avowed purpose of purchasing the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league.

Johnson, it was reported, plans to buy Vernon from Ed. Maier, who is known to be anxious to sell the Tigers for $250,000 or thereabouts. Ann Arbor, Mich., and Reno, Nev., capital was said to be behind Johnson in the proposed deal. Another report however, had it that the Washington Star would combine in the buy with Wm. Lane, Salt Lake City mining millionaire, reputed to have just disposed of the Salt Lake club of the Coast circuit.

The Vernon deal is said to hinge largely on Johnson's gaining permission from Wm. Wrigley, Chicago millionaire, and owner of the Los Angeles club of the Coast league, for the Vernon club house of Wrigley's new Los Angeles ball park.

Last Night's Fights

At Denver: Harry Glafund, Brooklyn, outpointed Jack Payne, Chicago, three rounds.

YOUNGSTOWN AT WORK ON PLANS FOR NEW CLUB

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 7—Whether or not Youngstown will be represented in the proposed new Central league the coming season will be determined at a meeting to be held in Pittsburgh early next month.

This announcement was made today by Joseph Shoemaker, who represented this city yesterday in a session of the league's baseball magnates at Hotel Henry, Pittsburgh, when franchises were awarded Akron and Cumberland, Md.

The circuit as it now stands consists of Youngstown, Wheeling, Erie, Altoona, Johnstown, Cumberland and Akron. The eighth city to round out the organization will be selected from among the following: Uniontown, Canton. Dayton, Zanesville and Springfield.

According to Mr. Shoemaker who made a survey of the local situation during the past week he is ready to go ahead with his plans to place Youngstown in the league. While here he looked over several prospective sites for a ball park and he also stated that Hans Wagner, former Pittsburgh idol, is all set to manage the local club.

After Downtown Location.

An effort was made by Shoemaker to secure the Idora park grounds but he learned that the field there had already been promised to Harry Baugh and Jack Resinger, local semi-pro promoters. He also endeavored to make an arrangement for the use of Evans field but nothing definite on this would be known for a few weeks, he stated.

FIRPO ALTERS WORK SYSTEM

No More Sketchy Training, Declares Luis, in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 7—Luis Firpo is thru with sketchy training. He wants at least three months preparation hereafter. The reason Charlie Weinert of Newark, N. J., jabbed him to death, he says, was that Firpo went into the ring with but three days training.

These were the assertions of the former "wild bull of the Pampas" in an exclusive interview with International News Service just before he boarded the boat train for London. There he will complete arrangements for a fight with Tom Gibbons.

"I won't fight before April in any case," he announced, apparently revising his attitude since his announcement last week that the Gibbons fight probably would be the first week in March.

"I'll never fight again without at least three month's training. The reason Weinert defeated me was because I went into the ring with only three days training. If I have my way this London match with Gibbons won't be held before April, to allow me sufficient time to get ready for it."

Despite the bearish turn the Wild Bull's stock took in the United States after the Wills and Weinert fights, Firpo apparently is confident of as many fights as he wants.

"Richard Klegin offers me 1,000 000 francs to meet Bombardier Wells February 15 on the Riveria," he continued. "But that's too soon I wish to complete my European motor tour, visiting Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Rome, with an extended visit to Spain before beginning training.

"The London fight isn't certain yet. Jimmy Johnston is now in Rome and plans to make me an offer to fight Jack Renault in New York, but we haven't talked figures yet. I expect to do my training on the Riveria.

"I will remain in London only three or four days—only long enough to complete the formalities for the fight and arrange to get my American car admitted to France."

Awaits Kane's Answer.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Dick Donald, Los Angeles fight promoter, today was awaiting an answer from Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, regarding a Los Angeles bout between Gibbons and Luis Firpo.

Donald said to represent wealthy Los Angeles sportsmen, proposes to stage the Gibbons-Firpo match in Los-Angeles Washington's birthday. He wired Kane proposing that Gibbons meet Firpo here instead of in London, as is now planned.

WALKER AIMING AT NEW TITLE

Will Try to Lift McTigue's Crown in Battle Tonight.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 7.—Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N. J., world's welterweight champion, predicted today that he would win by a knockout tonight in his fight here with Mike McTigue, light heavyweight titleholder. Victory by that route would make Walker a dual champion.

The bout is scheduled for 12 rounds, but Mickey is confident it will not go beyong ten, at most. No decision is permitted under the New Jersey law and only by stopping McTigue can Walker achieve his ambition.

McTigue's weight edge on Walker and his ability on the defense, many experts believe, will enable him to stave off the Jersey man's attack. Walker rules favorite however.

Irrespective of the outcome, Walker said, he intends to try later for the middleweight title now held by Harry Gred.

JOHNSON AFTER VERNON CLUB

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Walter Johnson, ace pitcher of the Washington champion club, was scheduled to arrive here today for the avowed purpose of purchasing the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league.

Johnson, it was reported, plans to buy Vernon from Ed. Maier, who is known to be anxious to sell the Tigers for $250,000 or thereabouts. Ann Arbor, Mich., and Reno, Nev., capital was said to be behind Johnson in the proposed deal. Another report however, had it that the Washington Star would combine in the buy with Wm. Lane, Salt Lake City mining millionaire, reputed to have just disposed of the Salt Lake club of the Coast circuit.

The Vernon deal is said to hinge largely on Johnson's gaining permission from Wm. Wrigley, Chicago millionaire, and owner of the Los Angeles club of the Coast league, for the Vernon club house of Wrigley's new Los Angeles ball park.

YOUNGSTOWN AT WORK ON PLANS FOR NEW CLUB

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 7—Whether or not Youngstown will be represented in the proposed new Central league the coming season will be determined at a meeting to be held in Pittsburgh early next month.

This announcement was made today by Joseph Shoemaker, who represented this city yesterday in a session of the league's baseball magnates at Hotel Henry, Pittsburgh, when franchises were awarded Akron and Cumberland, Md.

The circuit as it now stands consists of Youngstown, Wheeling, Erie, Altoona, Johnstown, Cumberland and Akron. The eighth city to round out the organization will be selected from among the following: Uniontown, Canton. Dayton, Zanesville and Springfield.

According to Mr. Shoemaker who made a survey of the local situation during the past week he is ready to go ahead with his plans to place Youngstown in the league. While here he looked over several prospective sites for a ball park and he also stated that Hans Wagner, former Pittsburgh idol, is all set to manage the local club.

After Downtown Location.

An effort was made by Shoemaker to secure the Idora park grounds but he learned that the field there had already been promised to Harry Baugh and Jack Resinger, local semi-pro promoters. He also endeavored to make an arrangement for the use of Evans field but nothing definite on this would be known for a few weeks, he stated.

FIRPO ALTERS WORK SYSTEM

No More Sketchy Training, Declares Luis, in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 7—Luis Firpo is thru with sketchy training. He wants at least three months preparation hereafter. The reason Charlie Weinert of Newark, N. J., jabbed him to death, he says, was that Firpo went into the ring with but three days training.

These were the assertions of the former "wild bull of the Pampas" in an exclusive interview with International News Service just before he boarded the boat train for London. There he will complete arrangements for a fight with Tom Gibbons.

"I won't fight before April in any case," he announced, apparently revising his attitude since his announcement last week that the Gibbons fight probably would be the first week in March.

"I'll never fight again without at least three month's training. The reason Weinert defeated me was because I went into the ring with only three days training. If I have my way this London match with Gibbons won't be held before April, to allow me sufficient time to get ready for it."

Despite the bearish turn the Wild Bull's stock took in the United States after the Wills and Weinert fights, Firpo apparently is confident of as many fights as he wants.

"Richard Klegin offers me 1,000,000 francs to meet Bombardier Wells February 15 on the Riveria," he continued. "But that's too soon I wish to complete my European motor tour, visiting Berlin, Vienna, Budapest and Rome, with an extended visit to Spain before beginning training.

"The London fight isn't certain yet. Jimmy Johnston is now in Rome and plans to make me an offer to fight Jack Renault in New York, but we haven't talked figures yet. I expect to do my training on the Riveria.

"I will remain in London only three or four days—only long enough to complete the formalities for the fight and arrange to get my American car admitted to France."

Awaits Kane's Answer.

LOS, ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 7.—Dick Donald, Los Angeles fight promoter, today was awaiting an answer from Eddie Kane, manager of Tommy Gibbons, regarding a Los Angeles bout between Gibbons and Luis Firpo.

Donald said to represent wealthy Los Angeles sportsmen, proposes to stage the Gibbons-Firpo match in Los-Angeles Washington's birthday. He wired Kane proposing that Gibbons meet Firpo here instead of in London, as is now planned.

New Chevrolet Arrives Here; Pretty, Roomy, Comfortable

Trotter-Chevrolet Company Announces New Cars Come in Five Body Types.

A new Chevrolet—more beautiful in body lines, more roomy and comfortable, with a host of new mechanical and body features—has been announced this week by the Trotter-Chevrolet Motor company. The new cars come in five body types, the touring, roadster, coach, coupe and sedan, and are being shown for the first time at the New York show.

There is hardly a feature of the Chevrolet that it is not new, improved or redesigned, while most of these features are of the type and quality characteristic of higher priced cars.

All models have full streamline bodies, with refinements in design which make them the most beautiful cars Chevrolet has ever produced.

Motor Improvements.

New improvements in the Chevrolet motor, such as heavier crankshaft with larger connecting rod bearings, longer and larger center main bearings, shorter intake manifold bringing the carburetor closer to the cylinders, insuring better carburetion and easier starting, rocker arms and valves completely enclosed.

New Harrison radiator shell of highly polished nonrusting airplane metal.

All open models have redesigned windshield, with very large upper panel to permit unobstructed vision. All closed bodies equipped with V one-piece windshield and automatic windshield wiper.

All closed bodies built by Fisher. New bodies roomier.

New instrument board with more convenient and beautiful groping of instruments.

While the new Harrison radiator remains the same in size and capacity the material and appearance of the shell has radically changed. In place of the former enameled steel shell, the new radiator shell is made of airplane metal, which is nonrusting because of the composition of the material used and has all the beauty of nickel.

The clutch has been changed from a cone type to a perfected single plate, dry disc clutch, which requires no lubrication. This new type makes for easier operation, smoother engagement, more positive drive and longer life.

New Rear Axle.

The rear axle is entirely new. In this construction the differential complete with the ring gear and pinion are mounted as an integral part of the third member in what is known as the differential carrier. The new stamped one-piece axle housing—known as the banjo type—is similar in design and construction to that used on the most costly cars. New departure ball bearings are used throughout.

The front axle has been greatly strengthened and redesigned.

The springs are of the semi-elliptical type, which are longer and provide easy riding. They are of chrome Vanadiam steel, one of the toughest types of steel, so far developed. The rear springs are under-slung to improve roadability. Alemite fittings insure positive lubrication and by the use of bronze bushings the life of the shackle bolts is greatly lengthened.

The new channel steel frame is 38 inches longer, is stronger and has five sturdy cross members instead of four.

Many features which make for comfort and convenience have been incorporated in the new bodies. The open bodies are roomier, the front seat has been tilted back at the top for more comfortable seating, the spring constructed in the seats has been substantially improved, the rear cushion seat has been lowered at the back, the tonneau floor boards have been lowered and the front section placed at an angle to serve as foot rest.

All closed bodies are built by Fisher and have the rounded curves and graceful lines that have come to be associated with all products of this company. They have the "VV" one-piece windshield, with regulator located above the windshield and automatic windshield wiper, controlled from the dash. This new windshield affords unobstructed vision and perfect ventilation. All closed cars have new type metal door checks, operating at the top of the doors.

There is a dome light in coach and sedan and robe rail in sedan.

All body types are equipped with cowl lights and new instrument board refined and designed for maximum leg room.

The windshield in the open body types has been so changed that the rubber weather stripping between the upper and lower windshield can in no way interfere with vision.

All bodies are finished in Duco, the new and lustrous finish which retains its gloss indefinitely and is practically impervious to damage. Chevrolet is the lowest priced car to introduce Duco finish on all its standard body types.

Another innovation, particularly in the low-priced field, is the finishing of all Chevrolet cars in beautiful colors. The touring, roadster and coach are finished in a rich, dark blue; the sedan is aquamarine blue with upper panels in black, and the coupe is sage green in the lower panels and hood and black on the upper panels. Fenders on all the models are in black.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead o serious lung trouble. You can stop them ow with Creomulsion, an emulsified creoote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion s a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

HOME CHILDREN TO GIVE CONCERT

Aid Society Meets.

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church met last evening with Mrs. Forest Harmon at her home in Island avenue. Mrs. Clarence Bailey was assistant hostess.

Stop Child's Cough Quick--To-day

Before it has a chance to develop into croup or something dangerous, get right after that cough of your child's. No use to dose with ordinary cough syrups. At once give Kemp's Balsam—a fine old-fashioned tried and proven medicine safe for children. It heals the throat and prevents the cold from going through the whole system. Only 30 cents at all stores.

For that Cough! KEMP'S BALSAM

Given Wrong Tip.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — Three Belmont county deputy sheriffs were called to Miday on Christmas night, the report being that a gang of "drunks" had blocked a road. The deputies found a crew of telephone repairmen, who had been working to replace wires broken by the cold weather, trying to get a truck back onto the highway. The truck had skidded off the road. The deputies played the good samaritan act and helped get the machine back on the road. They then returned to resume their slumbers.

New Chevrolet Arrives Here; Pretty, Roomy, Comfortable

Trotter-Chevrolet Company Announces New Cars Come in Five Body Types.

A new Chevrolet—more beautiful in body lines, more roomy and comfortable, with a host of new mechanical and body features—has been announced this week by the Trotter-Chevrolet Motor company. The new cars come in five body types, the touring, roadster, coach, coupe and sedan, and are being shown for the first time at the New York show.

There is hardly a feature of the Chevrolet that it is not new, improved or redesigned, while most of these features are of the type and quality characteristic of higher priced cars.

All models have full streamline bodies, with refinements in design which make them the most beautiful cars Chevrolet has ever produced.

Motor Improvements.

New improvements in the Chevrolet motor, such as heavier crankshaft with larger connecting rod bearings, longer and larger center main bearings, shorter intake manifold bringing the carburetor closer to the cylinders, insuring better carburetion and easier starting, rocker arms and valves completely enclosed.

All open models have redesigned windshield, with very large upper panel to permit unobstructed vision. All closed bodies equipped with V one-piece windshield and automatic windshield wiper.

All closed bodies built by Fisher. New bodies roomier.

New instrument board with more convenient and beautiful groping of instruments.

While the new Harrison radiator remains the same in size and capacity the material and appearance of the shell has radically changed. In place of the former enameled steel shell, the new radiator shell is made of airplane metal, which is nonrusting because of the composition of the material used and has all the beauty of nickel.

The clutch has been changed from a cone type to a perfected single plate, dry disc clutch, which requires no lubrication. This new type makes for easier operation, smoother engagement, more positive drive and longer life.

New Rear Axle.

The rear axle is entirely new. In this construction the differential complete with the ring gear and pinion are mounted as an integral part of the third member in what is known as the differential carrier. The new stamped one-piece axle housing—known as the banjo type—is similar in design and construction to that used on the most costly cars. New departure ball bearings are used throughout.

The front axle has been greatly strengthened and redesigned.

The springs are of the semi-elliptical type, which are longer and provide easy riding. They are of chrome Vanadiam steel, one of the toughest types of steel, so far developed. The rear springs are under-slung to improve roadability. Alemite fittings insure positive lubrication and by the use of bronze bushings the life of the shackle bolts is greatly lengthened.

They have the "VV" one-piece windshield, with regulator located above the windshield and automatic windshield wiper, controlled from the dash. This new windshield affords unobstructed vision and perfect ventilation. All closed cars have new type metal door checks, operating at the top of the doors.

There is a dome light in coach and sedan and robe rail in sedan.

All body types are equipped with cowl lights and new instrument board refined and designed for maximum leg room.

The windshield in the open body types has been so changed that the rubber weather stripping between the upper and lower windshield can in no way interfere with vision.
